September 11, 2001: 25th Anniversary Commemoration

Edited by Kay Poeth

September 11, 2001, will forever be remembered in the history of American. New York City's 9/11 Museum and 9/11 Memorial Pools pay tribute to every life that was lost during the attacks and also examine the events and emotions that unfolded on that day.Visiting the 9/11 Memorial & Museum is a must when visiting New York City.

This year commemorates the 25th Anniversary of the September 11 attacks.

On the morning of September 11, 2001, nineteen members of the Islamic terrorist group Al-Qaeda hijacked four commercial passenger airliners and turned them into weapons of mass destruction.They intended to cause mass American casualties by crashing the planes into prominent US buildings.

At 8:46 AM, the first plane crashed into the North Tower of the World Trade Center in Manhattan. Seventeen minutes later, at 9:03 AM, the second plane crashed into the South Tower. Less than two hours after the first plane struck, both buildings had collapsed.A third plane crashed into the side of the Pentagon in Arlington, Virginia. The fourth plane, believed to have been targeting the U.S. Capitol building, crashed in a field outside the town of Shanksville, Pennsylvania after heroic passengers revolted and attempted to retake control of the aircraft.when heroic airplane passengers revolted against the hijackers.Lives were lost in all four plane crashes.

The attacks against New York City and Washington, DC caused extensive death and destruction and triggered an enormous effort to combat terrorism. Some 2,750 people were killed in New York, 184 at the Pentagon, 40 in Pennsylvania (where one of the hijacked planes crashed into the ground after the passengers attempted to retake the plane); all 19 terrorists died. Police and fire departments in New York were especially hard-hit: hundreds rushed to the scene of the attacks, and more than 400 police officers and firefighters were killed.In total, nearly 3000 people were killed making the September 11 attacks the deadliest terrorist attack on U.S. soil in American history.

The 9/11 attacks left many Americans shaken and distraught. Across the country and world, people watched the attack on a continuous loop; the news replayed the scene over and over. Posters of missing family members were posted all around the city, and it took years to remove all the rubble of the collapsed buildings. To this day, 9/11 is a tragedy that has changed the city forever.

The 9/11 Memorial, in Manhattan, commemorates the lives lost on September 11, 2001, and the Memorial Museum educates future generations about what unfolded on 9/11. Also remembered here is the 1993 World Trade Center bombing, another terrorist attack when a truck bomb was detonated in the parking garage of the North Tower.

New York City opened the 9/11 Memorial to the public in 2011, on the 10th anniversary of the attacks. The memorial consists of two sunken pools in the exact footprint where each of the North and South Twin Towers used to stand. Water streams down from the bronze walls of the pool, which are inscribed with the names of each of the victims of the 9/11 attacks.

The 9/11 Memorial Museum opened in 2014. It remembers the victims of the terrorist attacks on the Twin Towers in both 2001 and 1993 and commemorates the heroic acts performed during these through 110,000 square feet of displays.

Patriot Day also known asSeptember 11 and honors the nearly 3,000 victims of the terrorist attacks in 2001, including those at the World Trade Center in New York City, the Pentagon in Virginia, and United Airlines Flight 93 in Pennsylvania. It was established by a joint act of the US Congress and signed into law by President George W. Bush in December 2001. The day is observed nationwide with flags flown at half-staff, moments of silence at 8:46 a.m. (the time the first plane struck the North Tower), and memorial ceremonies.

Snyder County Night Out Youth Heroes

By Kay Poeth

Who needs Batman and Robin or Superman when the Youth Heroes zoom into offer their assistance! During Snyder County Night Out, the popular MAC Y barrel ride entertained dozens of children as it puttered around a loop near the booth. Then, a wheel fell off one of the cars. One of the Youth Heroes noticed it immediately and quickly got the attention of barrel driver, Clay Henry, to stop. Afterwards, Clay called the boys "Heroes."

FOUR PROGRAMS OF 410-SPRINT CAR RACING TWO BIG SUPER LATE MODEL EVENTS

The weekend was filled with three tracks running specials for 410-sprints Williams Grove, two nights at Lincoln and Monday afternoon at Port Royal. Two extra money events for the super late models, with one super late model event rained out. Things started out Friday night at Williams Grove with an $8,000 race for the 410-sprints along with a special race for the limited late model class. The Grove gets a bad wrap for its racing surface and lack of passing on the big half mile. I do not get to many races there, but last Friday at least in the feature the quality of racing was top notch. Doug Hammaker was trying to win his first ever 410-sprint car feature at a track where he has won 12, 358-sprint car races and a track title. He led most of the race but the last three laps it was a dog fight between him Freddie Rahmer and Danny Dietrich. The tracks had multiple grooves for the feature and most drivers were using them, with Hammaker hanging on and holding off the other for the feature win in the Sandy Kline #22. Monday at Port Royal his luck went the other way with a blow engine early in the program knocking him out of action. Hammaker did pick up $8,000 for his Grove win on Friday night. Doug thanked the track crew for having a great track to race on, and was quoted as saying sometimes, you're the bug and sometimes you are the windshields. The limited late models had five or more drivers racing at the front of the pack in their 20-lap feature which drew a field of 33 drivers. Towards the end Kyle Lee had some separation until a caution with one lap left changed things. Kyle went up a bit too high in the second turn and jumped the cushion and was passed by Mike Walls, Lee still hung on for second with DJ Myers and Chase Billet under a blanket for the finish. Walls also praised the track crew for the racing surface.

Saturday and Sunday night the 410-sprints and the 358-sprints raced at Lincoln speedway for two programs for the 410 sprints paying $7,000 to win. The first night 30-drivers were on hand with 34 for the Sunday night show. Danny Dietrich and Chase Dietz scored the feature wins which was second for Dietrich and the ninth for Dietz. Dietrich had first and second in two night s of racing with Dietz a third and first, Logan Rumsey had second and a third, with Troy Wagaman Jr two fourth finishes. TJ Stutts had two fifth place runs. The 358 sprints had a field of 30 drivers for the Saturday show with only coming back for the Sunday show. Tim Wagaman had a win on Saturday and second on Sunday, Steve Owings had a second on Saturday and sixth on Sunday Jayden Wolf scored the feature in the Sunday program, with an eight on Saturday. Brock Hammaker had runs of 3rd and 4th. Shannon Slaughter of Lititz Pa raced a limited late model on Friday at Williams Grove and was tenth in the feature in only her second time in the 03-racecar. Then ran her 602 crate sportsman Modified at Grandview on Saturday , but did not finish the feature, then she drove a 358 sprint #89 at Lincoln on Sunday night placing 7th in the feature, the young lady is getting a number of chances to drive in different divisions, but race her Modified more than the other classes.

Monday afternoon at Port Royal was the second annual Lynn Paxton Classic for the late driver that had won five times in the Labor Day racing at Port Royal, in the 75 years that racing was held on this date Lynn has the most wins of anyone. The race paid $7,500 to win. The 25-lap feature had two leaders Ryan Smith in the Kreitz led early only to be passed by Justin Whittall who was looking for his second win the Labor Day Classic. Things change on a restart when Ryan Smith found his grove back on the bottom and went on to win his first ever Labor Day race for car owner Donnie Kreitz and mechanic Davey Brown both have had there of success in the Labor Day event, but it was a big deal for Smith who never won before it was his second win of the season at Port scoring his first win back in April. James McFadden placed third in his first time driving the Macri #39 filling in for the injured Anthony Macri. McFadden will be in the cars for the next three races at Port Royal starting this Thursday night. Danny Dietrich and Mark Smith were in the top five. A total of 29 drivers were on hand for the daytime show. Mike Walter was again in the Thompson #11, while his Dad Mike Sr drove the family owned #33W This is the 172 annual Juniata County Fair Races, with the Thursday night program and Friday night both paying $10,000 to win, the event is a High Limit series racing event. The big part of the three nights of racing is Saturday with the winner of the feature collection $59,000 to win. Thursday program and Friday program will have a second division with the PASS 305-spints on Friday and the limited late models on Friday.

For the super late models they were to have a big three race weekend, but rain stopped the Friday night racing at Bedford speedway in a race that was to pay the winner $12,055 to win, there is no make-up date for the race and the points are over which means that two-time feature winner this year at Bedford is Trevor Feathers will be the divisions track champion. His first ever there. Sunday, they did get a race in for the Late Model Sportsman which was won by Spike Moore, his second of the season, to go along with his two super late model wins. Kyle Lear scored enough points to win the division's track title. Bedford has only major race left for the super late models on Saturday September 26th with the running of the Keystone Cup event, which will pay the winner of the feature $20,000.

Port Royal had the 23rd running of the Butch Renninger Memorial with the race going for 33-laps, which was won by Mason Zeigler which was his fifth win of the season in only seventeen starts this year. Mason led all 33-laps but did have some close calls with Hayes Mattern staying in striking distance. Justin Weaver placed third with Matt Cosner and Rick Eckert in the top five. The battle up front was good but so was the battle for the track points championship. Going into the night Trevor Feathers, a two-time winner, was leading Gregg Satterlee with one win there this season by five points. Both drivers were there, on little battle exchanging position numerous times during the feature. In the Satterlee placed sixth with Feathers right behind him that meant that the two drivers tied in points. But the title went to Feathers with the tie breaker who had the most wins during the season. Feathers who said that he had never raced in his career for a track championship scored two of them over the weekend. The race paid winner Mason Zeigler $7,333, with a field of 32 drivers on hand for the annual race. In the 25-lap limited late model raced that paid $3,333 to the winner Andrew Yoder won the race for the third time, holding off a strong run by Spike Moore, with DJ Myers, Lane Snook and Kyle Lee in the top five. The Limited late models have one more point race this Friday to decide that division's champion. DJ Myers is leading by five points 2575 over Jaxton Garman 2570, going into the Friday program. Thursday is the same deal for the 305 sprints with Kenny Heffner leading the points over Mike Melair 1850-1745.

Sunday night at Selinsgrove the super late models were racing for $10,063 in the 35-lap feature. Gregg Satterlee chased Hayes Mattern for seventeen laps till he took the lead and went on to win the race by 3.823 seconds over Mason Zeigler, with Mattern third, then came Matt Cosner and Ross Robinson. Neat side story on Robinson who left his Georgetown DE home at eight in the morning heading to Bedford. Bedford had canceled at 11am, with Ross already on his way. Instead of driving home after the race, he parked his rig in the parking lot at Williams Grove speedway and watched the night's action. The win for Satterlee was his seventh of the season at Selinsgrove and 11th overall this season. Gregg also clinched the tracks points' title with one more point show on the Schedule. Andrew Yoder doubled up his weekend with another win in the limited late models over Mike Walls, DJ Myers, Daulton Bigler and Jaxton Garman. Chris Dolan won the PASS 305-sprint car feature over Ken Duke, Tyler Erdley Mike Alleman and Timmy Bittner. Tony Jackson coming off a win at BAPS in the winged super sportsman 100-lapper on Saturday night, scored the feature in the wingless sportsman feature his second at the speedway this year.

The super late models will be racing at Hagerstown speedway this Saturday in make-up race from August, called the Nathan Durborow Memorial paying the winner $5,200 to win. Some racing action will also take place on Friday with qualifying races for the Carte and late model sportsman classes, with their feature set to be run on Saturday. The super late model feature will run for 41-laps, with a number of other specials for drivers during the night.

Andrew Yoder of Middleburg scored two feature wins last weekend in Memorial races, Andrew won the Butch Renninger Memorial at Port Royal on Saturday night and followed that up with the Paul Long Memorial win on Sunday night at Selinsgrove for total winners of close to $6,000, for his two limited late model wins. Hayes Mattern of Beavertown had runs second and third in his super late model #9.Hayes also set fast time on Sunday night at Selinsgrove. The previous weekend Young Garrison Zook of Selinsgrove won two 270 Micro sprint races.

Andrew talked about his weekend "That was the third time I have won the Butch Renninger race over the years the limited car was good all night, the super late model was good also we just had an oil line come off in the feature. Perfect night with the limited fast time won the heat, started on the pole of the feature and led every lap. I was having a good run and then with lapped traffic I believed they were slowing me down; I just had to drive harder and stay with what I was doing at the start of the race. I was ok with the first caution, but I was starting to get past the lapped cars and was getting back to clean air. During the caution I was singled to keep doing what I was doing and protect from anyone trying to put a slider on me, but I felt good enough that I could stop a slider from happening, I knew Spike Moore was close and gaining on me, with getting stuck with the lapped cars. The caution I did not want to see was with two-laps to go in the feature, I thought this would be the time that he might try a slider on the restart, I had seen him underneath me a few times during the race. I was ok on the other restart and then I saw his nose again, so going down into turn one I went in protect mode and just drove it down in harder than I have the whole race, I just keep the speed up and keep the lead until the checker. Luck is a big part of this sport; this is a race I really wanted to win.

Final had a whole good weekend put together with the limited and the super was not bad either, both cars are in one piece after two nights of racing. We qualified well on Sunday night at Selinsgrove which set up for a good start". Andrew had fast time won his heat and led all 25-laps of the feature on Sunday night. I got out front there on Sunday riding to the top of the track, I know that was the better place to be for the feature, after what I seen in the super late model feature, and I kind of knew what to do with the limited car. The top was the place to be and with the lapped cars on the bottom I guess I started to back up too much and Shaun Miller got really close to me towards the end of the race. I think if I would have pushed it harder to get around the lapped cars earlier then maybe Shaun maybe would not have been able to catch up to me. I was just getting the dirty air of the lapped car, and I could not get close enough to get by him, I did not want to make a move and door him, I just could not get close enough to make the right pass. The car was perfect until the traffic, the car was the same the night before, so that is something we will have to work on. The last few laps I just really started to send it once I saw him close to me I knew I had to get moving. We touched the corner and I hated that he spun, we were both going for the win at that

Local Drivers have Good Weekend of Racing

(continued) point. I believe he is going to be mad at me I have been in those situations in the past, so I really don't know what to say Sorry don't cut it I get it we were both racing hard and it happened". Noted Yoder

Hayes Mattern of Beavertown started on the pole for the feature Saturday night at Port Royal, but Mason Zeigler from the outside front row got the jump on Hayes and was leading the feature after the first lap. Mason was pulling away then Hayes started to gain some ground on him and was closing the gap on lap 14 of the 33-lap feature, he again got close on lap 16, but that was it with Zeigler racing on for the feature win Hayes a very respective second place run. "It felt good to be running with the 25 car he is really good any where he races. There for a long time we had a big lead over the rest of the field, so it was just Mason and me racing for the win mid-point in the race. I think that maybe I wish some of those cautions would not have come out. Whether we could have won or not I think it would have been a good race for fans. The top in turns one and two as the preferred line, but I felt really good racing on the bottom, I don't think Mason was as good there as I was, and I was trying to us that to my advantage, he usually make any mistakes, I was hoping maybe one time he would jump the cushion or something and I would be right there, but it just not work out that way. It was a long week with having the baby and a torn-up racing car I have to thank all my guys for working extra hard since I could not be in the shop as often as in the past". Noted Hayes.

Sunday night at Selinsgrove Hayes set fast time with a clocking of 18.576 and then won his heat race and pulled the outside pole for the feature, where he led the first seventeen laps of the feature, before falling to a third-place finish at the end of the 35-lap feature. "We had a really good start to the night, and we had a good lead in the feature and then the caution came out and I saw on the board that Gregg Satterlee, had made it up to second very quick. The car fired off on the restart and the car felt good yet at that point, we were still holding a good lead and then all of a sudden, things changed, I don't know if Gregg found another lane or he was trying to conserve on tire or what, but he drove up to us real quick and drove past us, the car was not as good as it was in the beginning of the race. We are shaking our heads in what direction to go to fix this problem we seem to have later in a race, we have to get better on these long runs, I feel we have a good car for 20 some laps, it was the same at Port Royal on Saturday in the last ten laps we are fading a little bit We will be reaching out to a couple of resource and try to figure something out, I feel like it has something to do with tires, weather it is a tire wear thing, the way we are cutting and sipping tires, or weather we are building to much heat at the end, or maybe the is not set up either we are to tight or to free and that might wear the tire too much, or maybe it some combination that we have to work on to get the car a little bit better and to try and keep the tires on it. We have been to victory lane in the past, but it seems like now it has been to long since we have won a race. Not knocking the competition of six or seven years ago, but now we are racing against guys like Gregg Satterlee, Mason Zeigler Rick Eckert and a Ross Robinson every week. There is a hand full of teams that out there are a lot of the National caliber teams we are a regional or locals weekend warrior team, we are racing against some of these guys who can compete with the national touring teams, times have changed we are racing for a bit more money and that draws some better drivers. It makes it more difficult to win, but it also makes you better. With some of the runs we have had of late it does make it more rewarding running good against the Lucas series guys and others in that league. There is also a lot of luck that plays into this with pill draws time trials it is have luck and having a good racecar, there is a lot of luck that goes along in this sport". Stated Hayes.

The previous weekend found 16-year old Garrison Zook from Middleburg, putting his 270 Micro sprint in victory lane at two different tracks. Garrison drove an impressive win at Clinton County Speedway on August 28th during the final night of the racing season.

Then the team ventured out to Blanket Hill Speedway for the Brothers Tribute Race.

We had a fast car from the start and timed 8th in time trials and in the heat race finished second with I made the redraw and started on the pole for the feature and put it in winners circle" stated Garrison.

Garrison has been racing Micros for the 3 years and is in the 11th grade attending CCA Cyber School and plans on continuing in the Micro sprints.

Who passed away September 10, 2023

It is sad to walk the road alone
Instead of side by side.
But to all there comes a moment
When the ways of life divide.
You gave us years of happiness
Then came sorrow and tears.
But you left us beautiful memories
We will treasure through the years.

Loved and sadly missed by
Wife, Son, and Family

The soccer pitch is back in focus locally after this summer's World Cup. We have two defending district champions returning with Selinsgrove in 3A and Lewisburg in 2A. The Midd-West boys team should be a force again as they have some key players returning from a 17-4 season. It´s shaping up to be a very competitive league again this year.

Midd-West returns five players that each scored at least six goals last year. They will be led by Gabe Romig and Evan Devine. Jacob Sellers returns to anchor the defense and Derek Wert and his nine shutouts from last year is back in goal.

Defending state champion Lewisburg must replace 62 goals from last year's graduated seniors. Much like their Cross-Country classmates, the Lewisburg soccer team doesn't rebuild, they reload. Returning all-league goalie Ryan Pawling and defender Riley Luthi-Gulden are a good start. Throw in forward Keegan Crosby and the chance for another district title is pretty good.

Lewisburg lost 2-1 last week to always tough Central Columbia on a penalty kick. Crosby had the lone Dragon goal. They got back to their usual winning ways by beating Camp Hill 6-0 as Daedrain Campbell had two goals and an assist. Everett Good scored twice for the Green.

The 3A boys soccer teams are pretty much average. Selinsgrove returns Ryan Toskey to help defend their 3A district title. Mifflinburg averaged one win for every three games they played and qualified for the district 3A playoffs. There is something definitely wrong with that, not just in soccer but many other high school sports.

I realize some districts have a limited number of schools in a particular class. Combine them with a neighboring district and play for a regional title. The PIAA needs a rule that you cannot qualify for the post season unless you won at least half of your games for all sports.

The Selinsgrove girls soccer team returns double-digit scorers from last year in Addison Wenzel and Joslyn Zacharda. They opened their season with a 5-0 loss to Central Columbia. Mifflinburg returns a lot of playing time from last year and should improve on their 5-11-2 record.

First year Lewisburg coach Emaleigh Greb has a young team back with veterans Nora Hockenbrock between the pipes and mid-fielder Claire Driver back. Greb´s first game was a 2-2 tie with Berwick. Maddy Schwartz and Payton Spigelmeyer scored the two goals. The Lady Dragons lost 1-0 to Wyoming Area and 4-1 to North Schuylkill at Central Columbia´s Labor Day Cup. Midd-West should return to the post season with Emery Peters and ´do-it-all´ Ava Aitkins returning.

In girl´s tennis, Lewisburg lost 3-2 to Hughesville. Miff fell 4-1 to Milton but Holly Swartz got a win at No 1 singles for the Cats. The Grove girls lost to Danville 5-0 but came back strong to beat Lewisburg 3-2. They won two of the three double matches and Anna Yang won the No 3 singles match.

The Lewisburg boys and girls depth prevailed in a cross-country quad match sweep of Milton, Jersey Shore and Southern Columbia. Thomas Graham, Tyler Confer and Evan Young paced the guys by finishing third thru fifth. The girls were led by Laelyn Bozella and Loghan Klinger finishing first and second. Lewisburg competed in the Big Valley Cross-Country Invitational and the boys finished sixth and the girls ninth.

Midd-West boys cross-country went 2-1 against Montoursville, Warrior Run and Hughesville. The girls dominated their quad match by taking six of the top ten places. Evelyn Weiser, Ashlyn Hoffman, Mallory Heimbach and Tanzania Seibel placed third thru sixth for the Mustangs.

On the links, Lewisburg (4-1) beat Miff (0-3) 180-203 behind Bryce Bussman's 41 and LJ Carter's 45. Calen Loss was the low scorer for the Cats in carding a 48. Midd-West easily beat Shamokin at Shade Mountain with Brady Gunkle and Cameron Swineford shooting a 39 and 42. Grove lost to Jersey Shore by 8 strokes despite Jax Reichenbach shooting an even par 36.

The emotional moment of the week occurred when Mifflinburg hosted Midd-West in field hockey. Mifflinburg freshman Kenley Flickinger scored her first varsity goal which turned out to be the game winner in a 2-1 victory. More importantly, the ´Teal Out´ game was played in honor and loving memory of Joslyn Flickinger, Kenley's younger sister who died tragically three years ago. Teal was Joslyn´s favorite color.

Midd-West started their season with a 3-0 win over Lewisburg aided by a goal and assist from Veyda Trego. Grove field hockey played in the tough Palmyra Cougar Classic and lost 2-1 to Boiling Springs and won 3-1 over Susquehannock. The Seals Nora Moyer and Alexis Stoneburg were named to the all-tourney team.

The Midd-West football team exploded for 66 points and shutout Columbia Montour Vo-Tech. Witten Carter threw four TD passes in the first half and the Mustangs had a well balanced attack passing for 264 yards and running for 184. They had eight big plays of 20 yards or more.

Noah Kratzer ran for 115 yards and 2 TDs and the brothers Drumheller duo (D'Angelo & Jiovaunni) totaled four catches for 144 yards and 3 TDs. The Mustangs play at Warrior Run Friday.

Mifflinburg surprised me and a few others in beating Selinsgrove quite handily 28-10. The Wildcats scored a touch in each quarter by mixing the run and pass with 148 yards on the ground and 163 through the air. Miff coach Cody Botts addressed the offensive line issue as Seth Hartman and Landon Moser had a combined 21 carries for 128 yards. Last week against Shik they had 18 rushes for 29 yards.

Cat´s QB Brennen Snyder was a very economical 13 for 18 and TDs to Brady Threet and Tanner Zimmerman. Grove´s Rocco Amato passed for 123 yards with half of those to Nash Fordyce on six receptions. Selinsgrove travels to Jersey Shore and Miff to Bloomsburg this Friday.

Shikellamy has started their season undefeated by beating both our Union county schools with their recent 21-0 win over Lewisburg. Dragon QB Xavier Carter left his second game with an injury after totaling 32 yards on two carries.

It felt like after three quarters Shik should have been up by more than 14 points as Lewisburg hung around just needing a big play or two to even the score. Shik´s third TD closed the door on any comeback. Lewisburg plays Hughesville Friday night in the battle of the green.

The NFL has started this week in Australia of all places! Here are my takes on some of the local favorite teams in our area and how their seasons will play out.

The Baltimore Ravens will look different with Jesse Minter as their new coach. They grew stale under Harbaugh and their defense will be their new calling card. They won´t have to rely on Lamar Jackson all the time to win a game.

This pains me to say but the Dallas Cowboys are going to be really good. Their defense is much improved and they got the steal of the draft in safety Caleb Downs. Combine this much better defense with an already explosive offense and even Jerry Jones can´t screw this up!

With a healthy Patrick Mahomes returning the KC Chiefs are one of the favorites to return to the Super Bowl. The LA Rams are clearly the favorite to WIN the Super Bowl and with good reason. They added two future first-ballot hall of famers in Aaron Donald and Myles Garrett to their defensive front. Some of the Ram players will be at the Super Bowl because it's being played in their home stadium but they will be there only to watch the game.

The Patriots will be a disappointment as Drake Maye will take a step back with a much tougher schedule than last year. The NY Giants will be a fun team to watch but are too immature at key positions to mount a meaningful push through the playoffs.

The DC Commanders will finish last in their division and QB Jayden Daniels will not be able to stay healthy again. The Bills still have Josh Allen, the best QB in the league, but their fate will be determined by new head coach Joe Brady and new D-coordinator Jim Leonard.

The Steelers are old on defense and even older at QB. It´s a nice story that Mike McCarthy came back to coach in the city he grew up in and to have a QB he had as a starter for eleven years in Green Bay. Aaron Rodgers was in his prime with the Pack and not 42 years old! Pittsburgh has to look to the future and not be satisfied with winning 8 or 9 games a year.

The Eagles are the least talked about good team in the NFL. The defense is great but Jalen Hurts has a different O-coordinator again. Like his team, Hurts is under-rated and I think he will have the Birds playing in the conference title game.

My other three teams that will be playing for a chance to go to the Super Bowl are the Detroit Lions, Buffalo Bills and Houston Texans.

Rutgers coach Greg Schiano is relieved the mess in Michigan has taken some of the focus off his disastrous loss to UMASS. Questions or complaints can be sent to theviewfromhear74@gmail.com

Bouquets of Blessings Project Blossoms for Seniors in Nursing Homes

By Kay Poeth

Elizabeth Canfield is bringing joy to residents in nursing homes again this fall with her Bouquets of Blessings Project. The stunning flower arrangements she delivers bring a smile to the residents' faces and brighten their day.

Elizabeth recently completed 80 bouquets for Round 1 of her project using over 1,000 floral stems. She dropped off flower arrangements to Celebration Villa in Lewisburg, EverTrue Buffalo Valley Assisted Living and Rehabilitation Center in Lewisburg, The Manor at Penn Village and Brookdale Grayson View in Selinsgrove.

"The residents were thrilled when the flowers were delivered. Some residents were sitting outside when I pulled up so I was able to hand them out to in person. Their faces lit up and they were so excited to receive their own bouquet," said Elizabeth. "I explained that these flowers are from the whole community. I told them that the community wanted them to know that they were cared for and loved."

Jen Kapelan commented, "I work for EverTrue Buffalo Valley and the arrangements are absolutely beautiful and have received so many compliments from residents!"

The Bouquets of Blessings Project is definitely a community outreach mission. There has been a great response to the call for vases from Labor of Love Thrift Store as well as individuals. One donor even bought vases while she was on vacation in another state!

Another need is flowers. Several floral businesses, roadside stands, and individual gardeners have made donations. Elizabeth is truly grateful for their support and kindness.

"People think they need a lot of flowers to donate to the project. However, every little bundle and flower counts. Some people only have a couple of handfuls of flowers, but each donation really made a difference," explained Elizabeth of her first delivery.

Some people don't grow their own flowers but still want to help and bring joy to others. For those who are interested, a different option would be to purchase some bouquets at the roadside stands and donate those flowers. "That way, you don't have to grow them yourself and it is a win/win situation- supporting local businesses and blessing the residents of our nursing homes!"

This year, some people gave monetary donations. Elizabeth received a Facebook message from an 87-year-old lady reaching out to donate. She wanted to make sure that she was part of this project, even though she wasn't able to donate flowers herself. Others from the community gave monetary gifts for the purchase of additional flowers as well.

"My idea was to see if businesses would give matching donations of flowers for whatever funds were donated. It worked out really well and every donation was multiplied," said Elizabeth.

She hopes to make several more deliveries by the end of September. "I love projects that bring the community together. I think it is also important that we remember our seniors. The entire goal of this project is to show them that they still matter and that there are people out there who love them," said Elizabeth. "It's easy for residents to feel like they don't matter and that they aren't remembered. But that's not true, and this is one way we can show them that God loves them and the community does, too!"

In terms of logistics, that may have been the most challenging part of the project. "My apartment kitchen is just too small to arrange 80 or more bouquets of flowers," Elizabeth chuckled. Last year, she worked out of different donors' kitchens to create the bouquets. This year, Beavertown God's Missionary Church generously donated the use of their Youth Center. Having a dedicated space was definitely helpful for organizing and arranging the bouquets.

The first round of Bouquet of Blessings encompassed a 12-hour day, from start to deliveries to clean-up. "It's hard to plan ahead. I have to arrange the bouquets when the flowers are available."

The "Bouquets of Blessings Project" has had a ripple effect across the community. From people offering vases and flowers to people offering to help Elizabeth create arrangements, and nursing homes embracing the blessings and cheer. The project fills the souls of all who contribute. That caring overflows to the nursing home residents who benefit from this loving outreach.

"People have a desire to participate in a project that touches others in our local communities. People are very generous around here."

To become a part of "Bouquets of Blessings Project" this year by offering flowers, donating vases, or volunteering your time and talents creating flower arrangements, contact Elizabeth Canfield at bouquetsofblessingsproject@gmail.com or check out her Facebook page "Bouquets of Blessings Project" to get involved.

A Warm Welcome at Open Door Café

By Jamiee Joiner

A new gathering spot officially opened its doors on August 5, 2026, in Mifflinburg. Open Door Cafe, owned and operated by Loren and Dorcas Martin, is bringing scratch-made delicacies, locally sourced ingredients, and warm hospitality to the community.

The dream to open up a café like this started about five to six years ago during discussions at the Tuesday night children's ministry but began taking real shape in the last year. Encouraged by a friend who owns a similar shop near State College, the Martins set out to create a space centered on comfort, connection, and delicious foods made from locally sourced ingredients. Today, that vision is a reality. Supported by a talented crew of mostly part-time employees which includes the couple's oldest daughter, Kaitlyn, the cafe offers service with a genuine smile. While Dorcas manages much of the behind-the-scenes business operations alongside raising their six children, the front of the shop is clearly a place to connect while enjoying tasty treats.

The shop specializes in handcrafted soft pretzels which are so buttery and delicious and made-to-order crepes, offering both sweet options such as red raspberry mousse or banana cream, and savory options like bacon avocado, or chicken bacon ranch to name a few. There is also build your own option.Breakfast sandwiches are currently featured as a popular special, with plans to make them a permanent daily offering soon.Nearly everything is made from scratch using locally sourced ingredientsincluding local sourdough bread, fresh milk from Old Mill Creamery, and coffee roasted by a State College area roaster.

Guests can also enjoy custom coffee beverages, refreshing smoothies and spritzers, and fresh baked goods in a cozy atmosphere which features comfortable seating designed to make every customer feel right at home. The space is intentionally built to offer an atmosphere where you can slow down and enjoy good quality food. Owner, Loren Martin stated, "We wanted to create a place where people can come sit down, start a conversation, and enjoy great hospitality."

Step in the Open Door Café on Monday through Saturday, between 6:30 a.m. – 2:30 p.m., and enjoy your morning coffee, grab a quick lunch, or catch up with a friend over a hot crepe. You can also callin your order for takeout at (570) 217-0461. You will be happy that you did!

Opening Exhibition at Susquehanna University's Lore Degenstein Gallery is a Contemplation on Waste

SELINSGROVE — Susquehanna University's Lore Degenstein Gallery will unveil its first exhibition of the season, Wasted, with an opening reception Saturday, Sept. 5, at 7 p.m. in the gallery in the Charles B. Degenstein Campus Center.

Student-led tours of the exhibition will be available at noon Tuesday, Sept. 29, and Thursday, Oct. 1. The exhibition runs through Oct. 16.

Informed by the emerging field of discard studies, Wasted critiques our culture's proclivity for overconsumption and waste. More than the disposal of physical objects, the area of discard studies explores how systems of power determine what — and who — is valued and devalued. Through artworks addressing the plastics crisis, fast fashion and our food systems, this exhibition gives context for the larger machinations at play in an economic system where the individual is often burdened with end-of-life responsibility for the products these industries produce.

Related programs will provide avenues for adaptability and resiliency at the individual and community levels. Support for this exhibition is provided in part by the National Endowment for the Arts.

The Lore Degenstein Gallery is free and open to the public from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday-Sunday. The gallery is closed during university breaks; call 570-372-4059 for an appointment when classes are not in session.

Cole's Hardware Announces "Beyond the Bucket" Community Event to Benefit Local Learn-to-Swim Programs

Women's Outreach Works (WOW) Offers An Afternoon of Inspiration

By Kay Poeth

Women's Outreach Works is hosting "WOW, It's a September Picnic" for an afternoon to connect, refresh and be inspired on Wednesday, September 23. This free event will be held at New Berlin Fireman's Social Hall, located at 416 Liberty Street in New Berlin. Doors open at 1:00 pm; the program begins at 1:30 pm. There will be special presentations by DIG Furniture Bank, Beacon Free Shop at Beaver Methodist Church in Lewisburg, and Union County Giving Closet.

WOW continues its mission to raise awareness of local outreach efforts and to strengthen the network of support around them. Opportunities to donate in support of the featured organizations include cash/check donations and any items that you would like to contribute.

Enjoy skewer-style light treats and refreshing iced tea and lemonade while listening to the presentations. DIG Furniture Bank provides used furniture and household goods to individuals and families in need. DIG also gives a laundry basket filled with housewarming gifts such as paper towels, toilet paper, hand soap, dish detergent, wipes and laundry detergent. Donations welcome.

Beacon Free Shop provides personal care products and household supplies to those in need, free of charge. Donations of 31-ounce laundry detergent is the their most urgent need as well as dish soap, deodorant, bar soap, shampoo, disposable razors, shaving cream, and toothpaste.

Union County Giving Closet provides new or gently used clothing to children, aged newborn- grade 12, whose families are enrolled in the Union County Food Bank Program. Donations of new multipack socks, any size and gender are appreciated.

"We planned this WOW ministry because we see a growing need for more connected, consistent, and compassionate support. Many of our neighbors face food insecurity, financial strain, housing instability, and limited access to necessities—needs that no single ministry can meet alone," stated Kathleen Ferster.

WOW strives to strengthen shared resources, streamline volunteer efforts, and expand the reach of each ministry. The mission is to build a resilient, interconnected network of partners with greater efficiency, compassion, and impact.

Who is invited to attend? Anyone interested, whether or not they are affiliated with a church, are invited to attend! Any women who dedicate their time and talents to serving individuals and families throughout the Susquehanna Valley, or those interested in becoming better informed about local outreach ministries will want to attend!

The goal of WOW: Together with Tea is to renew inspiration, build new connections, and acknowledge the many ways women in the community are making a difference. Those attending who wish to set up tabletop displays to share their ministries may do so. Please RSVP to Miriam Milbrand at 570-490-3403 by September 19. The program will begin promptly at 1:30 and concludes at 3:30 pm.

Leon Fultz Foundation Hosts Third Annual Benefit Softball Tournament

The Leon Fultz Foundation for Youth recently hosted its third annual co-ed benefit slow-pitch softball tournament, raising funds to support youth programs throughout Snyder County and surrounding communities.

Seven teams participated in this year's tournament. Team EGR claimed first place, followed by team Big Stick Energy in second place and team Sons of Pitches in third.

Through tournament registration fees, concession sales and generous donations, the event raised a little over $1,600 for the Leon Fultz Foundation for Youth.

The foundation was established to honor the memory and legacy of Leon Fultz by providing financial assistance to local youth and community organizations. The foundation supports the youth of Snyder County and surrounding areas through athletic, recreational and developmental programs.

Leon Fultz dedicated many years to coaching and mentoring youth softball players. He also devoted countless hours to maintaining and working on the Spring Township ballfield in Beaver Springs, where he shared his love of the game and his commitment to the local community.

The annual softball tournament continues Leon's legacy by bringing the community together while raising funds to help local youth. The foundation is grateful to everyone who participated in the tournament, volunteered their time, donated, provided support and helped make the event a success.

The Leon Fultz Foundation for Youth extends a sincere thank-you to all of the players, teams, volunteers, donors, concession workers and community members who helped make this year's tournament possible. The foundation also appreciates everyone who continues to support its mission of helping local youth and community organizations.

Susquehanna University Welcomes New Faculty Mmebers

SELINSGROVE — Susquehanna University has welcomed several new faculty members in the School of the Arts, School of Humanities, School of Natural & Social Sciences and the Sigmund Weis School of Business.

School of the Arts

Sean Ironman, assistant professor of creative writing, holds a doctorate in English with an emphasis in creative nonfiction from the University of Missouri-Columbia. Before coming to Susquehanna University as a visiting professor in 2025, he served as a postdoctoral fellow of writing at the U.S. Naval War College. His essays and comics focus on the gaps — gaps of memory, of research, of form — and the silences within our societies and ourselves. He is currently writing a memoir, As Many Roasts As You Need, which examines the balance between serving as caretaker to others and taking care of ourselves.

School of Humanities

Sophia Buehrer, assistant professor of French studies, holds a doctorate in French literature from New York University. Before attending graduate school, she participated in the Teaching Assistant Program in France as an English language assistant working with middle and high school students, which greatly influenced her interest in teaching language. Her research explores how Protestant writers and artists in the 16th and early 17th centuries depicted violence and sought to place audiences in the role of witnesses to those events.

School of Natural & Social Sciences

Baylee Hudgens, assistant professor of sociology, earned her doctorate from Purdue University. Her research interests include political sociology, law and society and social movements. She uses quantitative and qualitative methods to examine the introduction and passage of state-level policies that attempt to limit or control protest within the United States.

Kate Huffer, assistant professor of biology, received their doctorate from the Johns Hopkins-National Institutes of Health Graduate Partnerships Program. Prior to coming to Susquehanna, they were the assistant director of citizen science at Bard College, where they promoted science literacy among first-year students, in addition to teaching neurobiology and biophysics courses. Huffer's research explores the connection between a protein's shape and the job it performs to better understand ion channel proteins found in the nervous system that play roles in pain and neurological disorders.

Edgard M. K. V. K. Soares, assistant professor of exercise science, earned his doctorate in exercise science from the University of Brasília. He comes to Susquehanna University from Skidmore College, where he served as a visiting assistant professor in the Department of Health and Human Physiological Sciences. His research examines the relationships between cardiorespiratory fitness, physical activity and cardiovascular risk, as well as exercise testing and the effects of prescription and caffeine on exercise performance.

Grace Thaggard, assistant professor of chemistry, received her doctorate in chemistry from the University of South Carolina. Her research broadly focuses on stimuli-responsive compounds and their applications as molecular "tools" for sensing, selective extraction and recycling of critical minerals from waste streams. Thaggard's teaching interests lie in the introductory chemistry sequence, as well as instrumental analysis, with an emphasis on spectroscopy.

Sigmund Weis School of Business

Jungjun Park, assistant professor of finance, earned his doctorate from Claremont Graduate University. Before joining Susquehanna University, he taught at the University of Pittsburgh and St. Lawrence University. His research primarily explores the impact of higher-moment (non-normal) risks on portfolio optimization as well as the pricing and trading of derivatives and volatility.

Selinsgrove Church Volunteers Return from Impactful Construction

SELINSGROVE, PA — August 13, 2026 — A team of 13 volunteers from Selinsgrove Church of the Nazarene (SCN) successfully completed an international mission trip to Chicujal, Guatemala, focused on infrastructure development and community service. Departing Pennsylvania early in the morning on August 4, 2026, the team completed an intense week of work and witness before returning to Selinsgrove early this morning, August 13, 2026.

The diverse volunteer group ranged in age from 19 to 59 and bridged generational gaps by combining the energies of college students with the expertise of seasoned professionals. Despite their varying life experiences, the volunteers shared a singular commonality: an eagerness to serve fellow Christians in a meaningful, practical way.

The team journeyed to their project site at Iglesia del Nazareno in Chicujal, traversing a four-hour route through the rural mountains of Guatemala's Alta Verapaz region. Using the nearby city of Cobán as their home base, the volunteers partnered with local pastor Ricardo Pop to install a new roof and comprehensive electrical systems for the local church.

Service to others remains a foundational pillar of the Nazarene denomination. Church teams operating across Latin American missions frequently unite under the motto "Llamados a Servir," which translates to "Called to Serve." This shared calling served as the driving anchor for the SCN team throughout their rigorous physical labor and Christian witness outreach.

"I was on the mission trip to Cobán last year and fell in love with this place and its people," said team leader Andy Howell of Selinsgrove. "Trips like these are as much of a gift to us as they are to the people we are helping. It's uplifting to see how faithful some of these people are in spite of their conditions. For example, we met a blind man living in a small shack in the mountains. He was so happy for us to visit and pray with him. It's a reminder that someone can be financially poor but spiritually wealthy. This year my daughter Natalie was able to come on the trip, and it has been a real blessing for us to share this experience together."

This project marks SCN's second consecutive post-COVID international mission trip to Guatemala. SCN selected Guatemala due to the deep historical roots tying the region to the global church's Alabaster Offering—a fund managed by Nazarene Missions International (NMI) where 100 percent of donations directly fund worldwide land purchases and building construction. Cobán is home to the first-ever Alabaster facility, the Instituto Bíblico Nazareno (Nazarene Biblical Institute), which finished construction in 1949 and officially graduated to seminary status following SCN's visit last year. Four of this year's volunteers previously served on that 2025 Cobán trip.

Following the completion of their construction tasks, the volunteers distributed bags of food to the neediest among the village, and conducted Christian youth outreach. Prior to returning home to Pennsylvania, the team spent a final day touring Antigua Guatemala, witnessing the country's rich historical culture and natural beauty.

To learn more about local and international community programs hosted by the church, please visit the Selinsgrove Church of the Nazarene Website.

Rev Up Those Engines

Jaxon Baum, 7, of New Freedom PA surrounded by track officials Everett, Eli, Marshall, and Chris Aurand during the Pedal Pull event at the Middlecreek Valley Antique Association's 30th Annual Fall Show.

The Mountain Man, Richard Morrow, from Landisburg, PA is pictured here inside his tent.He showed visitors what it was like to really live like a mountain man.

Agricultural enthusiasts of all ages came out to the Middlecreek Valley Antique Association's 30th Annual Fall Show to help preserve the historical past for the future generations to come on August 28 & 29, 2026. Whether you were 1 or 100 years old there was something for you at the Fall Show… and the best part was it was free parking, free admission, and free entertainment. All right here in our own backyards! There was food to be purchased and gifts to be bought at the unique vendor stands and don't forget the Hit and Miss Ice Cream owned and operated by Rolan Martin from Liverpool.

The kids kept parents busy with all the various activities on site.Pedal Pulls for Children was one of the events that took place.OfficialsChris, Marshall, Everett, and Eli Aurand measured the distance each child traveled with their loaded weights. The tractor and sled being used during the pull was made by Aurand Bros Fabrication & Repairs, Middleburg.

Jaxon Baum, 7, from New Freedom PA took his chance at winning a ribbon at the Pedal Pulls.He was one of several children eager to make it the farthest in their age bracket to earn a ribbon and a goodie bag.As the children exited from their pull they were given an Ice Cream Sandwich to cool down by the SUN Area Dairy Princess, Madyson Reich of Middleburg. All children who Participated were given a Goodie bag of yummy treats and activities handed to them by Larissa Hauck. Tabitha Hauck was the announcer for the pedal pull so the crowd cheering on all the kids could all hear loud and clear. Tabitha's brother Sam wasn't present during the time of the pedal pull but was a huge help to everyone setting up the event. Ronald Hauck Jr. organizes and runs the pedal pulls and garden tractor pulls, which were earlier in the day. From fellow attendees and pullers that have spent years at Middlecreek Valley Antique Association, they feel the Hauck family is one of many families that do so much for the Association. Speaking to Ronald, he just wants people to learn about the Middlecreek Valley Antique Association. He says he often hears people say they never knew this was all right here.

In addition to the tractor pulls,, there was a petting zoo, face painting, barrel rides, and even a Mountain Man! Mountain Man, Richard Morrow, came from Landisburg to show visitors what it was like to really live like a mountain man. Educating along the way, he explained what each piece was made for, how to use it, and how to identify each item he displayed.

There is also a nice walking trail on the grounds called the Trail of Trees. Middlecreek Valley Antique Association Events are always free parking and entertainment. The grounds are shared with Snyder County Truck & Tractor Pullers.

Mark your calendars for these upcoming events: Middlecreek Valley Antique Association- October 24- Tractor Pulls with free admission and entertainment, and Snyder County Truck and Tractor Pullers on September 5- Truck and Tractor Pulls, Admission $15 (ages 10 & under free).
