Happy 90th Birthday to Nancy Bowersox who bids the Awesome 80's adieu and bon jour to the Nifty 90's on October 22. In 1936, the year Nancy was born, potato soup and peanut butter sandwiches were crowd-pleasers and Paul and Patricia were popular baby names. For a nickel, you could buy a bottle of Coke, a Hershey's bar, or an ice cream cone. You could also buy two loaves of raisin bread for 25 cents, a Monopoly board game for $1.98, or a DeSoto car for $695. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, also known as FDR, was the 32nd president of the United States, and John Nance Garner was the nation's vice president. The average annual household income was $1,713, the average cost of a new house was $3,925, and the average retail price for a gallon of gas was 19 cents. Americans were slowly and painfully digging their way out of the Great Depression. Employment remained stubbornly high at 16.9 percent. Over nine million Americans were out of work and could not find a job. General Foods introduced Jell-O pudding in regional markets. Chocolate-flavored pudding came out first, followed by vanilla and butterscotch. One year later, all three flavors were available nationwide.

A River Rat's Ramblings: October 1957

By Jim Charles; Vol. 6, Story 11

School is going well.I like Mr. Brosious.He is the first male teacher I ever had.He runs a tight class, but he explains things well and expects us to participate in class.In addition to being a 6th grade teacher, he is also the Principal of the Pine Street School. A job that occasionally takes him away from our class. When he has to leave our classroom, he expects us to continue working on whatever class assignments we have. Mrs. Bolig's 5th grade class is right beside our room, but up until now, she has never had to come over to check on us.

Other than walking home from school together, we don't see much of Earl and John because it's getting dark earlier and both Tim and I have homework most every night. Saturday is the only day we have to get together and play. It's either football or army. The river water is too cold to play in so if we play army, it's usually in the woods above the bridge.Mom still won't let us shoot each other on Sunday, but we can blast the heck out of each other on Saturday. It's getting close to small game hunting season at the end of the month and it never fails that one of us will flush a ringneck pheasant while we are playing above the bridge.

By mid-October it smells like rotting leaves in the woods, a smell associated with small game season. Although I could not hunt, both Tim and I would walk along behind dad and jump on brush piles to flush rabbits.I'm getting ahead of myself as there's still two Saturdays until the first day.

This Saturday, we started out going up to the bridge to play army, but yesterday, they dumped tons of limestone rocks to build up the rail bed, just off the bridge.For us it means hours of throwing stones out into the river.Our goal is to try to throw one of our stones out to the first bridge pier.We didn't know it then but it would be another two years until we hit the pier.Just because we couldn't hit the pier, it didn't keep us from trying.We never did play army.There's just something special about throwing stones into water that makes a young lad happy.

Pheasant Season Begins

Break out the brush pants, your favorite shotgun and, of course, a fluorescent orange hat and vest. Saturday, Oct. 10 marked the start of the junior pheasant season, and the statewide season follows close behind, opening on Saturday, Oct. 24.

Pennsylvania's pheasant hunters this year will enjoy expanded hunting dates, with all 21 Sundays falling within the season now open (up from 6 open Sundays during the 2025-26 season). In addition, pheasant hunting will remain open during the overlap with the statewide firearms deer season, providing an additional 2 weeks of opportunity.

All told, the Game Commission plans to stock approximately 232,000 birds incrementally through early January, with most releases occurring on public land.

About 17,000 pheasants will go out for the junior pheasant hunt, open to all junior hunters and mentored hunters of any age. The junior season runs from Oct. 10-18. Visit the pheasant hunting page at www.pa.gov/pgc for junior season stocking locations. Stocking follows for the regular season, which runs Oct. 24 – Dec. 24 and Dec. 26 – Feb. 28,2027.

"Pheasant releases will occur weekly from late October through late November," said Ian Gregg, chief of the Game Commission's Wildlife Operations Division. "A mid-December release will bolster hunting opportunity prior to the holidays, and many sites are also scheduled to be stocked twice shortly after Christmas for late season hunting. Results from last year's game farm pheasant harvest rate study indicated that these post-Christmas releases, initiated in 2021-22, are well-used by hunters and should be continued."

Gregg noted that a mid-February stocking is also tentatively planned, provided that the primary breeder flocks at the agency's chick supplier remain healthy through mid-winter. A final decision will be made and communicated in early February.

Pheasant hunting is open statewide, except in Pennsylvania's two Wild Pheasant Recovery Areas (WPRAs) – the Central Susquehanna WPRA in Northumberland and Montour counties, and the Franklin WPRA in Franklin County. No pheasant season will occur in either WPRA this year. While the Game Commission in recent years has authorized a youth pheasant season within the Central Susquehanna WPRA, and regulations were amended in 2024 to allow hunters of all ages to participate if a season was established, springtime pheasant crowing surveys in these areas were below the population estimate trend at which hunting would be authorized.

Elsewhere in the state, hunters may harvest either male or female pheasants. Both are released by the Game Commission, at a ratio of about three males for every female.

Although protecting hens is an important aspect of wild pheasant management, survival of propagated pheasants is too low to support sustainable populations, even without hunting mortality. Therefore, hunters are encouraged to take advantage of opportunities to harvest hens.

Each pheasant hunter needs a general hunting license, and most hunters need a pheasant permit, as well. Pheasant hunters must, at all times, wear at least 250 square inches of fluorescent orange on the head, chest and back combined. A fluorescent orange hat and vest will satisfy this requirement.

Hunters must abide by a two-pheasant daily limit and six-pheasant possession limit.

Pheasant permit requirements:

All adult hunters and some senior hunters who pursue pheasants are required to purchase a pheasant permit in addition to a general hunting license. The permit costs $26.97 and is available through HuntFishPA or from any license issuing agent.

As with a general hunting license, hunters can store a digital pheasant permit on a smart device to carry when hunting. Paper licenses and permits must be signed when carried afield.

Senior lifetime resident license holders who acquired their licenses prior to May 13, 2017 are exempt from needing a pheasant permit.

Junior hunters and mentored permit holders under 17 need a free permit.

Although pheasant-permit revenue is not earmarked specifically for the propagation program, and does not completely offset the costs of raising and stocking pheasants, it is important in ensuring the financial sustainability of the program. Permit revenue for the 2025-26 license year was over $1.5 million.

"Over 75,000 pheasant permits are issued each year, and the fact that recent sales trends have been stable to slightly increasing seems to indicate Pennsylvania pheasant hunters are finding good value in the expanded winter releases and other aspects of the Game Commission's pheasant propagation and stocking program," Gregg said. "The nearly 30 additional pheasant hunting days on the 2026-27 calendar will further increase the return on their permit investments."

Finding pheasants:

Because pheasant hunting in Pennsylvania relies on the release of propagated birds, hunters are wise to focus their efforts on the time periods and locations where the Game Commission stocks birds.

To increase awareness of where and when pheasants will be stocked, the agency publishes an allocation table and interactive stocking locations map online. Both of these are available on the pheasant hunting page at www.pa.gov/pgc.

When using the allocation table, click on a region to see the number of male and female pheasants planned for stocking in each county for each release, as well as the range of dates for each release, and a listing of each property to be stocked.

The interactive map shows more than 220 properties that are scheduled to be stocked. Click on a pheasant icon to see the property name, the number of releases, and number of birds released last year to get an idea of large versus small release areas. Users can also zoom in to see pink highlighted areas representing areas of best pheasant hunting habitat where birds are most likely to be found.

As a reminder to hunters in these areas, it is unlawful to discharge a firearm within 150 yards of a Game Commission vehicle if its occupants are releasing pheasants.

For those new to hunting pheasants, the Game Commission offers online resources to help inexperienced hunters find success. Various pheasant-hunting resources are available on the Learn to Hunt Program page at www.pa.gov/pgc.

Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza:

Highly pathogenic avian influenza, commonly referred to as bird flu, has been present in Pennsylvania's wildlife since early 2022. The Pennsylvania Game Commission provides disease information and recommendations to the public on how to promote human, domestic animal, and wildlife health at pa.gov/agencies/pgc/wildlife/wildlife-health/wildlife-diseases/avian-influenza. Sick or dead wildlife should always be reported to the Pennsylvania Game Commission's Centralized Dispatch Center by calling 1-833-PGC-WILD (742-9453). Any sick or dead domestic birds should be reported to the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture at 717-772-2852, while any human health concerns should be communicated to your primary care physician or the Pennsylvania Department of Health at 1-877-724-3258.

PA State Police Accepting Applications for Youth Camp

The Pennsylvania State Police (PSP), in collaboration with the Pennsylvania National Guard and the Pennsylvania American Legion, is now accepting applications for its annual youth camp. The Elmer Hafer–American Legion–State Police–National Guard Youth Camp will take place June 6–12, 2027, at Messiah University in Mechanicsburg, Cumberland County.

"This program provides young people with an opportunity to develop leadership, confidence, discipline, self-esteem, and a strong sense of personal responsibility," said Lieutenant Colonel George L. Bivens, Acting Commissioner of the Pennsylvania State Police. "State Police Youth Week is about creating future leaders by challenging cadets to grow, develop their strengths, and recognize their potential. Through this program, they gain valuable life skills and develop a deeper understanding of service, responsibility, and commitment. Our goal is for every cadet to leave with greater confidence in themselves, a stronger sense of purpose, and the foundation to become a leader in their community."

The six-day program is for 15- to 17-year-olds interested in exploring careers in Pennsylvania law enforcement or the military. Cadets will take part in a wide range of hands-on learning experiences and physical fitness training designed to build their understanding of law enforcement as well as their confidence, teamwork, self-esteem, and leadership abilities.

"Giving our young people the chance to explore these pathways offers them and their families a meaningful glimpse into what a life of service can truly be," said Major General John R. Pippy, Pennsylvania's Adjutant General and head of the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs (DMVA). "The Elmer Hafer Camp provides an experience rooted in responsibility and purpose, and we are grateful for the opportunity to continue supporting Pennsylvania's youth in such a meaningful way."

Activities and demonstrations include police scenarios, physical fitness training, drill and ceremony, forensics, traffic and criminal law, water survival, marksmanship, and teambuilding. Cadets will also visit the Fort Indiantown Gap National Guard Training Center in Lebanon County.

The camp is staffed by members of the PSP, the Pennsylvania Army National Guard, and the American Legion. At the conclusion of the program, three cadets will each receive a $1,000 scholarship.

Applicants must be 15 to 17 years old at the start of the camp. Candidates should be physically fit, in good health, and maintain a strong academic record. Local American Legion posts sponsor cadets, covering the registration fees for participants.

For more information, please visit State Police Youth Week, where applicants can access the online application.

PSP personnel also host regional Camp Cadet programs for youth ages 11 to 15, Hill Impact programs for individuals aged 15 to 18, Law and Leadership programs for those 18 years and older, and a Sunny Day camp for children and adults with special needs. To learn more about PSP programs in your area, contact your local Troop Community Services Officer.

SELINSGROVE SPEEDWAY ENDS SEASON WITH TWO NIGHTS OF QUALITY RACING

17-year-old Maynard Glass from Freeburg sustained a frightening flip down the back stretch in the BMain of the 305 sprint car race. Although the car is a complete loss, Thankfully Maynard was not injured. Photo by Debbie Gastelu

The weekend belonged to the 410-sprint cars at Selinsgrove speedway with two nights of racing for the annual Jim Nace Memorial, with 305-sprints also on the cards for both nights. The starts came out with the PA Posse drivers around the area on hand for racing both nights. 31 on Friday and 34 on Saturday were the car count for the 410-sprints, while the 305-sprints had 37 on Friday and 43 on Saturday to make it a big night for drivers and fans alike. The temperatures were dropping but the racing stayed hot on the speedway. With the new track record in time trial on Friday by Buddy Schweinbinz breaking the mark that was held by TJ Stutts since the 2023 season. Mark Smith, who was second in the track points did not race on Friday night, but he had a good reason his son was playing football for the Shikellamy Braves. Mark was in Selinsgrove, but he was at the football game instead of the track. Samual Miller and Derek Hauck had engine problems on Friday night and neither returned to race on Saturday. Five new drivers showed up on Saturday that were not there on Friday night. JJ Loss #67, Mark Smith #17K, Preston Lattomus #91, Jayden Wolf #75, and Dallas Schott #55. Lattomus and Wolf did not make the feature but the other three did with Dallas Schott making his first start of the season at Selinsgrove setting fast time on the night and placing second in heat and ninth in the feature. Mark Smith was involved in a first lap accident and did not return to race; JJ Loss placed 19th in the feature. Dietz had two feature wins given him 26 for the season; Anthony Macri had a third and a second-place run over the weekend. Danny Dietrich had a fourth and third, Justin Whittall had a fifth and a fourth, Troy Wagaman Jr had a sixth and a fifth. Logan Rumsey had two seventh place finishes; Doug Hammaker had a ninth and eight, with Austin Bishop placing tenth both nights. Ryan Newton had seventh on Friday while Dallas Schotts had a ninth-place run on Saturday. Lance Dewease had problems both nights and did not make the feature either night, while his son Cole had runs of second and third in the 305-sprint car action. The big surprise was Kreitz 69K in the points for both nights. The team had given Buddy Schweibinz a shot at the Williams Grove National Open the weekend before and did an ok job. The team felt that engine problems did give him the proper look, so they gave him a second shot last weekend. He came through with a new one-lap track record and a second-place finish on Friday night. A good heat race and starting spot for the feature but a first laps accident knocked him out of the 30-laps feature. Keep an eye on this kid he had been doing a great job on Friday night driving the John Westbrock #14, along with his own #35 at other tracks also Buddy raced four time at Selinsgrove and in his own car was in the top ten twice, before the ride with the Kreitz team. Keep an eye out for this kid it looks like he will have a bright future in sprint car racing, if the Kreitz team thinks it must be true. The weekend for Chase Dietz was worth well over $30,000, with $6,000 winning on Friday and $26,626 on Saturday, plus lap money and other contingencies. Smith also won the tracks point championship even with missing one race of the seven that were run. Chase had finishes of 8th, 2nd, 2nd, 21st and two wins for his championship run to go along with the Willaims Grove title he won the week before. Five different drivers made it to all seven races. Austin Bishop, Ryan Taylor, Kody Lehman, Jake Waters, and Jake Karklin who had engine problems on Saturday night and did not make the show. These seven drivers only missed one race this year at Selinsgrove Danny Dietrich, Mark Smith, Joey Amantea, Chase Dietz, Dylan Cisney and Mike Thompson, but the car was there the night he was not with Michael Walter filling in. For the season the track had an average car count of 26 drivers for the seven races with 18 the lowest and 34 the highest on the final night of the season, 61 different drivers competed in at least one race at Selinsgrove this season.

In the 305-sprint action, Dustin Young scored his first win of the season on Friday night picking up the $600 top prize, holding off a hard charging Cole Dewease for the win. While Landon Thompson took the Saturday night show and the $2,626 top prize. The 305-sprint had 37 drivers on hand for Friday and 43 for Saturday. They lost three drivers from Friday, Paul Moyer, Logan Rumsey and Tyler Snook, but gained Jacob and Reece Raudabaugh, Doug Dodson, Nathan Pierca, Tyler Schell, Landon Tressler, and Maynard Glass. Glass took a nasty flip on the back stretch during the running of the B-main. The fuel cell in the car went over the fence and had to be picked up by a wrecker, because it was so heavy with a full load of fuel. These 305 drivers had the best weekend Cole Dewease 2nd and fifth, Tyler Erdley two 3rd place runs, Ken Duke with two 4th lace runs, Landon Thompson 7th and first Colby Womer 10th and 6th Landon Thompson 7th and first. With his runs of sixth and seventh Chris Dolan of York PA is the 305-sprint car track champion. The first of his career. Dolan scored 3190 to Duke's 3060.Selinsgrove was able to get 11 racing show in for this division with only one repeat winner Timmy Bittner who had two feature wins. Single wins went to Drew Young in the opener, Jarrett Cavalet, Ken Duke, Kruz Kepner, Chad Phillips, Doug Dodson, Chris Dolan and Dustin Young, and Landon Thompson. Four drivers made it to all eleven shows. Chris Dolan, Kruz Kepner, Ken Duke, and Mike Alleman. The 305-sprint had an average car count for the season of 26 with 14 the lowest and 43 the highest, with 67 different drivers racing in at least one show. Both features for the 305 over the weekend had plenty of action, in heats and features. Very few cautions during both feature events.

Another action over the weekend BAPS Motor speedway held there 23rd annual Fall Brawl with racing on Friday for five divisions and six on Saturday, Friday night was a big race for the 358-sprints. A nice field of 34-drivers signed in for the race. Bryn Gohn scored his first feature win of the season scoring the 25-lap win over Cody Fletcher, Cole Young, Blake Ludwig and Derek Locke. The next race for the 358-sprint will be a big one for them on Saturday October 24th for the Britton Finkenbinder Memorial paying the winner of the feature$3,000, $1,500 for second and $325 just to start the feature. Other divisions in action were the Extreme stocks which had qualified for their Saturday night 50 lap feature. Legends, Classic Cars, 602 Crate Modified for qualifying for Saturday also. Saturday the Limited late models and super Sportsman were in action running qualifying events with both divisions needing three heats and a feature for their program. Kenny Edkin came from his 9th starting spot to win the Super Sportsman feature over Jay Fannasy, with his second-place run. Jay won the track championship for this division. Michael Walls led all 20-laps for the Limited late model win which also earned him enough points that he won the track points title. His first win of the season over Devin Frey , Scott Palmer, Keith Koontz and Dawson Walls son of Michael. The 602 Crate Modified feature went with Addison Meitzler winning the feature and the $2,000 top prize. The 50-lap Extreme stock feature went to Tyler Miller scoring the feature win over Micheal Godwin, with the win Miller wins the divisions point title.

Coming up this weekend will be the Short Track Super Series events with two nights of racing at Hagerstown. Things start Friday night with the 358 modifieds running a complete program along with the Crate late models and Crown Vic. The Big Block Modifieds and 602 Crate will have practice with the two fastest in their group will be in the redraw for Saturday program. Saturday will have a 50-lap feature for the Big Blocks paying $7,000 to win while the 602 will race for $2,000 to win in the 25-lap feature. The Limited late models will be racing 25-laps for $1,500 to win and the crown Vic race 15 laps for $300 to win. Also, Lincoln Speedway will close out its season with two sprint car divisions 410-sprints paying the winner of the 50-lap feature $15,000 to win along with extra money for the 358-sprints. Point championship will also be decided with Chase Dietz leading Freddie Rahmer for the 410 title while Jayden Wolf leads Cody Fletcher for the 358-title.

Free Counseling Available to Help Navigate Medicare Open Enrollment

Medicare's annual open enrollment period begins Thursday, Oct. 15, and the Pennsylvania Department of Aging (PDA) today announced Pennsylvanians can receive free, unbiased help understanding their options by talking with specially trained Pennsylvania Medicare Education and Decision Insight (PA MEDI) counselors.

"PA MEDI counselors can help Medicare recipients navigate the open enrollment process and find the best services to meet their unique needs," said Dan Milloy, PDA's PA MEDI director. "The counselors are available to answer questions, offer suggestions and provide valuable information to Medicare recipients who want to make sure they are receiving the best possible coverage. PA MEDI can help beneficiaries compare all aspects of Medicare Advantage and Prescription Drug plans by looking at overall costs, provider networks, supplemental benefits, prior authorization requirements and drug formularies."

The PA MEDI program is operated out of Pennsylvania's 52 local Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs). PA MEDI counselors can help older adults make informed health insurance decisions that best fit their needs and budgets. PA MEDI Counselors do not sell insurance products, nor do they endorse or recommend any insurance company, product or agent. PA MEDI counselors can help determine if an older adult may be eligible for any of Pennsylvania's Medicare cost-savings programs, including Pennsylvania's PACE/PACENET prescription benefit programs, Extra Help and Medicare savings programs.

Pennsylvanians can call their local AAA or locate a PA MEDI event in their area by visiting the Pennsylvania Department of Aging's website. More information is available by calling the toll-free PA MEDI helpline at 1-800-783-7067 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Medicare Open Enrollment lasts until Monday, Dec. 7.

Chase Makes It Two For Two In Weekend 410-Sprint Car Action

By Jeff Ulrich

Sweeping the weekend at Selinsgrove Speedway was Chase Dietz shown here in High Caliber Cranes Victory Lane with his wife and two mascots. Photo by Debbie Gastelu

Chase Dietz of York PA swept the racing 410-sprint car action in the annual Jim Nace Memorial weekend, Dietz in the Stehman #23 scored his 26th win of the season and second of the year at Selinsgrove. Like the Friday night race Chase had to race down the leader before getting the lead and going on to win the 30-lap feature. Anthony Macri jumped out to the early and four-time winner of the Nace was looking like he was going to make it win number five as he pulled away from the rest of the field. Dietz started to work the lower groove on the ½ mile track and was making up time to the leader Macri was doing a great jump maneuvering thru the lapped cars, but Chase was still catching the leader. He made the pass before halfway in the event. After getting the lead Dietz moved around the speedway from top to bottom passing lapped cars and at the finish had lapped up to the 11th place finisher. After placing third Friday night Macri improved one spot for a second placed finish with Danny Dietrich also one spot better then Friday for third place run, Justin Whittall and Troy Wagaman placed in the top five, with Ryan Newton, Logan Rumsey, Doug Hammaker, Logan Wagner of Harrisonville PA and Austin Bishop in the top ten. Dietz had this to say about the win," The track was again in top shape you could run top to bottom and move around, and this place has been like that every time. We have been here this year I just love racing at Selinsgrove. To end the season here with two wins and get the track championship is just a great honor for me. My team I cannot thank the Stehman Family and my crew enough for this chance to drive this car. " The start of the feature was a little rough with Michael Walter of Selinsgrove flipping in turn one at the start other driver involved were Mark Smith of Sunbury, TJ Stutts of Liverpool and Buddy Schweibinz, none-return to the race on the restart. Heats for the 34 drivers signed in for night two action were Wagaman, Dietz, Macri, and Justin Whittall with Bishop winning the B-main. The win for Dietz was worth $26,000, plus lap money, and with his two nights of racing he moved up in the point standings to become the Selinsgrove speedway 2026 track champion in the 410-sprint class by 105 markers over Ryan Taylor

In the 25-lap 305 sprint car feature Landon Thompson of Forth Worth TX. drove the Ricky Weaver #31 to win. Thompson got the early lead and was pulling away from the rest of the field in the early part of the race. Tyler Erdley found speed and started to cut into the leaders' advantage who were dealing with some slower traffic and having trouble moving around. With only a few laps left Erdley was making an inside move to get past Thompson when going into turn one he slipped up a bit and fell back to third place with Logan Spahr moving into the second spot. The top three drivers stayed low on the track for the last few laps with nobody able to mount any kind of challenge on Thompson. Spahr held on for second with Erdley getting his second third place finish of the weekend. Ken Duke and Cole Dewease were in the top five. Sixth thru tenth went to Colby Womer, Chris Dolan, Brandon Varner Mifflintown PA, Zach Rhodes of McVeytown PA and Mikell McGee of Sprint Run in the top ten. With his seventh-place finish Chris Dolan of York PA is the Selinsgrove Speedway 2026 305 sprint car track champion, Chris won the points by 130 over Ken Duke.

Friday Night Pa Posse 25-Lap Sprint Feature Belongs To Chase Dietz

By Jeff Ulrich

Chase Dietz of York PA drove to the Friday night PA Posse feature win, which was his 25th win of the season and his first at the Snyder County oval. It was not easy for Chase as Buddy Schweinbinz of Tuckahoe N.J. took off from his front row starting spot and moved out to a big lead early in the race. Lapped traffic slowed the pace of Buddy as Dietz kept closing the gap on the leader. Dietz moved around the lapped traffic a bit easier than Buddy was able to. He got past him with an inside move taking the lead and driving away from the early race leader Anthony Macri. Macri, who was making his second weekend return from racing after a collar bone injury sidelined him for a few months, was racing in third and trying to make up ground on the leaders. Danny Dietrich and Justin Whittall were racing in the top five and were trying to get toward the front in the fast-paced feature event. Dietz, who had led two features earlier in the but did not get a winning one because of a flat tire late in the race and the other flipping while battling for the lead, was on the move. But this time he was not to be denied a score the $6,000 paycheck for night one of the Nace memorial weekend. Dietz was happy with the win and was glad to get his first Selinsgrove speedway win of the year." This track was smooth and fast tonight. Buddy just got slowed up by the lapped cars and I was able to get around him. I pulled away. We should have two more wins here this year but that is how racing goes sometimes. I like racing on the big tracks. We have had speed here every time we raced this place and tonight. We finally put it all together," said Dietz. Buddy Schweibinz rode home in second driving the Kreitz #69K . Buddy set a new track record in time trial with a time of 15.414. Third went to Anthony Macri of Dillsburg, with Danny Dietrich Gettysburg and Justin Whittall Vincetown N.J. in the top five the rest of the top ten went to Troy Wagaman Jr of Hanover, Logan Rumsey Manchester, Ryan Newton Sunshine Coast QOL, Doug Hammaker of Grantville, and Austin Bishop of Morgantown PA. The four heat races for the 31 drivers on hand went to Dietrich, Bishop, Whittall, Rumsey with TJ Ferry of Drums Pa winning the B-main.

The 20-lap 305 sprint car feature found Dustin Young of Danville PA grabbing the lead at the start of the 20-lap feature and never looking back for his first Selinsgrove win of the year. Only one caution slowed the pace of the feature, with Young holding the upper hand all of the feature. The battle for second was a good one with a number of drivers dicing around looking to move up in the standings during the race. Cole Dewease of Fayetteville PA, son of Lance, made some of the bigger moves to get up to the second spot, but he ran out laps to get close enough to challenge Young for the win. Tyler Erdley of Herndon Pa drove a steady race for third spot in his first full season in the division, with Ken Duke Winfield and Logan Spar of Harrisburg, in the top five. Sixth through tenth went to Chris Dolan of York, Landon Thompson of Texas, Mike Aleman of Port Royal, Kruz Kepner of Kreamer and Colby Womer of Mt Pleasant Mills. Heat races of the 37 drivers on hand went to Kyle Hart, John Braim of Turbotville, Tyler Erdley, and Dewease, with Dylan Shatzer of Hagerstown MD winning the B-main.

A Meal Made With Love

By Bonnie Page

Members of St. Paul's (Erdley's) Lutheran Church of Middleburg gather behind the homemade meal they prepared in partnership with Kelsey's Dream for families staying at the Ronald McDonald House in Danville.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church members turn faith into action by providing a comforting homemade meal for families staying at the Ronald McDonald House.Sometimes the greatest acts of kindness begin around a kitchen table — with helping hands, caring hearts and a desire to make someone else's difficult day a little brighter.

Members of St. Paul's (Erdley's) Lutheran Church of Middleburg recently joined forces with Kelsey's Dream to prepare a special homemade meal for families staying at the RonaldMcDonald House in Danville.

The church fellowship planned and prepared a hearty feast featuring grilled barbecue chicken, macaroni and cheese, cucumber salad, baked beans, brownies and blueberry muffins. More than simply providing dinner, the volunteers hoped to offer families a taste of home and a reminder that their community is thinking of them.

For families returning to the Ronald McDonald House after spending long and often emotional days at the hospital with their children, the sight and aroma of a freshly prepared meal provided a warm welcome.

The project held special meaning for those involved. St. Paul's (Erdley's) is Kelsey's church family, making the partnership with Kelsey's Dream a fitting reflection of the compassion and service at the heart of both organizations.

Working side by side, volunteers transformed ordinary ingredients into something much greater, an expression of love for families navigating extraordinarily difficult circumstances.

The evening also served as a reminder that making a difference does not always require a grand gesture. Sometimes it is a home-cooked meal, a welcoming smile and the knowledge that someone cared enough to show up and serve.

For the members of St. Paul's Church, the project was an opportunity to put their faith into action and share one of life's simplest blessings: caring for one another.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, located at 2337 Erdley's Church Road in Middleburg, welcomes community members looking for a place of faith, fellowship and friendship. Sunday worship begins at 8:45 a.m., and all are welcome to come as they are.

Our two Union County football schools are playing really good football right now and this should make the regular season finale a real donnybrook in The 'Little Brown Jug' game. I know the Brown Jug goes to the school that won the most games against each other during the school year but it wasn't always like that.

The football team that won the annual game between Mifflinburg and Lewisburg claimed The Jug for that year except in 1980 when it was kept at Sone´s department store in Vicksburg. That game ended in a 13-13 tie despite a field goal that was good from Wildcat Steve Walter that the refs said was wide left…?

Lewisburg (4-3) has a huge game this week against undefeated Bloomsburg. They didn't look ahead last week as they got out fast and beat Midd-West 42-28. Jaylen Walker scored three times including the first score on an 86 yard punt return. QB Xavier Carter threw three straight passes that resulted in TDs and had the Green Dragons up 35-7 at halftime. Carter finished with five touchdown passes.

Midd-West (1-6) QB Witten Carter had a good game as well but couldn't keep pace with the explosive eleven from Lewisburg. Witten became the first Midd-West QB to surpass a thousand yards in a season and the Mustangs still have three games to play!

The elusive and fast Haven Bridges had 293 total yards with three catches for 102 and 191 yards in kick returns. Bridge scored twice and Aiden Rose caught eight passes for 108. Midd-West will host Mifflinburg (5-2) and Lewisburg is playing Bloom (7-0) in Milton on Friday.

Landon Moser ran for 170 yards and two TDs and returned a Central Mountain fumble 55 yards to start the scoring in the Cats 57-14 win. Grady Brubaker returned an interception 55 yards as well to end the first half scoring at 36-0 Miff. Cats QB Brennen Snyder continued his economical play throwing for 185 yards with just 4 incompletions and two TDs. Brayden Resseguie was his favorite target, catching four for 111 and a touchdown.

Selinsgrove hung with state ranked Shik for the first half trailing just 12-6. Shik came out ready after the break and scored 14 points in both the third and fourth quarters for a tidy 40-13 win. The Brave's well-balanced offense, 216 running and 182 passing yards made them hard to defend. Seal's Isaac Thomas ran the ball well scoring the first TD on a 45 yard run. Shik scored the next 26 points to put the game away. Selinsgrove travels to Danville Friday.

There´s something special going on at Midd-West with both the girls and boys soccer team. They have a combined record of 26-3-1 so far this season. The girls had four shutouts in a row after beating Shamokin 2-0 and Millersburg 9-0. It was a big week for Emery Peters as she had both goals against Shamokin and five goals and an assist in the Millersburg game. The big game was Tuesday night where Midd-West lost for the first time this year to Selinsgrove 1-0.

Abram Sellers' two goals were enough to beat (12-3) Warrior Run 2-1. Evan Devine and Sellers had both goals in a 2-0 shutout of (14-2) Greenwood. That´s two wins in one week over two teams with a combined record of 26-5! The Mustangs finished out their week with a 5-0 blanking of Central Mountain. Devine had 2 goals and an assist and Nathan Horst had 2 assists and a goal.

Elsewhere on the pitch, the Lewisburg girls (4-7-2) lost to Williamsport 2-1 and tied Loyalsock 1-1. Scoring is an issue for the Lady Cats as they lost 6-0 to Warrior Run, 4-0 to Line Mountain and 3-0 to East Juniata. The Selinsgrove girls have been solid all year and beat Midd-West 1-0 this past Tuesday. Joslyn Zacharda and Karsen Dodge both had three points in a 4-0 win over Danville. The Seal girls played to a scoreless tie at Hughesville.

Lewisburg (13-1) boys soccer continues to roll with a 4-0 win over Warrior Run and 6-0 shutout of Hughesville. Everett Good had two assists and four different Dragons scored a goal over Warrior Run. Six different players scored in the win over Hughesville. Is another state title in their sights?

Mifflinburg (3-13-2) lost 4-0 to Williamsport and 5-0 to Juniata. Rugged Central Columbia roughed them up 10-1. Grove (8-7) is hanging around and should qualify for district play. They lost 10-1 to #1 in districts Central Columbia and 2-1 to Williamsport with Danny Kratzer scoring the lone goal.

Mifflinburg field hockey coach Emily Stauffer got married last weekend. Coach Emily´s honeymoon consists of seven games over ten days. That first game was a 2-1 OT win over Central Columbia as Kenley Flickinger scored the winning OT goal after Jillian Hoy scored in regulation.

Lewisburg (7-4-1) handled Southern Columbia 5-0 with Anna Lutz scoring three goals and Abby Madden had two assists. They lost 8-0 to district 3 power Greenwood.

Selinsgrove (7-7) sisters Nora and Emma Moyer were the combo that beat Shik 1-0 in a game that wasn't as close as the score says. Nora assisted Emma on a goal midway through the first quarter. Zane Furgison and Walter Heath won the annual pink-relay for breast cancer awareness. The money was raised for Selinsgrove Elementary teacher Lauren Hoover amid her battle. Early detection is very important.

Midd-West (12-3) had a big win over their county rivals to the east. Midd-West beat Selinsgrove 2-1 as Maesyn Franquet scored the game winner with just under three minutes to play. Sabrina Fegley´s goal got the Mustangs the lead only to have Lexi Stoneburg tie it up at one before Franquet´s heroics. Midd-West also beat Benton 7-0.

The Lewisburg boys picked up four wins in a multi-team meet with Mt. Carmel, Central Mountain, Central Columbia and Midd-West. Hugh Ikeda finished third and Tyler Confer fourth for Lewisburg. Midd-West picked up two wins over Mt. Carmel and Central Mountain. Grant Boop finished second and Lyncoln Hoffman sixth overall for Midd-West.

The Lewisburg girls also swept the meet with Kaelyn Bozella finishing 19 seconds ahead of her second place teammate Ella Beal. Midd-West got three wins with Ashlyn Hoffman finishing in third place.

Lewisburg freshman Bryce Bussom qualified for states in the individual class 2A golf tourney by finishing second at the D4 championship. Midd-West junior Brady Gunkle took 2nd place in the 3A district tourney and will also be playing in the three day state finals at Penn State.

I continue to waffle on what is going on with this year's Penn State football team. Northwestern has a really good team, USC has really great athletes, Wisconsin still perplexes me. I thought the transfers from Iowa State weren't good enough for Big 10 play. The Big 12 has better players than the Sun Belt conference. UCLA coach Bob Chesney is not having an issue winning with his transfers from James Madison.

I´m not putting all the blame on Matt Campbell who basically fell into Penn State's lap after AD Pat Kraft botched the entire hiring process. I told many last October and wrote it in this article that Chesney was the way to go. Campbell was a distant second when they pried him away from Iowa State.

I still think Campbell can turn this thing around but it won't be quick. Penn State also has to figure out if they want to be one of the big boys in the Big 10, not to mention nationally. I know Penn State fans don´t want to hear this, but Penn State football is losing traction in the B1G and maybe even more importantly, nationally. It all comes back to Pat Kraft and that´s the scary part.

Basketball schools are going to lose that distinction if their football teams keep winning. I think Indiana already has. Kentucky is 5-1 and ranked 15th after upsetting LSU. Chesney's UCLA team is now ranked 12th after being 21st last week before upsetting Oregon.

Oregon head coach Dan Lanning will never win a national title until he starts respecting the team he is playing. Lanning is a master tactician when it comes to coaching football. He purposely had a defender walk into the neutral zone to give UCLA a first down as the game clock was winding down.

It was second and two yards to go for UCLA. The announcers were incredulous but Lanning is always thinking one step ahead of others. He knew the Bruins would gain two yards in two plays and run the clock out with another four plays. He decided he would rather give them three plays to try and gain ten yards and a first down. He was right and the Ducks got the ball back but couldn´t score with their third-string QB.

The respect part came in the first quarter after Oregon took a 6-3 lead on their first TD. Lanning elected to go for two and didn´t make it. Going for two after your first TD is both cocky and a slap at your opponent. Take the point and move on.

You are afforded more creativity when coaching football as opposed to baseball. In baseball, the flow of the game dictates your decision making. Football is more reactionary as your offense calls a play based on down and distance. The defense changes based on offensive formation and personnel.

These reactions are what separates the great and average coaches. Lack of common sense automatically makes you a bad coach. Case in point, the Philadelphia Eagles and Washington Commanders last weekend.

The Eagles had a one point lead after kicking a field goal with only eight seconds left. Jacksonville had no timeouts left. Common sense tells you to kick the ball through the endzone for a touchback. Instead, the Eagles squib-kick and the ball was fielded at the ten yard line and returned 52 yards with one second on the clock. Jags kicker Cam Little made the 57 yard field goal with ease and the Eagles lost.

The Commanders are tied in overtime with the New York Giants and in field goal range. They are out of timeouts but have plenty of time for two short plays and to spike the ball to stop the clock. They ran one play in forty seconds for a minimal gain and never even lined up for the 42 yard field goal attempt. Of course both coaches fell on their swords but they both should lose their jobs for lack of football sense.

Did you know that all four NFC east conference teams lost last week and two played each other.

The Price Sisters Bring Bluegrass to the Weis Center Stage

The Weis Center will welcome The Price Sisters on Thursday, October 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Weis Center Concert Hall. There will be a free pre-performance artist talk from 6:45-7:15 p.m. in the Atrium. The performance is sponsored, in part, by The News Item.

Music has always had a resounding presence in the lives of twin sisters Leanna Price and Lauren Price Napier. Growing up, their parents sang traditional and old-time country songs and as the sisters grew up hearing duet harmony, they naturally became accustomed to singing together themselves.

In the spring of 2016, Leanna and Lauren signed to Rebel Records and released an EP that August, thus pursuing to tour professionally as The Price Sisters. The Price Sisters have since performed at numerous venues and festivals across the United States as well as in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and Canada. The Sisters released their first full-length album for Rebel Records, "A Heart Never Knows," in the spring of 2018 and in 2019 hired their first full-time touring band.

The Price Sisters have garnered significant press through outlets such as No Depression, Paste Magazine, For Folk's Sake, The Bluegrass Situation, and WSM's The Eddie Stubbs Show. The Price Sisters band collectively has been nominated for the International Bluegrass Music Association's (IBMA) Momentum Band of the Year (2024 & 2019) while Lauren has received nominations for Momentum Vocalist and Instrumentalist of the Year (2019 and 2020, respectively) and Leanna for Momentum Vocalist (2020.)

Presently, The Price Sisters have signed to the Del McCoury Band's family record label, McCoury Music, and released their first album for the label titled "Between the Lines" and produced by Ronnie McCoury, in 2024. Following the release of "Between the Lines," The Price Sisters Band made their debut on the world-revered Grand Ole Opry stage.

No Depression Magazine said, "Twin sisters Lauren and Leanna Price are poised to become the torchbearers for bluegrass music as it enters its eighth decade. While their playing is strongly rooted in the classic style of Bill Monroe, their smooth, polished sibling harmonies infuse the music with a fresh, contemporary appeal."

While Lauren and Leanna front the band and are recognized for their twin-sister harmony singing, the girls are supported by band members who are each accomplished musicians in their own right. The band is made up of young multi-instrumentalists and vocalists who showcase traditional, yet fresh and innovative sounds. Banjo player Trevor Holder was awarded first prize on the banjo at the prestigious Old Fiddlers' Convention in Galax, VA. Bobby Osborne Jr. on bass is no stranger to bluegrass and country music, having started his musical career touring with his father, the late Bobby Osborne of the Osborne Brothers. Conner Vlietstra is not only a talented guitarist and vocalist, but has soloed on the Grand Ole Opry, is an award-winner on several instruments, and is well-versed in material stemming from pre-bluegrass and country music catalogs.

Tickets are $30 for adults, $24 for seniors 62+ and subscribers, $20 for youth 18 and under, $20 for Bucknell employees and retirees (limit 2), free for Bucknell students (limit 1) and $20 for non-Bucknell students (limit 2). Tickets can be reserved by calling 570-577-1000 or online at Bucknell.edu/BoxOffice.

There is a special online-only promotion for sisters to attend the show together. Use Promo Code SISTERS (all caps) when you checkout at Bucknell.edu/BoxOffice for Buy One, Get One tickets.

Tickets are also available in person from several locations including the Weis Center lobby (weekdays 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.) and the CAP Center Box Office, located on the ground floor of the Elaine Langone Center (weekdays 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.).

Culver to Host Virtual Data Center Update

Sen. Lynda Schlegel Culver (R-27) will host a virtual informational session with Penn State Extension on Monday, Oct. 26, from 6–7 p.m. to provide residents with updated information on data center technologies, trends and best practices.

The session will feature Penn State Extension and focus on recent developments in the rapidly changing data center industry, including emerging technologies and information that can assist communities with planning and decision-making.

"Data centers continue to be an important topic of conversation in communities across our region, and the information surrounding them continues to evolve," Culver said. "My goal with these events is to give residents an opportunity to hear directly from knowledgeable experts and have access to current, fact-based information as these conversations continue."

The event builds on previous informational sessions hosted by Culver this year addressing data center development and water demand associated with data centers. Earlier events featured Penn State Extension and the Susquehanna River Basin Commission.

The Oct. 26 session will be available through Zoom and livestreamed on Culver's Facebook page. Participants who would like to submit questions must join through Zoom. Registration is required to receive the Zoom access link.

Residents can register at:

Weis Center Presents Free World Music & Dance Performance

The Weis Center will present "Ori: An Exploration of Brazilian Dance and Music" on Sunday, October 25 at 2 p.m. in the Weis Center Concert Hall. The performance is free and tickets are not required. There will be a pre-performance artist talk with Jaruam Xavier from 1:15-1:45 p.m. in the Atrium facilitated by Professor Matias Vernengo.

Assistant Professor of Theatre & Dance at Bucknell University Jaruam Xavier will present a concert dance work that combines the lively rhythms of samba and the fluid agility of capoeira with contemporary dance. Through grounded footwork, circular movements and shared momentum, it celebrates Brazilian heritage by reimagining traditional elements on a modern stage. The piece will feature live guitar music. The performance is co-sponsored by Bucknell's Griot Institute for the Study of Black Lives & Cultures.

The runtime for Ori is 70 minutes with a 5-minute technical intermission. The performance order is as follows: Live Music – 25 minutes, 5-minute intermission, Dance – 45 minutes.

Jaruam Xavier said, "The experience is deeply embedded in my memories and body, serving as a performance that aims to evoke sacredness and spirituality. Its goal is to elevate consciousness and articulate the sacred language of the present moment."

Xavier's journey began with his grandfather's love of tap-dance movies. Xavier started dancing at 10, decided as a teenager that he wanted to become a professional dancer and received his first professional contract at 18. His career later took him through several dance companies in Brazil and performances around the world before he came to the United States for graduate school and joined Bucknell's faculty in 2024.

Ori carries pieces of that history onto the stage. The work began while Xavier was a graduate student at the University of Iowa as a short solo inspired in part by his experiences with Candomblé, an Afro-Brazilian religious tradition that had been part of his own life. He continued returning to the piece, allowing each performance to reshape what it could become. Over time, Ori grew into a larger exploration of Brazilian dance and music. Xavier draws from samba and capoeira alongside contemporary movement, but he is not interested in presenting those forms as separate categories.

After decades of dancing, the different forms have become part of his muscle memory. A movement from capoeira may meet something from ballet or contemporary dance without a clear line dividing one from the other. Xavier is more interested in what happens at the point where they begin to overlap. That blending reflects the Brazil he wants audiences to encounter as well. "We are not only one thing," Xavier said. "We are very mixed."

Brazilian culture has been shaped by Indigenous peoples alongside African and European traditions, and Ori allows those histories to exist together onstage. Some of the movement also carries a history of resistance. Xavier points to capoeira as one example of a tradition that survives because generations of people continued to practice and preserve it.

The performance on Sunday, October 25th is free and tickets are not required.

Irvin Graybill Jr.: Country Lawyer and Backwoods Bard

By Larry Bachman

Fallen, will be missed, certainly not forgotten; I heard the news much too late about Irvin's passing, but it is then my fault for not staying in closer communication. Irvin was and still is in my heart and mind as one of the greatest influences of my life. He gave me hope where I believed there was none. Irvin was the epitome of; instead of handing a man a fish, teach him how to fish. Irvin delegated responsibility to allow creativity, and we collectively ran with our decisions; hopefully for the benefit of all.

Graduating high in his class at Harvard University he could have gone on to be and do most anything he chose. He chose Snyder County; creating there an office where the common man could be held in higher regard. There was nothing false about this man, nothing pretentious, nothing high and mighty. Archetypically Irvin might be considered a Lincoln, Darrow or a possible Bryan, a throwback to a different century; to a gentler time of higher moral standards, better business ethics, honest politicians - if there be such a thing - a world in less of a rat race.

Slow of pace he may have been, marching to a different tune and tempo, drove people a little crazy; he often quoted, "The wheels of justice grind slow, but very fine." That said, he may have appeared a little disheveled, a little unkempt, his mind however was always a click ahead.

Irvin was a business partner, a mentor and I am proud to say he was my friend.

Affable, quick to smile, Irvin enjoyed honest wit and good conversation. I remember spending time in the ambiance of his office; the smell of his smoking pipe, the cup of coffee sitting upon the cup warmer on his desk and Irvin seated, surrounded by an array of law books.It seemed that he always had time to talk. But there was of course the sign directly behind him that read, "Time and Conversation is a Lawyer's Stock in Trade", hopefully I've got that correct.

Looking back, recalling what Irvin cherished most about his newspaper 'The Middleburg Post'; it was the reporting of country life which made up Snyder County. Its weekly news kept not only those who lived there informed, but also those who moved away in touch with their roots. Yes, it was the 'Chicken Soup' variety of news as 'The Dailies' call it that Irvin considered a time-honored stewardship and privilege to report. There was of course Irvin's; 'From the Publisher's Desk' which he doted over and hoped to include all in a book of memoirs one day. These are but a few of my fond memories. I will cherish them.

In speaking with another who had been an intern and worked for Attorney Graybill; Ron Fahnestock, he said of Irvin:"His influence on me was great, as it was on his town and his county. Irvin gave us the opportunity to learn how to do so many of the things that we have used to shape our lives. He was kind, generous, scholarly, argumentative, opinionated, self-indulgent, brilliant, compassionate, provincial, humorous and devoted. He became my image of the American backwoods lawyer. Statues have been erected for far lesser men."

I mentioned that Irvin and I had a connection and that was 'The Post' newspaper. I worked for Irvin in the mid 70's selling advertising. And later in the mid-80's returned home looking for work and that journey brought me back to 'The Post'. Together our efforts proved to be fruitful as the age of the desktop computer changed the dynamics of publishing. After returning from the PA. Newspaper Publisher's Convention, I brought news that I witnessed the future of publishing. Irvin agreed with the assessment.

Several weeks later I brought the system to the office for a demonstration. As I set it up, computer, software and printer; office staff gathered around. Mixed emotions were stated. One employee dubbed it, "The CONTRAPTION". Ed the linotype operator went to grab his hat and coat said, "I see my future and I'm outta here!" I said, "Hold on now. Don't abandon ship just yet. We need everybody here to make this work." Barbara the secretary and proofreader stated, "I guess my job is over too." Quickly I showed Barbara, "Look we still need you doing what you do best and that is proofing. It does not know the difference between sea and see."

Rhonda the Compugraphic typesetter blurted out, "This is something else . . . ssooo cool. I love it!" Vicki the layout designer said, "We can print, proof and design a quarter page at a time!" Irvin just smiled as I went through the show and tell.

At one point, a few months later, after doing several countywide distributions, a newspaper for every household, Irvin asked, "Do you want to buy the newspaper?"

"The Post", became the best thing that ever happened to me. It gave me a foundation from which to build at a time when I was looking for purpose. Finally, I had a directionto follow.

Irvin told me, "You are single, no distractions, and all the time in the world to dedicate to this business. I believe you will be successful. Oh, one last thing. I want to have space to write my 'Publishers Desk'. We agreed on that, and a price, and the rest worked itself out. He added, "I am doing this to the chagrin of many people, but I have my reasons."

The good Lord places people in our path that at that moment in time, we may not grasp the full intent. It was not until after I wrote the obituary, until after spending all that time with the man and seeing him for the last time at my father's funeral that it hit me like a freight train. Suddenly 'the reason', clear as blue sky and early morning daylight connected me with a story which my father told me.

During World War I, Irvin's father Irvin Graybill Sr. fought in the 'Great War' in which he was gassed. He had chemical burns and a serious lung condition. He was brought home and his family was told that he had not long to live. Irvin Sr. was determined and stayed alive. The lung condition remained and he suffered year after year. On November 14, 1923, Irvin Sr. and his wife Sara gave birth to Irvin Jr. The malady concerning the effects of the 'Great War' continued for Irvin Sr.

It is not known exactly when my father and my Uncle 'Hunk' as he was called, entered the picture. They knew Irvin Sr. and it was probably because he was a hunting buddy of theirs is my guess. They decided to take him to a cabin on Jacks Mountain in Snyder County. They would visit him on a regular basis. Bringing him food, they took him for walks in the fresh mountain air and soon, little by little, the physical effects of the war began to clear away. The war, though not forgotten.

Irvin Sr. began to regain his health. In other words, because of the efforts of my father and my uncle, my dear friend Irvin Jr. made an accounting, paid forward what he believed to be a debt endeared by respect and founded upon the duty of human kindness.

It may now sound more like a confession, perhaps asking forgiveness for not putting together 2 + 2 = 4 until this late date. Irvin gave me a new lease on life. Here I sit today still using what he taught me and his belief that this black sheep had some wool. And yes sir, yes sir . . . Through the Lord's blessing, through prayer and faith in duty; the kindness has been fulfilled.

We all need to make accounting of our blessings. Take note as to who, what and where people were placed in our path. Knowing or unknowingly there is purpose that surrounds us.The Lord wastes no life. All are precious to Him.

In time, another owner came along to move this local newspaper into the future. Sue Weaver had a vision as to what it could become and has done a magnificent job to combine "The Post", "The Selinsgrove Times", and advance the publication to include Union County as well. The seeds once planted by a kind and thoughtful man continue to grow and prosper.

Larry Bachman is no stranger to Snyder County country life. He was born and raised in Kissimmee. After chasing after dreams, leaving childhood roots behind, Larry returned to Middleburg and had the good fortune to become the publisher of the county's weekly newspaper.

Currently, he resides in Texas where he pursues writing and the country life he shares with his wife Claudia. Larry is a product of life's many twists and turns and uses those experiencesto write his books. He can be reached at larrybachman.org.

John George Overmire (1727-1805)

By Kay Poeth

The public is invited to attend the Dedication of a DAR historical marker for Patriot John George Overmire (1727-1805) on Saturday, October 24 at 10:30 am at the New Berlin Cemetery. This dedication is hosted by Shikelimo& William P. Duvall Chapters, NSDAR, American Legion Post 957, New Berlin Heritage Association, and New Berlin Cemetery.

"The William P. Duvall Chapter, located in Winter Park, FL, has been working on this for 2 years, primarily with Valerie Bieber of the Shikelimo DAR Chapter," said Andrea Stine.

John George Overmire (1727-1805) was born in Germany in 1727 and came to Pennsylvania in 1751.He married twice, first settling in Paxton, now Harrisburg, Pennsylvania with his first wife, an indentured servant whose passage had been paid by a large landowner. After her death he remarried and had 11 more children, bringing the total to 14. Two of his sons, as well as his wife are recognized as Revolutionary War patriots by the DAR.

Sometime during his second marriage the family moved to Buffalo Valley, Pennsylvania which was located on the edge of the frontier. His home was strongly built with heavy square hewed logs and often served as a fort for his family and neighbors. As one of its first settlers he suffered all the hardships of blazing a trail, but in addition the Indians proved to be a constant threat. Many of his neighbors were killed.

He headed a company of volunteers during the French and Indian War, leading them in battle and pursuit of the enemy, and at other times marching in the ranks and doing battle under other officers.

During the Revolutionary War beginning in December of 1776, he served as Captain of the 6th Company assigned to the 4th Battalion of Northumberland County, Pennsylvania under the leadership of Colonel Philip Cole defending the region from both British and Indian forces.

After the surrender of Cornwallis, October 19, 1781, some of the soldiers in the field were permitted to return to their homes on the frontier, to protect the settlers against the Indians, as most of the effective men had joined the army against the British soldiers. General Washington couldn't spare any troops at that time and he ordered Overmier along with four other officers to return to their homes to protect the settlers.

In early 1782, the Indian outrages commenced resulting in the death of three of the five officers who had returned. The wife of Overmier was known to attend the wounded soldiers and in the case of the death of two of the sergeants, prepared their bodies for burial near their homestead.

In time the home was actually replaced with a fort named after Captain John George Overmyer, patriot of member Mary Helmers.

The spelling of John George Overmier is also noted as Overmeir, Obermyer, Obermeyer, and Obermayer.

The dedication of the historical marker for Patriot John George Overmier will be held on October 24 at 10:30 am at New Berlin Cemetery.

Andrew Snook Refurbished BSFC 1926 Fire Hose Reel Cart for Eagle Scout Project

By Kay Poeth and Roger Snook

Members of the Beaver Springs Fire Company present Andrew Snook a citation noting his attention to detail, the research involved, and his efforts to honor the history of the Beaver Springs Fire Company when refurbishing this iconic piece of apparatus.

Roger Snook, Jr. congratulates his son, Andrew R. Snook, for completing the restoration of the Beaver Springs Fire Company's 1926 original hand pulled fire hose reel cart in time for their 100th Anniversary Celebration.

Elected officials admire the work Andrew completed for his Eagle Scout Project. Pictured here are Snyder County Commissioner Adam Ewig, Snyder County Commissioner Chuck Steininger, Eagle Scout Andrew R. Snook, Sen. Lynda Schlegel Culver, and Rep. David Rowe.

Congratulations to Andrew R. Snook of McClure Troop 408 who refurbished the Beaver Springs Fire Company's 1926 original hand pulled fire hose reel cart for their 100th Anniversary Celebration for his Eagle Scout Project.

This opportunity came from an enthusiastic suggestion from John Kauffman, a long-time member and Treasurer of the Beaver Springs Fire Department. Several people went out in the heavy rain to see the cart in a dark corner of a storage shed. Although it was covered with dirt, dust, cobwebs, and peeling paint, Andrew's eyes lit up and anybody could see it on his face that he was excited to make this his project. Andrew's appreciation of history and commitment to community service made his project a highlight of his journey to Eagle Scout.

When the fire hose reel cart was taken from storage, it was a mere shadow of its former self. Someone in the fire company was going to throw it out 30 years ago but it was saved. After cleaning off the grit, several boys from Troop 408 began to scrape the loose paint and sand it in preparation for painting. This part took the longest.

Then a ghost from the past, in the form of a CD, was loaned to Andrew by Assistant Scoutmaster Norm Rigel. The man who donated the cart to the newly formed Volunteer Fire Department, Ira Smith, could be heard talking on an audio recording done many years ago during an interview between an elderly Ira, and young teenagers Norm Rigel, and Andrew's relative Clay Henry, when they were working on their God and Country Award for Scouts. It was interesting to hear the voice of the man responsible for bringing the cart to town and two people, who Andrew knows today, who have been inspirational and helpful in his Boy Scout journey. This made the project more personal than before.

The scope of the project continued to expand as it was being restored. Through research into the 1926 fire hose reel cart, Andrew and his father, Roger, discovered more repairs and additions were needed to bring it back to its former glory. "Every step along the way, we wanted to make it as original as possible," said Andrew.

The wheels were loose from the 100-year-old wood spokes being dry and worn. Andrew decided to take the wheels to Vicksburg Buggy Shop where he discovered the wheels originally had black striping. The shop sent the wheels to a Lancaster area shop to tighten the wheels with specialized equipment, but the wheels were found to be too large to fit into their machine. This required them to be tightened the old-fashioned way by numbering the holes and spokes, disassembling the wheels, and reassembling the pieces after being reworked. Under the thick, red paint, it was found that the wheel hubs and hardware on the toolbox were actually brass. The paint was stripped off and the brass was polished until it looked shiny and new. After the wheels were returned and the boys finished painting them, Roger free hand painted the stripes after getting tips from Dan Rigel, a Beaver Springs painter. Dan also donated paint and supplies for the project. Zeiset Equipment donated hardware that needed to be replaced.

The original fire hose nozzle was found in the firehouse. It was in poor condition but was brought back to life with the help of Todd Wrensch, at Carm's Auto Repair, polishing the brass and Roger Snook re-wrapping the main body with red cordage. It is held on the cart by black leather straps crafted and donated by Chad Kister, a co-worker of Roger. Boop's Welding Shop recreated the rope reel after examining photos of various rope reels on hose carts from that period. Andy Bobb found a fireman's axe that had to be refurbished and made replacement boards for the hose to be wrapped on.

Andrew was surprised at the 100th Anniversary Celebration when he discovered a brass tribute plate affixed to the side of the toolbox. It reads: "Among the first firefighting apparatus of the Beaver Springs Volunteer Fire Company this hose cart was restored by Andrew Snook as his Eagle Scout project. It was rededicated on 29, August 2026 during the company's 100th Anniversary Celebration."

"Congratulations to Andrew Snook for obtaining his Eagle Scout! We send a sincere thank you for your project of refinishing our antique hose cart," said Erik Markley, Fire Chief of Beaver Spring Fire Company. The fire company is appreciative of his attention to detail, the research involved, and his efforts to honor the history of the Beaver Springs Fire Company when refurbishing this iconic piece of apparatus. Andrew was presented a certificate from the fire company to thank him for his dedication and efforts to preserve a piece of local history.

Andrew R. Snook of McClure Boy Scout Troop 408 was awarded the rank of Eagle Scout on August 22, 2026, during an Eagle Scout Court of Honor held at St. Pius X Church in Selinsgrove.

Susquehanna Valley Chorale Performs Spooky Spectacular

The Susquehanna Valley Chorale (SVC) will kick-off its new season with "Spooky Spectacular" on Sunday, October 25 at 3 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church in Sunbury under the direction of new Conductor and Music Director Caleb Hopkins.

The presentation will feature frightfully entertaining works from Bach, Mendelssohn and Mozart: think eerie, but also playful. The performance is family-friendly, so this would be an ideal time to introduce the SVC to children or grandchildren.

The concert will feature four soloists from the Chorale and the women of the SVC will also be featured in one piece.The SVC will be accompanied by a full orchestra, who will showcase a piece of their own, and an organ solo by Jonathan Moser, Director of Music at Zion Lutheran Church.

The following works will be performed: Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D minor, Mäntyjärvi'sDouble, Double, Toil and Trouble, Grieg's In the Hall of the Mountain King from Peer Gynt, Mendelssohn's Hexenlied, Mozart's Lacrimosa from Requiem and Mendelssohn's Die erste Walpurgisnacht.

Dr. Hopkins says, "I am excited to bring this ambitious and varied program to our audience in October. Pieces both familiar and rarely performed are sure to bring spooky thrills to listeners of all ages."

Guests are welcome to come in costume, adults and kids alike, and are invited to join members of the Chorale for a reception downstairs following the performance.

Adult tickets are $25 and student tickets are $10. Youth under the age of 12 are always free. Tickets are available on SVC's website, SVCmusic.org, by calling 570-547-0455 or at the door.
