Midd-West Football Team's Lift-A-Thon Raises Funds for Mustang Kids

This summer during the football team's annual camp, they held a Lift-A-Thon to both strengthen their bodies and to give back to the school community. A win-win for both!

According to Coach Jeffrey Janovich, "A big focus for us this offseason was strength training to prepare ourselves for the upcoming season and we decided to cap it off with an internal competition. We focused on 3 specific lifts- Squat, Bench Press and Deadlift."

Approximately 29players participated in the Lift-A-Thon competition. We "raised money for a great cause within our community. The district gave our athletic programs great facilities to use, so we saw it fitting to try and give right back with the Mustang Kids program."

The Midd-West Football Team made a donation of $631 to Midd-West Education Association's Mustang Kids Program!

Mustang Kids is program that assists Midd-West students who are in need. The money donated will assist with things such as the backpack program, glasses, dental work, basic hygiene products, and other requests. The goal of this program is to provide basic needs that can affect the student's ability to be successful in the classroom. Teachers, staff, and school nurses make referrals to the Mustang Kids Committee.

"Mustang Kids and The Midd-West Education Association truly appreciates the continued support of the student athletes and coaches of the MW Football Team. This Donation will go a long way in supporting programs, such as our Backpack Program and other basic needs of the students." said Beth Keister, MWEA Co-President and Mustang Kids Committee Member.

The Golden Spray

On Wednesday, August 19, 2026, Dauntless Hook and Ladder Fire Company joined the Selinsgrove Youth Football Players at East Snyder Park after a hot night of conditioning on the field. They didn't go head-to-head in football, but the firefighters brought lots of fun for the football players and cheerleaders! Tower 80, Tanker 80, and Rescue 80 caused lots of excitement. However, the best part was when Tower 80 unleashed water upon the football players and cheerleaders from above, leaving what appeared to look like a golden spray against the beautiful sunset.

The crew on scene included Chief Jason Kline and Chief Jason Kauffman, Firefighters Brenna Kline, Nate Strunk, Mason Bielski, Zach Fedorchik, Corey Zerbe, and Jr Firefighter Jeremy Strunk.This fun night full of memories was organized by the Selinsgrove Area Youth Football program. It wouldn't have been a complete night without the tasty treat from Twist N Splits ice cream truck owned and operated by Chris and Brittany Aurand. The Aurand's are just a call away at 570-765-8067 to set up your next ice cream event. You won't be disappointed.

PA Department of Health Confirms Two Measles-Associated Deaths

The deaths mark the first losses related to the highly contagious virus in Pennsylvania in 35 years.
Getting vaccinated is the best protection against measles, providing 97% lifetime protection after two doses.

The Pennsylvania Department of Health (DOH) confirmed two measles-associated deaths in Pennsylvania on August 25. Both individuals were unvaccinated. These mark the first deaths related to measles within the Commonwealth in 35 years. The best protection against measles is getting fully vaccinated. The MMR vaccine, administered over two doses, boosts a person's immune system and provides 97% lifetime protection.

"My deepest sympathies are with the loved ones who are facing this unimaginable loss," said Secretary of Health Dr. Debra Bogen. "Because measles was largely eliminated in the Commonwealth for more than three decades, people are not familiar with this disease and don't fully understand the potential severity of the illness. We want to ensure every Pennsylvanian has the information they need to protect themselves, their loved ones and their communities. As a physician, I want to make sure that people understand that the MMR vaccine is safe and provides the best protection we have against measles."

DOH confirmed both individuals were unvaccinated residents of Lancaster County. To protect the privacy of the individuals and their families, DOH will not release any additional details that could personally identify these individuals and their families. Protecting Pennsylvanian's privacy is a core responsibility of DOH. DOH has confirmed 393 cases in 29 counties thus far in 2026.

Measles is a highly contagious virus that can cause serious short- and long-term health problems, including pneumonia and brain swelling, with nearly 20% of people who contract measles being hospitalized. Death related to measles, though rare, occurs in one to three patients per 1,000 cases.

Measles spreads when a person who is infected breathes, coughs, or sneezes. The virus remains infectious in the air and on surfaces for up to two hours after the person with infection leaves the area.

Early symptoms of measles include fever, cough, runny nose, and red, watery eyes (conjunctivitis). The measles rash follows a few days later, starting on the head and spreading downward. Because early symptoms look similar to other respiratory viral infections, it is important to contact a health care provider early if someone has these symptoms or may have been exposed to measles. Symptoms can start 7 to 21 days after exposure. Without proper protection or supportive care, measles can be deadly.

People who believe they were exposed to measles, and are experiencing symptoms, should contact their health care provider or call the Department's toll-free hotline at 877-PA-HEALTH (877-724-3258).

Beaver Springs Senior Center Treated to Impromptu Concert

By Kay Poeth

The Backpedal Band recently performed a surprise concert for the members of the Beaver Springs Senior Center playing a variety of music.

Janelle Werner of the USAAA presented a short informative notice about the upcoming Medicare enrollment period that runs from October 15- December 7.

Recently, the Beaver Springs Senior Center members were treated to an impromptu acoustic performance the Backpedal Band. Comprised of Joe Cashmere and Paul T, these musicians are choosing to share their talents with people in nursing homes and senior centers across the area. They performed a variety of music including spirituals, patriotic tunes, classic country ballads and rock 'n roll. They gear their show to their audience.

"God gave us talent and now we are "giving back" by sharing that talent with others," said Cashmere.

Janelle Werner, PA MEDI Coordinator for Union-Snyder Area Agency on Aging, spoke briefly to members about Medicare and the upcoming annual enrollment period. From October 15th to December 7th, Medicare beneficiaries can join, switch or drop a Medicare Advantage or drug plan, or switch to Original Medicare. As a reminder, Medicare doesn't call anyone; they send important information through the mail. For more information, or to schedule a new to Medicare or open enrollment appointment, call 570-524-2100.

DANNY DIETRICH FINALLY HAS A SOLID WEEKEND CLINTON COUNTY CROWNS ONE CHAMPION

Since a March 21st win at Port Royal and July 10th win at Clinton County, Danny's season has been pretty slow and not living up to his standards that he set for himself for the 410-sprint driver out of Gettysburg Pa. That all changed last weekend as Danny drove to a $8,000 win Friday night at Williams Grove in the 44th annual Jack Gunn Memorial race and then on Saturday night made a late race pass for the lead for the win at Port Royal. It was on the living legends night, so he collected $20,000 for his second win of the season at Port. Friday, Dietrich started in the eighth spot in the feature, slowly working his way towards the front. After a restart with five laps to go, Danny made an outside pass of the nation's winningest driver, Chase Dietz, to score his first Grove win of the season. It was the fourth time in his career he had won the Gunn Memorial at Williams Grove, and his second in a row. Dietz held on for second with Logan Rumsey, Cameron Smith and Freddie Rahmer in the top five. Saturday at Port Royal Danny again had to battle Chase Dietz for the top spot at different times during the race. In the end, he would pick up the 30-lap feature win, while Ryan Smith in the Kreitz #69K slipped by Dietz on the last lap for second with Dietz third, Cameron Smith and Ryan Newton in the top five. 39 drivers were on hand for the living legends night which honored Donnie Kreitz, Davey Brown and late model driver Tom Peck.

Drake Troutman completed a good weekend with a second place run on Friday night at Selinsgrove and leading all 25-laps at Port Royal on Saturday. Gregg Satterlee made a late race charge at Drake using the high side of the track to get close late in the race, but Troutman moved his car up the track just enough to take some air off the front of Satterlee's #22. He was slowing his run to the front. Troutman scored his second win in eight races since he has teamed up with Jerry Foster Racing. He scored a win at Lernerville two weeks ago collecting $4,000; the race at Port paid $5,000. Satterlee settled for second with Rick Eckert, Ross Robinson and Levi Yetter in the top five. With all the weather problems at Port Royal, this was only the fifth complete super late model race of the season. Satterlee, Troutman and Max Blair single wins and Trevor Feathers two wins. This weekend the Lucas Oil series will be at Port Royal for two nights of late model racing with the limited late models also in action both nights. The Friday night show for the series will pay the winner $10,000 with the Saturday night which is part of a Crown Jewel event paying $50,000 to win. In last year's event, the race drew a field of 45 drivers on Friday and 42 on Saturday with Ricky Thornton Jr winning both nights of racing. Jonathan Davenport, Brandon Sheppard, Devin Moran and Mike Marlar were in the top five on Friday with Chris Madden, Moran, Sheppard and Davenport in the top five on Saturday. Coming into this weekend Brandon Sheppard leads the series with 5940 points and has a 95-point lead over Hudson O'Neal, with Defending champion Devin Moran back 180, Brandon Overton and Max Blair in the top five.

A tight point's battle was happening Friday night at Clinton County in the limited late model division, with Joe Lusk and George Dixon Jr only separated by ten points. The race was to honor the memory of Len Stroud Jr with the feature paying $1,200 to win, with the extra money some extra talent of drivers were in the field. Jaxton Garman, who has only raced at the track three times, was in the field for the second time this year and did drive off for the feature win, while Dixon did make one daring move late in the race for the lead. George tried to go low between a lapped car and Garman but ran out of room. He hung on to place second in the feature. "I was going for the win, figured if I won the points things would take care of themselves. We still got the title thanks to the tie breaker that is in their rules. We did not plan to run for points, and glad we did this is my first point title ever. I am glad for my car owner Chris Miller who lives only five miles from the track, so it was great to win it for him also". Joe Lusk, who was leading by ten going placed third in the feature, which only ten points separating the two positions he and George finished in, the tie breaker who has the most wins. Dixon had three and Lusk none. This Friday night will be the final night of points for four more divisions with the IMCA 305-sprints with Jeff Weaver holding a oone-point lead over Jim Pattock, and 24 points over Matt Tebbs, 25 over Dale Schweikart, 32 behind is three-time winner Timmy Bittner. In the 270-micro-sprints defending champion Mac Wert is leading Jillian Maurer by 195 and is the only other driver with a shot at the title. Cory Long of Selinsgrove is leading AY Schilling by 140 going into the final race. The only two drivers are in the hunt for the title. Zak Kline leads the four-cylinders by 240 over Jimmy Moyer with Coty Maines back 265, these three drives have a shot for the title

Lincoln Speedway will be back in action for the first time since Wednesday night July 30th sprint car show. They were rained out on August 8th and had a big paying four-cylinder race cancelled by the series which was set the first weekend in August. Last Saturday the track had a moto-cross event at the speedway. With five more shows left at Lincoln they will be running the 410-sprint and 358-sprints on those nights of racing. This includes a race this Saturday, then a two-day show over Labor Day weekend on Saturday and Sunday. Saturday September 26 and Wednesday September 30th, and wrap up the season on Saturday October 17th. Freddie Rahmer is leading the point's standings by 385 over Chase Dietz, with Dietz the leading feature winner with eight wins, but Chase does not run all the races sat Lincoln. He does a lot of traveling during the season. Cameron Smith, Tyler Ross and Danny Dietrich in the top five. Cody Fletcher who started the season winning the four features leads the 358-sprint points by 310 over Jayden Wolf with Eli Tuckey third.

In only his second ever start at Selinsgrove Speedway, Clay Harris of Jupiter FL drove to the 25-lap super late model feature win. He got a little help when leader Lane Snook had to stop on the track for a small problem. Clay, a Lucas Oil series regular for the second season, just wanted to get some races in before this weekend. Harris and the series had just raced the other weekend in Batesville AR for the topless 100, so instead of going home they came north to race in central PA, which paid off for Clay and his team. Talking to Clay it was discovered that about eleven years earlier, when he was around 13-14 years old, Clay raced at Raceway Park the 1/5-mile track inside the bigger track. "It was a MAX-Daddy series event that paid the top class $10,000 to win and I was in the junior class running for $2,000 to win". Clay now age 25 was not sure how he finished that day, but he remembers racing on the little track and now has won a race on the big ½ mile oval.

Shannon Slaughter of Lititz PA has driven a bunch of divisions this season, but her focus is with her 602 crate sportsman modified which is raced at Grandview speedway most of the time and Big Diamond also. She ran a 358-sprint car at Lincoln Speedway back in July and last Friday ran a limited late model #03 at Clinton County. She placed tenth in the feature first time in the car.

Major League baseball has added some great events and rules over the last fifteen years to make the long season more exciting. The wild card single-elimination game was created in 2012 and the current format of three wild card teams began in 2022. More fans are involved with their teams deep into September as the playoffs are still a possibility.

The Sunday Little League Classic started in 2017 and has been a huge success. This year the Milwaukee Brewers played the Atlanta Braves last Sunday. It took me a while to figure out why all the Brewer players were wearing a T-shirt at Lamade stadium with the number 44 on the back. This year's game was honoring Hank Aaron, one of the greatest baseball players of all time."Hammerin Hank" played his entire career for the Milwaukee/Atlanta Braves.

The MLB Little League classic was a fitting tribute to Aaron. The current big league players with the Brewers and Braves were actually grateful to be with all the little leaguers from around the world that gathered in Williamsport. You could sense their enthusiasm to give autographs and take selfies with their young fans was genuine and not forced. It was a great day for all levels of baseball.

Contrast that with the lack of awareness happening in NFL preseason camps where wide receivers used to be the divas of the game. The Cleveland Browns QB Deshaun Watson has yet to take accountability for anything he has done in the NFL. More than twenty women have accused him of sexual misconduct and Watson has yet to express any remorse. He has also said he feels more love on the road from fans than he does at home games.

Last weekend the Cleveland fans booed him on his return to Cleveland for his first Brown´s game since he tore his achilles tendon in October of 2024. His response after the game "I think the whole world knows it has nothing to do about performance. It's a little bit more personal than that. I think that´s a disrespectful thing." Watson's lack of awareness and contrition is what's disrespectful.

When you sign a five year contract that cost the Browns $230M and three first round draft picks, expectations are high. Watson has played only nineteen games since 2022 due to injuries and suspensions and his record is 9 and 10. Despite all this, after his disastrous press conference and play, Cleveland's new coach Todd Monken named Watson his starting QB.

Earlier this month Washington Commander´s QB Jayden Daniels told LSU they can no longer use his name, image and likeness because they didn't retire his #5 jersey. I thought Daniels was one of the good guys but clearly I was wrong. Daniels won the Heisman trophy and led LSU to a 10-3 record in 2023 and played only one year at LSU.

There is only one team in the history of sport that retired a jersey number of a player that played only one year for that team. That is Pele´s #10 for the New York Cosmos in 1977 where the legendary Brazilian soccer star transcended American soccer.

Teams have retired jerseys as a memorial of a tragic situation where the athlete's life was cut short. The fact that Jayden Daniels wants his jersey retired after one year at LSU is preposterous.

There must be something in the water in Baton Rouge,LA. Lane Kiffin has yet to coach his first game at LSU and already is making waves and bringing attention onto himself. Kiffin is the one that gave Daniel´s #5 jersey to a top defensive back recruit. No one else has worn the jersey since Daniels was drafted after the 2023 season.

Kiffin is also the only coach that is publicly recruiting NFL players that were cut from their professional teams. This issue is currently a hot topic in college and changes daily. My weekly article cannot keep you updated properly.

Kiffin is the most polarizing coach in football and gets way too much credit as a coach for never having won any championships. He was hired as the youngest (31) head coach in the NFL by the Oakland Raiders and fired the next year. Kiffin coached the Tennessee Volunteers for one year that resulted in recruiting sanctions before bolting to USC. He lasted a little more than two years at USC before being fired on the airport tarmac in Tempe,AZ.

Kiffin was an assistant under Nick Saban for three years at Alabama trying to rebuild his reputation. The Bama rehab stint got Kiffin the head job at Florida Atlantic for three years before he came back to the SEC to coach Ole Miss. Lane probably did his best coaching at Mississippi for just shy of six years. He left Ole Miss for LSU last year just before the Rebels were to play in their first college football playoff game.

Kiffin has been consistently controversial and by far has the most football jerseys burned by fans of teams he has coached. I´m very much looking forward to 9/19/26 when Kiffin takes LSU to Ole Miss.

I think we are all interested in seeing how James Franklin fares at Virginia Tech. Like him or not, Franklin did leave Penn State better than when he arrived. He got Penn State to the height of his coaching ability before the ceiling he touched in 2024 came crashing down on him last year.

Franklin could always recruit but maximizing that talent and gameday management were his biggest issues. Three of his former recruits that played forty games at Penn State will be starting QB´s this fall at different schools.

Ethan Grunkemeyer followed Franklin to VA Tech and Beau Tribula will be starting for Virginia in the ACC. Oddly enough, Temple and Penn State will be led by quarterbacks from the state of Iowa. Rocco Becht came to Penn State from Iowa State with new coach Matt Campbell and Temple has former Nittany Lion and Iowa prep star Jaxon Smolik at QB.

I believe the Dallas Cowboys are going to have a really good season this year. They might even get close to a Super Bowl berth if owner Jerry Jones stays out of the headlines. That might be difficult for Jer as a couple of other owners of sports teams are currently grabbing the headlines and we all know Jer doesn't like that.

Mark Walter just sold the LA Lakers after buying them last year for $10B. The speed of the Lakers sale, that was completed in less than a week without a bidding process, suggests Walter needed to raise money quickly because he's facing a liquidity crunch. Walter sold the Lakers for $12.5B, a very nice profit.

Walter has owned the LA Dodgers since 2012 and there are no signs yet of him selling the baseball team. The Dodgers owe more than $1B to eight players in deferred payments, this is how the Dodgers have become the dynasty they currently are.

Per baseball´s CBA rules, deferred payments are put into an account two years after they are signed. To use Shohei Ohtani´s $680M 2024 contract as an example, the $68M deferred payment is required to be in a trackable account this summer to be collected in 2034.

It might be that these deferred payments to Ohtani, Mookie Betts $115M, Blake Snell $66M, Freddie Freeman $57M and Will Smith $50M are the reason Walter sold the Lakers…? Walter also has the Federal government looking at the finance and insurance companies he owns for illegal loans.

There´s another owner that is in a different kind of trouble. San Francisco 49er's owner Jed York was arrested in East Palestine, OH Sunday morning on misdemeanor charges of disorderly conduct and possessing criminal tools. That is ´rich people´ terminology for the laws they break to remain vague to the public. Keep a low profile Jerry Jones.

The high school fall sports season has started and hopefully I will be able to talk to some of the coaches for a preview in next week's paper. Comments and questions are encouraged @theviewfromhear or theviewfromhear74@gmail.com

Cuddeback Joins Mifflinburg United Methodist Church

MIFFLINBURG, Pa. – Mifflinburg United Methodist Church (UMC) recently welcomed a new pastor, Rebecca Cuddeback, to lead its ministries following the June 30 retirement of Rev. Robert Rice.

"We feel blessed that Pastor Becky has joined our church family," said Betsy Robertson, chair of Church Council. "These past few weeks, we have all gotten to know her better and are encouraged by her inspirational messages from the pulpit as well as her sense of humor."

Cuddeback most recently served Lightstreet United Methodist Church in Bloomsburg and previously was the pastor at Jersey Shore First UMC and Calvary UMC in Lawrenceville. Originally from the Montgomery area, she graduated from Montgomery Area High School and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in English at Bloomsburg University. She worked in multiple fields before accepting her call to ministry by attending seminary at Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C. She served as a certified lay speaker/minister until becoming a local licensed pastor in 2013.

"I am passionate about people and their relationship with Jesus, both inside and outside of the church. I feel privileged to be part of people's discipleship journey," Cuddeback said.

She and her husband, Terry, reside in Middleburg.

Mifflinburg UMC is a welcoming church with people of all ages and life situations, passionate about sharing the love of Christ. Sunday mornings are relaxed, with casual attire in a family-friendly setting. More information at mifflinburgumc.com.

SV Mediation to Host Annual Fall Fundraise at Fero Vineyard & Winery

Susquehanna Valley Mediation (SVM) will host its seventh annual fall fundraiser, themed "Strengthening Ties," from 5:30—8:00 p.m. on Thursday, September 10, at965 JPM Road, Lewisburg.

SVM cordially invites community members to join us for an evening of live bluegrass music byAxe & Fiddle, heavy hors d'oeuvres catered by Isabella's, and a silent auction featuring items ranging from a Coffee Crawl to a weekend cabin-by-the-creek getaway.

Since 2010, SVM has been providing conflict mediation, facilitation, and education services throughout Snyder, Union, and Northumberland counties. SVM has grown significantly in that time, expanding its work to support people in recovery and reentry, families affected by a loved one's addiction, and people returning to the community after involvement in the justice system. SVM also serves as an extension of the Family Engagement Initiative by coordinating and facilitating Crisis Rapid Response Family Meetings. In addition, SVM facilitates regular civic conversations, story circles, and support groups to give people a chance to build connections and develop the skills to navigate difficult conversations.

All proceeds from the fundraiser will support SVM's programs and help fulfill its mission of building a stronger and more connected community through mediation, facilitation, and education. In 2025, SVM served roughly 1,500 people with the help of 54 volunteers who dedicated more than 3,400 hours to helping their community.

"The theme for this year's fundraiser is 'Strengthening Ties.' Strong ties help families weather hardships, help a person in recovery find the courage to keep going, and help a community stand together in a crisis. Ties build trust, create opportunities for people to reach out for help, and repair relationships when something is broken. We hope people will join us for a fun evening to support our work," said Susan Jordan, SVM's Executive Director. "When we strengthen a relationship or build a new connection, we are helping to create a safer, stronger community."

Tickets for the fundraiser are currently on sale. Those interested in purchasing tickets can do so by visiting the SVM website, www.svmediation.org. Tickets are $65 per person before September 1 ($70 per person after September 1) or $500 for a table of eight. If you have questions about SVM's programs or the annual fall fundraiser, you can contact SVM at (570) 374-1718.

Governor Shapiro Urges Fruit Growers Impacted by Devastating Spring Freeze to Apply for Disaster Relief Grants

Governor Shapiro secured $10 million to create a grant program for Pennsylvania farmers impacted by the April freeze to help recover losses this year and rebound in future seasons.

The Shapiro Administration's continued calls for urgent federal action has also resulted in additional federal relief to growers in 58 counties.

Impacted farmers should visit www.pa.gov/cropfreeze and can apply beginning Monday, August 24th.

Menallen Township, PA – Today, Governor Josh Shapiro and Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture (PDA) Secretary Russell Redding visited Three Springs Fruit Farm in Adams County to encourage Pennsylvania fruit growers who lost crops during a devastating late-April freeze to apply for relief through Pennsylvania's new Fruit Grower Freeze Disaster Assistance Recovery Grant Program, beginning on August 24. The grant program was created with a $10 million investment secured by the Governor in the 2026-27 budget, making Pennsylvania the only state in the mid-Atlantic with dedicated funding to support fruit growers impacted by this freeze.

These grants build on the Shapiro Administration's strong support for impacted growers – Governor Shapiro sent a letter calling on the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to expedite damage assessment reports and to issue a secretarial disaster declaration in May. The USDA has since granted 58 Pennsylvania counties disaster designations, which allow growers to seek low-interest loans to restore operations and get faster damage assessments to finalize crop insurance claims.

PDA will begin accepting Freeze Disaster Assistance Recovery Grant applications from Pennsylvania growers whose pome or stone fruits (such as apples, pears, peaches, and cherries) or grape or berry crops were affected by freezing temperatures between April 1, 2026, and April 21, 2026. Growers who experienced losses of at least 30 percent of expected production of eligible crops may apply. Detailed instructions will be published in the August 22, 2026 issue of the Pennsylvania Bulletin and on the PDA website. Applications will be accepted by mail or email which began on August 24, through September 21, 2026.

Pennsylvania growers reported their worst losses in several generations due to the freeze, with many reporting a near 100 percent crop loss in apples, and serious impacts to peach, cherry, strawberry, and grape yields. PDA has estimated the Commonwealth's specialty crop industry could face between $150 million to $200 million in economic losses.

PA Game Commission, Fish & Boat Commission Seek Public Input on New PA Wildlife Action Plan

Harrisburg – The Pennsylvania Game Commission (PGC) and Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission (PFBC) announced today that public input is being accepted related to the agencies' draft 2025-2035 Pennsylvania Wildlife Action Plan. This is a non-regulatory plan that encourages all Pennsylvanians to participate in fish and wildlife conservation.

The draft Plan and public comment form are available online. Comments may be submitted through September 19, 2026.

First developed in 2005, the Pennsylvania Wildlife Action Plan has been the Commonwealth's blueprint "to conserve Pennsylvania's native fish and wildlife, maintain resilient habitat, and protect and enhance Species of Greatest Conservation Need." As required by Congress, State Wildlife Action Plans must be revised no less than every 10 years.

Over the past decade, the Pennsylvania Wildlife Action Plan and associated funding from State and Tribal Wildlife Grants have been crucial for protecting and recovering at-risk species and their habitats.

A Wildlife Action Plan approved by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) is required for states to receive State & Tribal Wildlife Grant Program funds. The Pennsylvania Wildlife Action Plan is scheduled to be delivered to the USFWS by October 1, 2026.

"This Plan reflects our responsibility to protect Pennsylvania's remarkable variety of wildlife," said Pennsylvania Game Commission Executive Director Steve Smith. "In that responsibility, we must do more than just express our commitment to conservation. We must be active stewards to carefully manage and protect the Commonwealth's natural resources. This Plan provides the framework to fulfill that responsibility while keeping our efforts aligned with the federal government and other states."

"The Wildlife Action Plan is a call to action to help protect, conserve and enhance Pennsylvania's fish and wildlife," said PFBC Executive Director Tim Schaeffer. "Our state is home to an incredible diversity of fish, invertebrates, reptiles, and amphibians, and we are entrusted with the responsibility of ensuring their sustainability for generations to come. This Plan will help guide our agencies' efforts and empower our partners to work collaboratively alongside us to advance common goals."

To compile the Pennsylvania Wildlife Action Plan, the PGC, PFBC, and conservation partners, work together to gather and analyze information related to native species, habitats, threats, conservation actions to address the threats, and monitoring of these species and habitats.

The revised draft plan has 858 Species of Greatest Need including 86 birds, 21 mammals, 19 amphibians, 18 reptiles, 47 fishes and 667 invertebrates that require attention.

Heritage 2026 Day at Snyder County Historical Society Draw a Crowd

Tara Ritter poses by their Civil War era sutler's wagon while her husband David repairs weapons. The sutler's wagon is filled with provisions to sell.

Greg Forsburg, Dale Leppard, and Steve Troutman representing the Sons of the American Revolution Tiadaghton Chapter had an interesting exhibit. They chatted with visitors about each of their stations.

8-year-old Isaac Page learned about WWII military history as he visited with Nathan Hart and Zao Hensel who represented WWII Flak Regiment 69. Issac poses in front of a military tent eager to explore!

Bill Lynch sat at his potter's wheel creating bowls that were signed with his name and Heritage Day 2026. They are available to purchase at the Penns Creek Pottery.

The Snyder County Historical Society recently invited the public to step back in time for an amazing day of learning, discovering our heritage, and understanding our roots. 2026 has been the year to explore the rich history of our nation and our local communities as we celebrate America250PA. Heritage Day was filled with programs, demonstrations, hands-on activities, self-guided museum tours, and entertainment.

David Ritter sat on a stool repairing weapons near his Civil War era sutler's wagon. It was filled with provisions to sell to an army in the camp, in the field, or in quarters. His wife, Tara, sat making candles over a small fire. Next to them, Snyder County Longhunters Austin Landis and Alex Wolf who showcased the 18th century canoe they made. It still requires more black pitch in order to be watertight. Dressed in rustic frontier attire, Austin, Jennifer, and Benjamin Landis represented a family from that era.

Pam Strata and Edna Feaster, dressed in colonial attire, represented the Conrad Weiser Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution (NSDAR) based in Selinsgrove. Organized in 1897, the chapter is dedicated to promoting patriotism, preserving American history, and supporting education. Both women are involved with the America 250 PA initiative celebrating our Nation's birth. They are also members of the Daughters of Union Veterans the Civil War.

At the front of the SCHS, Greg Forsburg, Dale Leppard, and Steve Troutman representing the Sons of the American Revolution Tiadaghton Chapter had an interesting exhibit. At the Grooming Station, Steve explained various hygiene tools of the time period including shaving tools, a wooden toothbrush made from horsehair, combs, curling irons, toothpick made from quills, matches of the time, a wooden whistle to call the troops, sewing kits, and a pipe. They chatted with visitors about items at each of their stations.

Visitors, young and old, could not stop playing with the historic toys at Heather Hibbs exhibit.

A little skill and imagination could turn scraps and whatnot into wonderful playthings. Creative do-nothings, rag dolls, metal spinners, clay marbles and wooden dice kept children occupied hours.

Frances Appleman demonstrated the art of weaving tape on a box loom. "Tape was the original fastener for garters, apron strings, suspenders, ties for seed sacks, and ticking for mattresses."

Iva Kressler "dabbles in all the old arts" and that day she was demonstrating the art of tatting. It is a technique for handcrafting a particularly durable lace from a series of knots and loops. Tatting was used to make lace edging as well as doilies, collars, and accessories such as earrings, necklaces, waist beads, and other decorative pieces.

Bill Lynch sat at his potter's wheel creating bowls that were signed with his name and Heritage Day 2026. They are available to purchase at the Penns Creek Pottery. "Bill is incredible!" said Valerie Moyer enthusiastically. "There are master craftsmen and then there is Bill… a true master craftsman. I am blessed to have a few of his pieces."

Magician Rodney Ries performed magic tricks and demonstrated tricks of the trade throughout the day. He captivated visitors.

Dr. Ed Slavishak, of the Susquehanna University Department of History, represented The Selinsgrove History Association with an interesting exhibit. SHA hosts Talk of the Town events at the Susquehanna University Downtown Center (111 N. Market Street).

Archeologist Kim Mattern displayed his collection of Native American artifacts, many of which were sourced from local fields. He had a fun "Guess How Many Artifacts Are in the Jar" game at his booth.

Nathan Hart as "Gearhard Kurtz" and Zao Hensel represented WWII Flak Regiment 69. They featured an actual tent c. 1935 beside a reproduction tent. The tents were nearly identical. Visitors were invited to climb inside! They also had a table filled with WWII military items.

8-year-old Isaac Page learned about his heritage from his mother, Bonnie. "Isaac is an 'Old Stock American' with his very own WWII hero. His great grandfather Maurice Page Sr. was a veteran in the United States Navy during WWII. Isaac loves to learn about his heritage that can be traced back to Colonial America, long before the Revolutionary War. Isaac longs to join the National Society of the Children of the American Revolution."

Captain Mike McWilliams captivated visitors with his demonstration of how the canal system worked on a large model. From 1915-1955 boatmen purchased pins to help fund the annual Sons of Canal Boatmen's Reunion. Captain Mike will be the guest speaker at the Snyder County Historical Society Banquet in October. You won't want to miss it!

Richard Nornhold had a table display of Snyder County Long Rifles. He will be the guest speaker at the September 13 program, "Long Rifle Production in Snyder County" at 2 pm at the SCHS. Nornhold will discuss the history and role of rifles originating in Snyder County.

Another interesting exhibit was the Little Mountain Bees. Stan Rozowski primarily sells bees and had a comb on display. He provides the raw material to his wife who makes candles and beeswax lotion while his daughter makes soap and lip gloss.

Northumberland County Historical Society had its reproduction of Fort Augusta that amazed visitors. Peter Gardner demonstrated the art of chair caning. Many stopped to admire his work.

Inside the museum and library were buzzing with visitors. Several were just discovering the SCHS. They tried their hand at quilting, guessed the mystery items, and explored the Roush Room of exhibits. The gallows was another interesting piece of Snyder County history, housed in the library. The second floor was another wonderland of historical treasures.

Heather Hibbs presented the program, "Granny's Panties" and its bewildering array of layers that were routine for the people of the day. However, every garment had its purpose.

The event included tours of Motz Cabin, authors Guy Graybill, Edna Cravitz and John Moore. Bob Gift performed a musical set. Living historian Brandon Folk strolled the event portraying a Civil War medical staff member of the 147 PA Regiment.

"The article in The Snyder County Times was very impressive and made me interested in coming," said Carol Miller. There were definitely many different booths and time periods to discover!
