Selinsgrove Area Meals On Wheels Receives a Donation of News Coolers

Selinsgrove Area Meals on Wheels (SAMOW) wishes to thank Chris Kenawell, State Farm Insurance Agent for the gift of 8 coolers to be used in the daily delivery of a "hot meal and a smile" to SAMOW clients. Selinsgrove Area Meals on Wheels has been in existence since the mid-1980's serving folks who might be unable to shop or cook meals for themselves or not be able to easily leave their home due to illness, injury, fragility, or disability. Services are provided within the geographical area of the Selinsgrove Area School District. Community support, like that of Chris Kenawell, State Farm Insurance Agent enables the organization and it's volunteer drivers to continue serving and delivering over 2000 meals annually.

Bridge Replacement Project Begins on Salem Road in Penn Township

Drivers are advised that a bridge replacement project is set to begin on Salem Road (Route 1011) in Penn Township, Snyder County. This bridge replacement, originally scheduled to begin in July 2026, was rescheduled due to extended coordination with multiple utility companies. Monday, September 14, Salem Road will be closed daily between Fair Oak Road (Route 1002) and Ridgeview Road while a Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT) bridge crew replaces the bridge over a tributary to Penns Creek. A detour using Fair Oak Road, Hollow Road, North Hills Drive, and Jackson Road will be in place through early November.

Work on this bridge replacement project being performed by PennDOT department forces will include existing bridge removal and site prep. A contractor, Robert C. Young, Inc., will place a precast box culvert in Mid-October. PennDOT crews will complete backfilling, approach work, paving, and line painting to complete the project. The bridge, which was built in 1941, has an average daily traffic of 478.

Bridge Replacement Project Continues at Intersection of Routes 522 and 235 in Spring Township

Vehicle restrictions lifted on Routes 522 and 235.

A bridge replacement project continues on two bridges at the intersection of Routes 522 and 235 in Spring Township, Snyder County. The bridges carry each roadway over tributaries to Beaver Creek in Spring Township. Traffic Impacts: The restriction on vehicles in excess of 30-foot-long has been lifted on Route 235. The 12-foot width restriction on Route 522 has been lifted. Work will continue through the fall and includes paving, line painting, guide rail installation, seeding, and mulching. Drivers should anticipate single-lane conditions with flagging during daylight hours. Motorists are reminded to stay alert, reduce speed, expect travel delays, and use caution when navigating the work zone. Glenn O. Hawbaker, Inc. is the prime contractor for this $4.8 million bridge replacement project. Work on the project includes removal of the existing bridges and replacement with new concrete box culverts and adding a U-channel between the bridges. Work on the project is anticipated to be completed in November 2026, weather permitting.

Trinity United Methodist Church Welcomes Pastor Becky Cuddeback

By Kay Poeth

Trinity United Methodist Church in Middleburg is thrilled to welcome Pastor Becky Cuddeback to lead its ministries and worship services. The congregation is looking forward to this new partnership and is encouraged by her inspirational messages from the pulpit as well as her sense of humor."

"My personal ministry's philosophy is connecting people through relationships with God and with each other so we can be in community together with God."

Located on Main Street in Middleburg, Trinity United Methodist Church and congregation are a tremendous asset to ministry in Snyder County. The members have generous hearts and a desire to share God's love with the community. They have an energy and willingness to serve God.

At Trinity United Methodist Church, Pastor Becky has noticed the congregation's commitment and devotion to each other to each other. They meet in small groups and focus on mission works every month. Currently, the Operation Christmas Child Shoebox project is underway. Twice each month they offer a food distribution to those in need. It is a hands-on mission with members working shoulder-to-shoulder on various aspects of the food panty- unloading trucks, organizing inventory, set up and distribution. There are even volunteers who are not members of the church but see the need in the community and are called to respond.

Churches have the space in their building and the congregation specializes in hospitality. "Space is also what we have to offer out into the community," noted Pastor Becky. The Big Brother/Big Sister program will soon begin to host Family Nights at the church at the church as well as other health and wellness events and time to be together. Another partnership will be with Aunt Abby's Shoe Mission and collect new shoes for those in need.

"I have a heart for community and a passion for people to know Jesus," said Pastor Becky. She wants people to feel welcome. By building relationships, people won't feel so alone.

She wants to create small steps with "the ultimate goal of offering ourselves and Jesus to the community." By building a relationship with the congregation and deepening their relationship to each other and with God, together they can extend that relationship out into the community.

"I am looking forward to seeing mission and ministry unfold between the community and the congregation.

Cuddeback most recently served Lightstreet United Methodist Church in Bloomsburg and previously was the pastor at Jersey Shore First UMC and Calvary UMC in Lawrenceville. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in English at Bloomsburg University. She worked in multiple fields before accepting her call to ministry by attending seminary at Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C. She served as a certified lay speaker/minister until becoming a local licensed pastor in 2013.

Pastor Becky also serves as pastoral leader at Mifflinburg United Methodist Church in Middleburg. In addition to Sunday work, she is in the office from 10 am- noon on Wednesdays and Fridays with flexibility to respond to the needs of both congregations.

"I am passionate about people and their relationship with Jesus, both inside and outside of the church. I feel privileged to be part of people's discipleship journey," Pastor Becky said.

If you are looking for a church home, Pastor Becky invites you to visit Trinity United Methodist on Sunday mornings for Worship at 9:00 am and Sunday School at 10:00 am. Call the church office at 570-837-7661 and follow them on Facebook.

PORT ROYAL GOT ALL THREE DAYS OF THE TUSCARORA 50 WEEKEND IN THE BOOKS

Port Royal hit a home run with the three-day High Limit sprint car series national open with good car counts and great crowds all three nights. Thursday night, the 50 car field, with Ryan Timms scoring the feature win over Justin Peck, Aaron Reutzel, Rico Abreu and Doug Hammaker the first car across for the PA Posse. The PASS 305 sprints were running the tracks final point race of the season with Kenny Heffner leading, and with his 12th place finish it was enough for the Watsontown PA drivers to clinch the title. He did it by 130 over Mike Melair, with Cole Dewease, Tyler Schell and Chris Dolan in the top five. Heffner won one feature the opening day race back on April 4th. Chris Dolan won the non-stop 20-lap feature for his second of the year, over Tyler Erdley so of former 410-sprint car driver Mike Erdley, Cole Dewease, Bradon Varner and Jarett Cavalet. Friday night the field drew to 57 drivers, with Freddie Rahmer, Michael Walter again in the Thompson #11and Steve Buckwlater whose night ended early in a heat one flip. Chase Dietz had it all together for the feature but did have a couple of tense moments with Ryan Smith closing the gap at different times during the feature. Chase went on to score his 20th feature win of the season and first with the High Limit series. Ryan Smith held on for second, with Gio Scelzi, Daison Pursley and Justin Whittall in the top five. James McFadden is in the Macri 39M filing in for the injured Anthony Macri, did not have a very good first two nights flipping in the feature on Thursday and again a flip in the Dash race on Friday. Ryan Timms, who won the Thursday show, was tenth on Friday and was involved in the McFadden accident in the Dash. Timms is the defending Tuscarora 50 winner from the 2025 event. In the feature, Logan Wagner got into an accident with Brian Brown knocking him out of the race. In the spot he was running in and if he had finished in that spot which was 12th, he would have won the track championship for the 410-sprints. Ryan Smith driving the Kreitz #69K with his second-place finish won the points title his first ever at Port by 45-points over Logan Wagner, Lance Dewease, Justin Whitall the 2025 champion and Doug Hammaker were in the top five in points.

There was also some drama with the limited late models on Friday night in the final point race for them with DJ Myers leading Jaxton Garman by five points . In the heat race, Garman was involved in a four-car accident, with the crew using the rest of the night to get his car ready for the feature. It all looked to be good for Myers in the feature, but then disaster struck DJ when the driveshaft broke on the third lap of the feature knocking him out of the race. Garman went on the place sixth in the feature and won the championship by 20 points over DJ Myers. Gunner Walls won the 20-lap feature his first win at Port this season and his fifth overall feature win this season at four different speedways. Andrew Yoder was second, with Eric Irvin, Matt Murphey and Maddox Smith in the top five. Saturday was the final night of the Tuscarora 50-weekend with the winner of the feature collecting $59,000 for the win. All of these races were in conjunction with the running of the 172nd annual Juniata County Fair. James McFadden made up for the two bad nights by winning the feature and all the honors that goes with for beginning the Tuscarora 50 champion. Tanner Holmes was second with Brent Marks, Troy Wagaman and Rico Abreu in the top five. The final stats from Port had eleven different feature winners in the 410-sprint with Chase Dietz with three wins, then came Danny Dietrich and Ryan Smith and Doug Hammaker with two wins, followed by Jake Karklin, Brock Zearfoss, Brent Marks, Gio Schelzi, Kody Hartlaub, Ryan Timms and James McFadden. In 305-sprints Chris Dolan with two wins along with Tyler Erdley for two, Kenny Heffner with one, along with Jeff Weaver, Josh Spicer. Limited late models had Todd Snook with three wins, Jaxton Garman two with single wins going to Ryan Zook, Kyle Lee, Andrew Yoder and Gunner Walls one each. Super late models and Trevor Feathers with two wins and the track championship, single wins for Max Blair Gregg Satterlee, Drake Troutman, Ricky Thornton Jr, Jonathan Davenport , and Mason Zeigler.

410-sprint action this weekend will have a regular show at Williams Grove on Friday night along with the 358 sprints in action. BAPS Motor Speedway will be in action on Saturday along with the track's super sportsman racing. Sunday at Path Valley will have the sprints for the second time this year, both the BAPS and Path Valley races are part of the PA Pose point events. The series points has Chase Dietz leading the way with 1146 followed by Danny Dietrich-1093, Troy Wagaman Jr 1083, Justin Whittall 970 and Lance Dewease fifth at 862. Other drivers in the top ten are Ryan Smith, Cameron Smith, Freddie Rahmer, TJ Stutts and Logan Rumsey. There have been at least 115 drivers that have run in one race in the series this year.

Sunday night at Hagerstown after raining out on Saturday they ran the Nathan Durboraw Memorial for the super late models paying the winner of the 41-lap feature $5,200 plus other awards. The late model sportsman and crate late models were also in action. The 41-lap feature for the super was one number race when he drove the Doug Bland #41 racecar. The 24 late features for the late model sportsman were for Raye Vest another car owner Nathan drove for. Mason Zeigler leads all 41-laps in winning the non-stop super late model feature over Jason Covert, Matt Cosner, Kyle Hardy and Andrew Yoder who set second fastest time behind only Mason Zeigler. Gregg Satterlee was seventh in the feature, after making the long drive back home after his racing night was over at Eldora in the running of the world 100 Saturday night. Gregg and his crew chef Bobby Allen switched out cars from the Rocket chassis they raced at Eldora to a car Gregg Allen and another partner built. Trevor Collins from Seaford Del did the same thing coming from Eldora to race Sunday night at Hagerstown speedway. Shannon Slaughter so far this year drove a 602-carte sportsman Modified at Grandview speedway, a 358-sprint at Lincoln speedway, a Limited late model at Clinton County speedway and Sunday was her first try in the super late model class. Shannon got a bit too high in time trials and hit the second turn fence ending her night of racing. Keith Walls decided he did not want to drive in two divisions on Sunday, so he drove his limited late model number 9 and left the Crate late model number 462 for former racer Tommy Cordall to drive. Tommy who is the part time announcer at Path Valley speedway and has his own digital show Elbows Up that you can watch on Facebook and YouTube. Brian Booze won the late model sportsman feature his first of the year over his teammate Levi Crowl a two-time winner at the speedway, with Kyle Lee, Austin Lathroum and Kyle Lear in the top five. Another teammate to winner Booze was ninth place finisher Ray Kable III. Jacob Whitt won the Crate late model feature over Brady Neff, Clinton Hersh, Ronnie Martin Jr and Jacob Burdette.

This weekend the super late models will have two races under the ULMS series banner, Friday night at Outlaw speedway in Dundee New York with the winner getting $11,080 for the feature win. Saturday they will race at Selinsgrove for $10,000 to win, the limited late models and street stocks will be part of the program with the street stocks racing in the L'L Bob special. It will be the final race for all three divisions with Gregg Satterlee already having clinched the super late model title.

Corvettes, Classics, and Community at This Year's Wheels in the Grove

Downtown Selinsgrove transformed into an automotive showcase featuring high-gloss paint, roaring engines, and pristine chrome topped off with lots of muscle for this year's annual Wheels in the Grove car show, hosted by the Selinsgrove Rotary Club. It was a car lover's dream, and enthusiasts and local admirers from the community gathered to celebrate decades of motor history on display by impassioned owners who treat their vehicles as a true labor of love.

Early in the evening, organizers and emergency services demonstrated quick coordination when an older pickup truck began leaking oil and fuel on the road shortly after arriving. The DH&L Fire Company's Hazmat Team responded swiftly to clean and contain the spill, allowing the show to continue safely without disruption. Special thanks go to the local DH&L Traffic Unit for managing traffic and ensuring a safe environment for pedestrians and car owners throughout the night.

Among the classic highlights on display was a striking deep green 1974 Corvette Stingray brought in by Dale Gantt of McAllisterville. Featuring the iconic long hood and sweeping body lines of the C3 generation, Garnett's Stingray turned heads all evening as it was an absolute stunner.

The next beauty I encountered is owned by Ruth and Michael Wiest, of Selinsgrove, who showcased their breathtaking crimson red 1966 Dodge Charger, a garage-kept vehicle that represents a true labor of love. This classic muscle car was purchased in 2009, and the Wiests invested many years and lots of money into a complete restoration which included the motor, interior, and exterior—and even acquired a 1967 model strictly for spare parts to perfect the build.

Since receiving the fully restored vehicle back into their garage in December 2023, Michael keeps it covered and cleans it religiously every single time it goes out. His hard work continues to pay off as they have taken numerous first place and top ten finishes at car shows. This morning, he spent approximately four hours detailing their Charger. With between 60,000 and 70,000 miles on the speedometer, Michael notes his Mopar still delivers fast speed with a nice growl that really lightens up when you hammer the throttle.

Bridging classic muscle with modern engineering, Janet Bilger, of Mifflinburg, returned to her staple annual event with a custom-ordered 2022 Chevy Corvette Stingray. Her vehicle sports a rare Caffeine Metallic finish—a unique brownish-red shade that shifts dramatically in the sunlight. Because the high-performance car sits so low to the ground,it also has high-tech features, one of which raises up the vehicle for larger curbs and bumps in the road all saved by GPS coordinates, and it remembers it for future drives. I thought that was an impressive feature. Bilger maintains its flawless finish with extraordinary care. She cleans the vehicle at least twice a month, using only specialized spray with distilled water to wipe it down so she never has to get the bodywork fully wet. She encouraged me to sit in it, which I happily did. It felt like you were getting into the cockpit of a fighter jet rather than a corvette. The seat gripped you just like a racecar would, and the controls came around your right side through the area where you would usually have your center console. It was amazing and definitely felt next world.

Car ownership is a shared passion in the Bilger household. Her husband, Mike Bilger of Mifflinburg, showcased his 1967 Chevy Corvette fitted with a powerful 1969 big block engine. Like Janet's Stingray, Mike keeps his vehicle garage-covered, requiring 30 to 45 minutes of careful prep after uncovering it for a show.

Beyond cruising at least twice a month, the couple loves traveling to regional car shows, with a special place in their hearts for events supporting veterans and children's hospitals. Next up on their schedule includes Nick Carter's custom show at the Selinsgrove VFW.

Adding an out-of-this-world look to the lineup, Richard and Connie Perry of South Williamsport arrived with a striking 2026 Chevy Corvette finished in Roswell Green. The vibrant, alien-like green paint—enhanced by an after-market ceramic coating and custom alien decals—drew continuous crowds of admirers throughout the event. While the Perrys frequently travel to major events at Watkins Glen, their distinctive C8 was easily one of the main highlights on Selinsgrove's streets. They also spoke about how much they loved this event, loved Selinsgrove, and admired the unique architecture of many of our downtown buildings.

Injecting a retro mid-century beach flair into the show was Whitney Anderson of Selinsgrove, who displayed a classic 1957 Pontiac Super Chief wagon complete with a surfboard mounted on the roof and a traditional hula girl dancing on the dashboard.

Around 7:00 P.M., dark clouds rolled over downtown, bringing a sudden downpour that sent spectators seeking shelter, and several owners of the 176 registered vehicles chose to pack up early to protect their delicate undercarriages and paint finishes from the rain and subsequent road spray.

I decided to stay where I was, standing in line for a delicious Back 2 Basics Burger, while the rain came down. Then, I sought shelter in the doorway of the First National Bank along with numerous others until the skies cleared. No worries, though. It gave me a dinner break before continuing down Market Street.

Terry and Kitty Hummel, of New Columbia, brought a custom iris poplar 1940 Ford Coupe featuring a hand-painted bulldog and cat on the rear with "What's New Pussycat?" in honor of Kitty's name emblazoned on the back. The Hummels purchased the shell in the late 1980s and had it road-ready by 1992, completing it with smooth door-handle-free bodywork operated by remote control. Terry also brought his all-black 1934 Chevy extended-cab pickup. The couple attends monthly cruises strictly for the love of the hobby and social connections rather than trophies.

Dan Aleta, of Selinsgrove, brought his classic 1957 Chevy Bel Air, purchased in 1998 and driven weekly throughout the summer season. Passionate owners, including Aleta, were seen carefully squeegeeing down their classics as the skies cleared after 30 minutes of steady rain. I asked him if it hurt to have it rain like that on his baby. He replied, "It hurts that it got rained on, but it will hurt even more so driving it home with the road spray getting on it."

For Corvette fans like me, this event was nothing short of paradise, featuring rare and stunning paint colors rarely seen on local roads,body styles of yesteryear and today, and the beauties on display at the show spanned decades which meant that no matter which style was your favorite, you could find it at this show.

Despite this year's rain interruption and a minor fender bender between show cars, it remained one of my favorite nights in Selinsgrove. A huge thank you goes out to all the participants of the show for bringing out their custom classics for the whole community and myself to see and admire. I am always impressed by the passion, hard work, and efforts of the owners of these awesome vehicles. I already cannot wait until next year's event!

A River Rat's Ramblings: August 1957

By Jim Charles; Vol. 6, Story 9

Its mid-August and I'm wondering, "Where did the summer go?" We were so busy digging coal, playing baseball or crick chase, swimming, fishing or trading comic books on Earl Hollenbach's back porch. There were no new kids on our block, just Tim and I, Earl and John Kinney. Today, Earl lives in the house he was raised in, John built a house on 2nd Street on land that was his family's strawberry patch. Brother Tim built a house where Wayne Gemberling lived on North Front Steet and I became the rebel and moved to South Front Street on the island.

It's said that parents are to give their children roots and wings. For the four of us, we had very short flights off the Isle of Que. Our roots are so deep they've grown into the bedrock under the island.

Next week The Selinsgrove Times will publish the room assignments for the Pine Street School. I hate to think that it's time to go back to school again. Brother Tim will be in fourth grade, John in fifth grade and Earl and I will be in sixth grade.

When Tim and I came in for lunch, mom informed us that instead of going to the playground this afternoon, Tim and I were to spend the afternoon cleaning our back porch of a summer's worth of rare and fine collectibles that the river and fields had provided.

When we were done with lunch, Tim and I went out, stood in our yard and surveyed the situation...where to start? We agreed we would start putting it back in an orderly manner. There was a metal cabinet that we left on the porch that had a multitude of items in, some lived there for years. There was an empty ash tub so we emptied the cabinet into the tub and cleaned the shelves in the cabinet. The tub was full of treasures, Indian artifacts, fishing items we had found in the river, two propellers from outboard motors, toys we found in the river and an assortment of stuff we didn't want to throw away and didn't know just what to do with it. The cabinet became our time capsule.We got most of our stuff put back on the porch in an orderly manner, except a wheel barrow, full of stuff we should save but not on the porch. Our ace in the hole was our two story, two bay barn that held such stuff and mom never came to the barn.

That was over 60 years ago. My nephew, Shane, now owns the barn and I'm sure some of the treasures Tim and I put there still remain.

I´m not saying the fourth week in the high school season is the most critical game of the year, but for three of our schools it's clearly an important game. Win and you're at 2 and 2 with momentum, lose you're 1 and 3 and your season is approaching the cliff. All four of our schools have 1 and 2 records and this week's football games are very important.

Midd-West lost to undefeated Warrior Run 42-7 last week. Mustang QB Witten Carter is finding his groove in the pocket as he hooked up with Konnor Kullman and D'Angelo Drumheller for 13 receptions covering 200 yards and one TD for a 64.8 QB rating. These connections will have to continue as once-beaten Loyalsock comes to town Friday night.

Mifflinburg gave up 31 unanswered points after leading 14-7 after the first quarter, in losing 38-14 to Bloomsburg. The Panthers well-balanced offensive attack of 199 yards on the ground and 191 through the air was too much for the Wildcats to defend. Cat´s coach Cody Botts said ¨we didn't catch the ball, we must have had 15 drops and 20 plus missed tackles. If we don´t change the little things, games will get out of hand in a hurry.¨

Coach Botts is right as Bloom has a good team - the #5 ranked PHAC team - but #10 Mifflinburg should have kept the game closer. The Wildcats should be able to build some of that momentum as they visit Hughesville this Friday.

Hughesville scored their first points of the year in losing to Lewisburg and Jaylen Walker 38-17 last week. Walker is the best receiver in the area as he scored four TDs on five catches for 219 yards. Walker also found paydirt on a 61 yard punt return. Dragon´s QB Jett Jamieson threw for 266 yards in his first varsity start and had a QB rating of 108.9.

Lewisburg is the one team that can afford to lose this weekend and still salvage a decent year and make the playoffs. They play host to perennial power Southern Columbia this week but have a very manageable schedule the rest of the year.

Overmatched Selinsgrove lost 49-7 to Jersey Shore. The Seals hung with the 3rd ranked PHAC team trailing just 14-7 with a little more than two minutes left in the first half. Shore scored 14 points in those fateful two minutes to take a 28-7 lead to the locker room at halftime.

Jersey Shore shut down The Grove after intermission and scored 21 points in the second half for the comfortable win. Selinsgrove will host winless Central Mountain this Friday to try to get back to a .500 record.

Just a heads up … I can´t get the results and stats from every game in all the high school sports. I try to get game results but it is up to the coaches to report details of their game. Also, in soccer and field hockey, I will sometimes report how many points a player got in a game. If an individual scores a goal it's two points and an assist is one point, you add these together for the players individual stats.

Miff field hockey beat Lewisburg 4-1 with goals from Maize Sauder, Kira Shoemaker, Kenley Flickinger and Avery Reibsome. The Cats had no problem with Warrior Run in a 10-0 shutout and a defense that didn't give up any shots on goal. Shoemaker had three goals to get to 100 career points and Flickinger had six points. The only senior on this team, Brooke Gessner had two assists.

Lewisburg field hockey had a good week in getting two shutouts with a 6-0 win over Southern Columbia and a 2-0 win over Shik. Zoie Harer and Chloe Kerr had the goals in the Shik win.

Grove hockey lost 2-1 in an OT thriller to Line Mountain where Nora Moyer had the lone Seal goal. Two days later the competition got even better with Greenwood winning 4-0 and Grove only had one shot on goal. Midd-West (4-2) also lost to Line Mountain 2-0 but had two big shutout wins over Danville 9-0 and Southern 7-0. Sabrina Fegley had six points and Veyda Trego five in the Danville game.

Lewisburg girls tennis lost 4-1 to Central Columbia despite Daysii Weis winning 6-2,6-3 at No 1 singles. The Dragons slayed Danville 5-0 with Weis and Lylah Shuey both winning their singles matches. Selinsgrove lost 5-0 to undefeated Danville.

The Miff girl netters continue to look for their first team win. Alice Grill is playing very well as she came up just short against Hughesville No 1 single Talia Saka losing a 7-5 super tie-breaker. Earlier in the week Grill won both of her matches in team losses to Montgomery and Central Columbia.

Girls on the pitch saw Selinsgrove beat Jersey Shore 6-1 as Addison Wenzel had two goals and assisted on two others. Wenzel continued her strong play with two more goals in a 3-0 shutout of Mifflinburg. The Mustang girls are 3-0-1 after beating Williamsport 3-1 and Jersey Shore 4-0. Ava Aitkins had a goal and assist in both games and Emery Peters had two goals in the Shore win.

The Dragon boys soccer team had a nice week in beating Shamokin 11-1 and a really good State College team 2-0. Daedrian Campbell, Eli Abunasser and Dylan Vogel all had five points in the Shamokin win. Lincoln Ayres and Everett Good had the goals against State College.

The Midd-West boys beat Danville 12-0 with Evan Devine, Derek Keister and Abe Sellers stuffing the stat sheet with 9,6 and 5 total points respectively. In one of the most anticipated matches of the year the undefeated Mustangs traveled to Lewisburg to take on the once-beaten Green Dragons. Midd-West got on the board first with a Gabe Romig goal. Lewisburg took over in the second half as Mason Pawling, Dylan Vogel and Keegan Crosby all scored in the 3-1 Lewisburg victory.

Selinsgrove girls cross country dominated their quad meet with Mifflinburg, Midd-West and Milton by placing five of the top eight runners. Lake Dent, Isabel Clark and Ashtyn Lukens finished 1,2 and 3. Midd-West won two in the quad led by Ashlyn Hoffman.

Lewisburg cross country hosted Williamsport, Shamokin and Hughesville in a quad match loaded with quality runners. The boys team earned a win over Shamokin 20-42 and the girls got wins over Shamokin 15-43 and Hughesville 27-32 to move their record to 5-1.

Grove golf beat Central Mountain 178-184 as all five Seal golfers shot under 50 at Susquehanna Valley country club and were led by Grahm Davis' 40. Mifflinburg beat Milton 181-207 with the Cats duo of Calen Loss carding a 42 and Davis Martin's 43 were the low scorers.

Last week I gave a quick prediction on how some NFL teams will do this year. Please don´t suffer from over-reaction after just one game and think your team is going to the Super Bowl or will have the first pick in next year's draft. It's a long season and there are going to be highs and lows for every team.

What did I take away after the first weekend of NFL games? You never take points off the scoreboard unless you were given a first down. This is the first year in eighteen that all three New York teams won their first game in the same year. If you´re playing a football game in Australia, arrive at least three days before kickoff. The older I get, the less ´expert analysis' the better. How many fans really know what cover 2 vs cover 3 is, or the difference between 12 and 13 personnel?

My biggest surprise of NFL Sunday was when Mrs. Bolt told me she really liked how Tom Brady was explaining things during the Eagles game. You have to understand that Mrs. Bolt grew up in Columbus,OH and detests anything related to Michigan. In the 27 years and 28 days I have known her she has never said a good thing about Michigan, let alone Tom Brady.

I also didn´t understand the scheduling of the US Open finals competing directly against a full slate of college football and the NFL. Move them to a Friday or Monday. Also, the best and most hyped match of Ben Shelton and Carlos Alcaraz in the quarter-finals didn't start until after 11pm and wasn't over until after 3:30am!

While I´m on the topic of sports on TV, what has happened to ESPN's College GameDay? The show has become more about their on-air personalities than football substance. I realize they have three hours to fill when it used to be two but no matter the length of the show, no more politicians on stage.

I don´t care who the party affiliation is or even if it's the president… NO politicians. You know when Congress approves the Protect College Sports Act, Trump will be on the GameDay stage promoting the bill. This will happen the Saturday before the mid-term elections in November.

Enough about TV and politics. Unlike the NFL, college football teams have played more than one game and there are some early trends I´ve observed. Is Oregon´s Dan Lenning a good coach? I would be concerned if I was a fan of the Ducks. Oregon lost to Oklahoma State last weekend 39-31 and were 25 point favorites for many reasons.

OK State has a new coach and ninety-one new players, and were on a 21 game losing streak to FBS teams. They lost to Tulsa the week before. They lost to Oregon 69-3 last year! This is why we watch college football despite all the off-field noise.

The score was much closer than it should have been because Oregon was given two interceptions that led to 14 points. The Hokies came within six yards of doubling Oregon's total yards gained. Though Oregon had to come from behind to beat Boise State the week before, no one expected this.

Lanning lost both of his coordinators from last year due to the recent success Oregon has had. O-coordinator Will Stein took the head coaching job at Kentucky and D-coordinator Tosh Lupoi took the top job at Cal. It's looking early on this season that Lanning leaned on both of them heavily in years past. It will be interesting to see how Oregon fares when the schedule gets a bit more difficult.

New Kentucky coach Will Stein reminds me a lot of Indiana coach Curt Cignetti in that he has a bold confidence, an aggressive roster implementation and is changing a program´s culture. I´m not saying last year's Indiana story will ever happen again, but keep an eye on this fellow basketball school becoming a football school.

Enjoy Lane Kiffin´s return to Ole Miss this weekend and some baseball while we still have it. Questions and complaints will be answered at theviewfromhear74@gmail.com

Lemonade Stand Profits Donated to Journey to Justice

By Kay Poeth

Malena, Alorah, and Lianna Fiedler set up a lemonade stand with the profits benefiting Journey to Justice. They had an elaborate set up with information sheets, a handmade menu, snacks and even fresh flowers on the table.

Lynn Fiedler founded Journey to Justice, a 501(c)(3) non-profit based in Selinsgrove, in memory of her mother, Alice Longenberger, who endured horrific elder abuse while living in a Union County personal care facility. Journey to Justice's mission is to protect older adults through advocacy, education, and awareness.

Lynn's young granddaughters Malena, Alorah, and Lianna Fiedler, daughters of Brandon and Carrie Fiedler of Lewisburg, are acutely aware of the reason Journey to Justice exists. The girls also know how much Journey to Justice helps people. They have learned and believe that older Pennsylvanians deserve to live with dignity, safety and respect, and everyone has a role in helping protect those who may be vulnerable.

According to Lynn, "They've been bugging their mom to let them do a lemonade stand. They finally did it. It was quite the stand I must say! Freshly squeezed lemonade, snacks, etc…" Lynn and her husband, Nevin. were invited to visit the lemonade stand. They were stunned by the whole operation. Of course, they each bought a refreshing glass of lemonade and made a donation… and then found out the grand surprise!

Here's the twist. The parents agreed to the lemonade stand with one stipulation- all profits needed to be donated to any place that helps the community.

Guess which organization the siblings chose? Journey to Justice!

The girls earned $258.12 in 3 afternoons!

"When they started, their dad said he'd match what they made, thinking they'd make $50 or so! When the neighbors heard what the Fiedler girls were doing and the cause, people really donated, and kept coming back every day…all ages!" exclaimed Lynn. Their dad kept his promise and matched their earnings. "A promise is a promise!"chuckled Lynn.

The grand total in donations was $516.24! They presented a check to Kim Rigel, treasurer of Journey to Journey on August 23.

"This is a heartwarming story showing empathy, great parenting, and the wonderful community support neighborhoods provide. We, at Journey to Justice, think it's just awesome. Thank you to these girls, parents, and your wonderful neighbors, in Lewisburg!" said Lynn gratefully.

PUC Moves to Address Data Center Impacts on Electric Reliability and Consumer Costs

Commission directs development of updated emergency load control rules and notices a Technical Conference on cost allocation

HARRISBURG – As rapid data center development adds significant new demand to the regional electric grid, the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission (PUC) today took steps to examine Pennsylvania's emergency load control procedures and the allocation of costs associated with large computational loads.

By a vote of 5-0, the Commission approved a motion by Vice Chair Kimberly Barrow directing PUC staff to develop proposed updates to Pennsylvania's emergency electric load control regulations, including greater clarity regarding the order, criteria and circumstances under which customers may be curtailed during pre-emergency and emergency conditions.

"The combination of rapid load growth and tightening resource adequacy conditions requires us to carefully examine whether our existing regulatory framework is sufficient for the challenges ahead," Vice Chair Barrow said. "We need clear and consistent procedures for managing load during pre-emergency and emergency conditions, while also examining how costs associated with large new loads should be allocated. These are complex issues, but they are issues we need to address now to support reliability and protect customers."

The motion also directs the Commission to hold a technical conference this fall examining cost responsibility associated with large computational loads, including data centers.

Addressing Emerging Reliability Challenges

The Commission's action comes amid growing concern about the balance between rapidly increasing electricity demand and the resources available to serve that demand across the PJM Interconnection.

PJM's July 2026 capacity auction identified a system-wide reliability shortfall of 6,831 megawatts for the 2028-29 delivery year. PJM has also proposed new mechanisms – including Reliability Backstop Procurement and Interim Resource Adequacy Service – intended to address resource adequacy as large new loads seek to connect to the electric grid.

Pennsylvania's existing regulations provide a basic framework for electric utilities to manage load during pre-emergency and emergency conditions. The Commission will now examine potential updates to provide greater and more consistent direction concerning the order, criteria and applicability of curtailment.

The PUC's Law Bureau and Bureau of Technical Utility Services have been directed to prepare a Tentative Order outlining proposed changes for Commission consideration at its Oct. 1, 2026, public meeting. If approved, the proposal would be released for public comment, with a final order targeted for Commission consideration at its Jan. 28, 2027, public meeting.

Examining Cost Responsibility

Separately, the PUC will convene a technical conference this fall focused on cost allocation associated with large computational loads.

The conference will provide an opportunity for utilities, consumer advocates, large-load customers and other stakeholders to examine how costs associated with large new loads are identified and allocated, including potential impacts on customers who are not contributing to that new demand.

The Commission's actions follow Gov. Josh Shapiro's Aug. 18 Executive Order encouraging the PUC to examine data center curtailment procedures and measures addressing the allocation of data center-related costs.

State-of-the-Art Cancer Center Builds on a Strong Foundation of Care

Geisinger officials, employees and community partners gathered Thursday, Aug. 6, 2026, to celebrate the opening of the new Geisinger Cancer Center Lewisburg with a ribbon-cutting ceremony. The new state-of-the-art center will expand cancer services and increase appointment availability and is an investment in keeping vital cancer services local in the Lewisburg area.

As the population ages and cancer diagnoses continue to rise, the need for comprehensive cancer care is growing. Over the next five years, the number of patients requiring chemotherapy treatments in the region is expected to rise by nearly 8%, making expanded access to these services crucial. The new Geisinger Cancer Center Lewisburg is designed to meet that growing demand by increasing treatment capacity, enhancing access to specialized services and keeping advanced cancer care local.

"This new facility is an investment in our patients, our families and the health of our community," said Alex Zimmerman, chief administrative officer of Geisinger's central region. "As demand for cancer care continues to grow, we're committed to making sure everyone can find the services they need without having to travel. By expanding cancer services in Lewisburg, we're helping more patients get comprehensive, high-quality care and support in a welcoming environment near the people and places they love."

The 20,000-square-foot cancer center will expand care options and clinical space while building on services already available in Lewisburg. The cancer center will feature 12 exam rooms, 15 infusion stations, external beam radiation and treatment planning. Its outpatient clinic will offer medical oncology, hematology, radiation oncology and Geisinger's first palliative care clinic in Union County.

"Cancer care is continually evolving, and our responsibility is to evolve with it," said Rajiv Panikkar, M.D., chair of the Geisinger Cancer Institute. "This new center strengthens our ability to provide leading-edge, comprehensive care in a setting designed around the patient. By expanding services in Lewisburg, we're giving more patients access to the expertise, treatments and support they need throughout every stage of their cancer journey, all under one roof."

The opening of the facility reinforces Geisinger's promise to offer the best-quality care to everyone it serves and allows for the seamless transition of care when a patient needs more advanced services at nearby Geisinger Medical Center in Danville.

"When Abigail Geisinger envisioned a hospital that would serve her community, her request was 'Make my hospital right; make it the best,'" said Terry Gilliland, M.D., president and CEO of Geisinger. "The expansion of services with the new Geisinger Cancer Center Lewisburg reflects that enduring promise. By growing our services and capacity, we're strengthening access to comprehensive cancer care in the region and helping more patients receive the high-quality treatment and support they need, closer to home."

Geisinger Cancer Center Lewisburg is at 4531 West Branch Highway in East Buffalo Township.To learn more about cancer care in Union County, visit geisinger.org/cancerinstitute.

SUN Tech Electrical-Mechanical Technology Class Visits Hummel Power Station

On Wednesday, September 2, the Electrical-Mechanical Technology program from SUN Area Technical Institute visited the Hummel Power Station in Shamokin Dam. The students were given an educational tour explaining electrical power generation. During the tour, the students learned about the operation of natural gas and steam turbines. The class learned about the efficiency of the units and the process the team goes through to keep them running around the clock. The students had the chance to see important parts of their operation, including how they filter the water from the river, carefully taking out minerals that could be harmful to the equipment. Most importantly, they showed the students how to work safely at a facility like Hummel Station. The Electrical-Mechanical Technology class of 2027 is very grateful to have been given such an excellent tour by their staff. - Written by class secretary, Andrew Moll.

The Mid Susquehanna Valley Kennel Club and the Bald Eagle Kennel Club provided three AKC Dog Shows that were Paws-itively Fantastic. On August 21-23, 2026, the Kennel Clubs celebrated their Shade Mountain Cluster-All Breeds Dog Show at the Fireman's Fairgrounds in Middleburg.

Campers, RV, vans, and gated pet areas dotted the grounds of Charles Park and the carnival grounds for the 3-day dog show. It's a small and beautiful show site accented by the lake with lots of shady spots to park. The vendors, stewards, and judges are always friendly. The Dog Park was open to the public and the exhibitors.

This was the third year that the Mid Susquehanna Valley Kennel Club and the Bald Eagle Kennel Club collaborated and offered three shows for competitors-one each day. It was a beautiful weekend with only an evening shower on Saturday.Services and equipment were provided by Rau Dog Shows LTD.

Kate Murray of Hanover was grooming "B", an Irish Terrier,that was shown later on Sunday by her sister, Chrystal Murray.

Brianna Richard, also of Hanover, was also busily grooming her West Highland White Terrier, "Nora" for the afternoon show ring.

Kim Michael was showing "Mia" out of White Eagles Kennel this weekend. "Mia finished on Friday so that means she is Champion now. She received 4 points toward becoming a Grand Champion on Saturday." She was waiting to show on Sunday.

On Friday, the show was hosted by the Bald Eagle Kennel Club. There were 364 dogs entered for the show with a total entry of 366 in 119 different breeds or varieties. Dogs were being shown in five separate rings with each ring being judged by a different judge. Judges hailed from New Jersey, Florida, New York and Pennsylvania. Places were awarded for 7 different groups: Herding, Working, Sporting, Non-Sporting, Hound, Toy and Terrier culminating in Best of Show. There were also 20 puppies registered for the Puppy Beginner Class for young dogs, 4-6 months old.

Earning Best in Show on Friday was theSiberian Husky, Grand Champion- Crystal Fountain Tanqueray at Snobear, owned by Megan & Tim Terella and Hiroyo Shimizu from Edinboro, PA. Friday's Reserve Best in Show was the Norfolk Terrier, Grand Champion Yarrow Venerie Rambling Man, owned by Zoila Truesdale, Daphne Eggert, Stephanie Ingram and Yarrow/Venerie Kennel from Bowmansville, PA.

On Saturday, there were452 dogs entered for the show with a total entry of 458 in127 different breeds or varieties. Dogs were being shown in five separate rings with each ring being judged by a different judge, hailing fromFlorida, New York, Maryland and Pennsylvania. The fun continued on Sunday for this 3-day Dog Show event as dog owners, breeders, handlers, judges, and dog lovers competed in the All-Breed Dog Show. There were 429 dogs entered on Sunday with a total entry of 434 featuring 125 different breeds.

Rep. David Rowe Announces Over $1.8 Million in LSA Grants for 85th District

State Rep. David H. Rowe (R-Snyder/Union/Mifflin/Juniata) announced more than $1.8 million in Local Share Account (LSA) grants to upgrade essential infrastructure, strengthen emergency services, and modernize aging equipment across the 85th District. Partnering with Sen. Lynda Schlegel-Culver (R-27), Rowe supported the grants to help municipalities reduce long-term maintenance costs, improve operational efficiency, and better serve residents.

"I'm proud to have advocated for these grants, which will help our local governments save money while strengthening essential services," said Rowe. "By replacing outdated equipment, upgrading critical infrastructure, and investing in safer, more efficient facilities, these projects will reduce repair costs, improve reliability, and ease long-term budget pressures. These investments ensure our communities can operate more effectively while being responsible stewards of taxpayer dollars."

Rowe emphasized that LSA grants are funded through state gaming revenue, not taxpayer dollars, and expressed gratitude for the support received.

"These grants will help local communities move forward with important projects while reducing the financial burden on municipal budgets and taxpayers," Culver said. "I appreciate the work our local officials and community organizations put into identifying these needs, and I'm thankful for the opportunity to work with our House colleagues to support investments that will make a difference for the people we serve."

Approved Projects Include:

- Center Township, $400,000 to renovate and expand the Penns Creek Volunteer Fire Company facility.
- Chapman Township, $200,000 to purchase a new tractor with a side mount mower.
- McClure Municipal Authority, $175,000 to replace aging control systems and critical piping.
- Middleburg Municipal Authority, $147,988 to purchase a skid steer and heavy duty pickup truck.
- Penn Township, $178,750 to replace a deteriorating loader with a modern Caterpillar 920 Wheel Loader.
- Perry Township, $299,625 to purchase a fully equipped ambulance.
- West Beaver Township, $345,400 to construct a new three bay salt shed.
- West Perry Township, $71,000 to replace an unreliable road grader with a skid loader.

The funding for these projects was approved by the Commonwealth Financing Authority (CFA). This is an independent agency that holds fiduciary responsibility over the funding of programs and investments in Pennsylvania's economic growth.

Beaver Springs Fire Company 100th Anniversary Honors Service to the Community

By Kay Poeth

Emily Moyer, Barb Geedey, and Cathy Reichenbach were the last active members of the Beaver Springs Ladies Auxiliary.

Senior retired firefighters Larry Freed, James Krebs, Richard Shirey Jr., and Russell Bachman were recognized during the ceremonies.

Andrew Snook and members of McClure Troop 408 pose by the fire company's original hand-pulled hose cart restored by Andrew for his Eagle Scout project.

The Beaver Springs Fire Company's 100th Anniversary festivities stepped back in time to honor their beginning. Held in the Community Park, area residents gathered together for a community-styled picnic. 400 complimentary hot dogs and chips were served, food trucks dotted the perimeter, Christ Church sold out of pulled pork sandwiches, and Beaver Springs Senior Center served sticky buns and lemonade.Children played on park equipment, hopped on the barrel train, explored the fire trucks, and enjoyed the bounce houses. The fire company held an assortment of raffles,sold merchandize marking this milestone, and recruited new members. People listened to the band, Modern Outlaws, and tunes from A.W. Entertainment. The evening concluded with a spectacular fireworks display.

The Beaver Springs Fire Company was recognized by Senator Lynda Schlegel Culver, Rep. David Rowe, and Snyder County Commissioners Adam Ewig and Chuck Steininger. They also admired the original hand-pulled hose cart restored by Andrew Snook of McClure Troop 408, munched on hot dogs, and visited with constituents.

"Celebrating 100 years of service is an incredible milestone, and I was honored to present Beaver Springs Fire Company with a Senate citation recognizing their anniversary. For generations, their members have answered the call and served their neighbors when they were needed most. I'm grateful for their commitment to the Beaver Springs community and proud to help recognize a century of service," stated Sen. Culver.

The fire company acknowledged Andrew Snook for his hose cart restoration efforts and Brandon Benefield-for constructing the Fallen Firefighters Park in 2007, located near the station. Larry Freed, James Krebs, Richard Shirey, Sr. and Russell Bachman were recognized as senior retired members.

"Beaver Springs Fire Company's 100th Anniversary celebration was a testament to the remarkable dedication of the Beaver Springs Fire Company! It was an honor to help commemorate their remarkable legacy and continued commitment to our community. The Beaver Springs Fire Company has responded to crisis for 100 years and I am fully confident that they will continue to provide outstanding service for many years to come!" said Rep. David Rowe.

Visitors visited the historical tent with memorabilia over the years. Many rang theoriginal fire bell taken from a 1930 Buffalo fire engine owned by the company.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Beaver Springs Fire Company was organized in the summer of 1927 with the mission to help support the fire company financially to obtain new equipment and maintain current equipment. It disbanded a few years ago as membership declined. The last active members, Emily Moyer, Barbara Geedey, and Cathy Reichenbach, sat together chatting during the festivities.

100th Anniversary is still available for purchase. Stop by the station or email: admin@beaverspringsfire.com.

"Happy 100th anniversary to the Beaver Springs Fire Company! Reaching such a remarkable milestone speaks volumes to the deep-seated dedication, courage, and tradition of our local volunteers, who provide an invaluable service of neighbor helping neighbor" noted Snyder Commissioner Adam Ewig. "Here's to the next 100 years!"
