Midd-West Football Team's Lift-A-Thon Raises Funds for Mustang Kids

By Kay Poeth

This summer during the football team's annual camp, they held a Lift-A-Thon to both strengthen their bodies and to give back to the school community. A win-win for both! According to Coach Jeffrey Janovich, "A big focus for us this offseason was strength training to prepare ourselves for the upcoming season and we decided to cap it off with an internal competition. We focused on 3 specific lifts- Squat, Bench Press and Deadlift." Approximately 25 players participated in the Lift-A-Thon competition. We "raised money for a great cause within our community. The district gave our athletic programs great facilities to use, so we saw it fitting to try and give right back with the Mustang Kids program." The Midd-West Football Team made a donation of $675 to Midd-West Education Association's Mustang Kids Program! Mustang Kids is program that assists Midd-West students who are in need. The money donated will assist with things such as the backpack program, glasses, dental work, basic hygiene products, and other requests. The goal of this program is to provide basic needs that can affect the student's ability to be successful in the classroom. Teachers, staff, and school nurses make referrals to the Mustang Kids Committee. "It is great to see the football student athletes giving back to others in their school community. This money will greatly impact the success of students in need," said Beth Keister, MWEA Co-President and Mustang Kids Committee Member.

Union County Criminal Justice Board to Host Mini-Conference on Reducing Recidivism

By Kay Poeth

The Union County Criminal Justice Advisory Board (CJAB) will host the interactive mini conference, “Reducing Recidivism: Collaborating for Success,” on September 11 and 12 and it aims to strengthen local collaboration and provide practical tools to support successful reentry and enhance community safety.

The Mini-Conference will be held on Sept. 11 and 12 from 8:30 am - 3:30 pm at the Rusty Rail Brewing Company, located at 5 North 8th St., Mifflinburg. The conference is open to service providers and community members involved in prison reentry in Union County. There is no cost to attend. Breakfast and Lunch are provided both days.

There will be planned activities and workshops led by our local agencies and partners, along with a sort of “speed networking” event where people will get a chance to meet others and learn about their work in the county. There will be resource tables set up as well.

Thursday, September 11 features keynote speaker, Yusuf Dahl, who will present, “A Fair Future for All: Housing Discrimination in Reentry” in which he will discuss his journey from incarceration to real estate developer and fair-housing advocate. During the Fair Housing Training participants will learn about Fair Housing laws, how sustainable, fair housing is foundational to successful reentry. The day also includes an interactive reentry simulation to understand the experience of and barriers to successful reentry. President Judge Lori Hackenberg will present welcome remarks.

On Friday, September 12, the keynote speaker is Rick Parson who present, “My Role in Evidence-Based Practices: Why Am I Here?” who will explain how attendees can incorporate evidence-based practices to improve successful outcomes in reentry. There will also be workshops on Treatment, Mental Health, Housing, Community & Family Engagement in Reentry & Recovery, Victim Services, and more. A speed networking session will help to enhance collaboration. Opening remarks will be given by Judge Jeffrey Rowe and Judge Michael Piecuch.

“Union County is becoming known around the state for our strong collaborations and successful outcomes in our Criminal Justice System. Through strong collaboration and programs like treatment court, mental health court, the Law Enforcement Treatment Initiative, justice bridge housing, families in recovery, victim services, and more, we are moving the needle, helping families stay together, saving taxpayer money, and improving public safety. We are fortunate, and we know we have more work ahead!” stated Susan Jordan, Executive Director of Susquehanna Valley Mediation.

For more information or to register for the conference, contact Susan Jordan at sjordan@svmediation.org or call 570837-9563.

Local Pro Stock Racers Win Big at Clinton County Speedway

By Debbie Gastelu

The last point's race at Clinton County Speedway proved to be a successful night for two Snyder County Racers in the Pro Stock Division. AJ Hoffman of Richfield was leading the point's title going into the laps to go, he had contact with another car and it pushed in the left door panel of his car. "He hit me hard enough that it actually bent one of the bars on the driver's side" stated AJ. All he could think is that he got my left rear tire, but thankfully it was just the door panel that got damaged.

Going over the scales he was told to report to the front stretch, that is when he knew for sure he won the title.

Winning the race was Selinsgrove's Cory Long who AJ states is a good friend and was happy to see Cory win his 3rd feature of the year. Cory finished the year 4th in the point standings.

Even though this is AJ's first championship at Clinton County Speedway, he is also a 3-time champion at Selinsgrove Speedway when they ran the Pro Stock division. His liking to Clinton County goes back to the very first time he competed there. Never saw the track before he started in 13th and went out and won the race!

AJ would like to thank Chris Nicholas for all his support along with his pit crew consisting of Tim Straub. His sponsors played a huge part in keeping the car on the track and they are JK Welding and Fabrication, Foltz Excavating, Hoffman Brothers Farm and Nicholas Farms.

last night of points racing. Two other racers had a chance to come home with the title, but AJ was able to finish the race in 3rd place and ahead of the other two drivers to secure his very first title at Clinton County Speedway.

Driving the number 6C Pro stock owned by Chris Nicholas, AJ won two feature events this season and consistency paid off as he competed in 11 events and had 9 top 5 finishes on the year. When asked if he knew what he had to do, he said "I didn't do the math, I just knew if I finished in front of the other two drivers it would take care of itself," said AJ. But it almost faded as with just a few

Clinton County had a Big Two-Day Show, Selinsgrove Back in Action this Friday

Clinton County had a regular show on Friday night and then the fourth running of the Phil Walter Classic on Saturday night. The Friday show was a regular event with the Laurel Highland 305-sprint in action. Kasey Weaver of Everett PA drove to his first ever Clinton County sprint car win. He defeated another driver looking for their first Clinton win, Braeden Varner of Mifflintown PA. Colby Womer of Mt Pleasant Mills was third then Jarrett Cavallet of Hollidaysburg and next Matt Tebbs of Cogan Station PA. Twenty-four drivers signed in for the night’s action. Before the race started, the crowd was treated to a little yodeling from Jim (Cowboy) Kennedy who turned 91 years old on Friday and is still driving a sprint car. Cowboy got into a heat race accident that ended his night as the car had too much damage to run the feature. Thankfully Jim was ok after the wreck. Owen Dimm of Mifflintown was back racing after spending some of the summer taking flying lessons in which hopes to turn into a job later in flying planes for a living. Dimm placed sixth in the sprint feature on Friday night then tried to make the show on Saturday with the 410-sprint but fell one spot short of making the feature line-up. Kolby Weaver, brother of the feature winner, was a seventh-place finish. The win for Kasey made him the eight different winners in eight races at the speedway so far this year. The divisions will be back for their final point race on Friday August 22nd. Other winners this season have been Timmy Bittner, Josh Beamer, Jeff Weaver, Jacob Gomola, Wes Allenman, Dale Schweikart, and Ken Duke. Going into that final point race of the season, John Walp of Knox, PA is leading the points 1510 by 80 points over Ken Duke of Selinsgrove who has 1430. The rest of the top five look like Dale Schweikart 1400, Matt Tebbs 1320 and Timmy Bittner 1265. Jeff Weaver of Lock Haven won his fourth of the year in the 270-micro sprint class with his Friday night win over Masson McAndrew and Mac Werts who is the track current point leader. Jillian Maurer was fourth and came back to win the Saturday feature for this division over Garrison Zook and Cory Stabley. Mac Wert leads the points by 120 over last year’s champion Cory Stabley. West is at 2380 with Stabley at 2260 with two points shows left for this division. In Pro-Stock action on Friday night, Denny Fourney of Mill Hall PA made it two wins in a row after taking years to get that first win. It only took one week for him to get his second win. Marc Bitler of Milton PA had his best run of the season with his second place finish with Cory Long of Selinsgrove after having two bad weeks the defending champion came home third in the feature. Zak Kline of Mill Hall PA came back to Clinton after competing in a special four-cylinder race at Kocomo Speedway in Indiana where close to 200-drivers were competing for the special event they had. Kline, the defending four-cylinder track champion, scored his fourth win of the season. With two point shows left for this division, Larry Beachal of New Columbia PA, is leading the points with 2360 followed by Coty Maines of Jersey Shore with 2260, Garrett Lucas of Aaronsburg PA is next with 2190 followed by Kline at 2080 and Matt Weaver 1660.

Getting into the Saturday night part of the show, a strong field of 31 sprints were on hand with five drivers in the 305-sprint, two in the 360-sprint and 24 in the

Local Yard Sale Funds Cancer Treatments

By Jamiee Joiner

Edythe Sonder and her dog, Murphy.

A local Selinsgrove girl, Edythe Sonder, and her mom, Angela O'Brien, held a yard sale over the weekend to raise money to fund their beloved dog, Murphy's cancer treatments.

I spoke with Edythe at the sale, and this soft-spoken sweet girl explained that her twelve-year-old dog, Murphy, had been having problems with his snout swelling up. After a visit to the vet, it was first diagnosed as allergies. He was medicated for the allergies, but he kept having the same problem. They took him to the veterinarian again after Murphy's symptomswere not improving, and he was then treated for a possible infection with three different antibiotics for months. After no relief for Murphy's symptoms, he was then diagnosed with cancer and began the costly treatments.

Edythe's love for her four-legged family member inspired her to host a yard sale to raise money for Murphy's continued cancer treatments.After a slow Friday at the yard sale, Edythe posted about her cause asking for support from the community. Murphy even helped out at the sale until he had trouble breathing and had a nosebleed and needed to go back inside to rest.

Edythe's mom, posted on Facebook on Sunday, saying, "Our family is so deeply touched by the kindness and support from this community. After the Snyder County Alerts & Happenings group shared Edythe's post about her yard sale for her beloved dog, Murphy, many people came out – even strangers – to offer love, encouragement, and generosity."

O'Brien further shared that "Edythe is a true angel on earth – even while facing her own serious health struggles (16 surgeries so far, with a third spine surgery ahead), she still found the strength this week to trap two stray cats in Selinsgrove and get them spayed. She is a true animal whisperer and cares deeply for all animals. From the bottom of our hearts – thank you, Snyder County. You've shown us what true community looks like. God bless you all."

If you would like to help Edythe, Angela, and Murphy, please watch Facebook Marketplace and other resale groups for listings benefiting Murphy's care.

We have finally arrived at the real start of the football season! It could not have come sooner. College football has to get rid of that Week Zero moniker. High school football had an interesting first week with more than a few surprises.

If you're building a football program it's a good start to have someone from Mt Carmel leading your team, just ask the KC Chiefs. Jeff Janovich is in his second year as coach of Midd-West and grew up in coal country where football is king.

The Mustangs will look to run the ball with Kyle Shupp and Landon Hartman in the backfield. They will be running behind an experienced and stout offensive line. Joe Gabel, Graydon Van Horn and Garrett Hostetler are all returning starters. They will be joined by Jared Devine and Gannon Treaster up front.

Linebackers will lead the Mustang defense led by Samuel Jordan and Ronnie Johnson. Midd-West got off to a fast start by beating Central Columbia 27-7 in this year's opener. That puts them one up on Mt Carmel already.

Lewisburg is coming off one of its best years since the 1981 team led by Scot Keefer, Scott Stein and Joe Dubosky. Coach Eric Wicks has 15 seniors on the squad but lost a load of talent to graduation. One of those players is Jeremiah Davis and his 29 TD's and 2,000+ rushing yards.

Expect to see the ball in the air a lot more with Xavier Carter throwing to Jaylen Walker. Both lines took a hit from graduation but expect both sides to get better as the season progresses. There is no shame in losing the opener 38-13 to a rugged Line Mountain team. It's been said a team shows its most improvement from week #1 to week #2.

Another team hoping to show that improvement are the Seals in Selinsgrove. Grove kicked off their 100th season of football by losing 18-7 to Juniata despite outgaining the Indians by 77 yards. Expectations for Grove football are always high but might need to be tempered a bit this year.

Coach Matt Wenrich knows he has a young talented team with many second year players starting. Hopefully Wenrich believes the old Paterno saying "the best thing about freshmen is they become sophomores."

"A bigger and stronger Rocco Amato returns as starting QB with more confidence" per Wenrich. Returning wideout Wyatt Teats and TE Jake Beddall will be Rocco's main targets. Confidence and staying healthy will be the main factors in how many games the Seals will win.

Mifflinburg has lofty goals as 20 of 22 starters return this year. The Wildcats easily handled a good Loyalsock team 47-13 in the season opener.

Coach Cody Botts told me "it all starts up front on both offense and defense. We need to control both lines of scrimmage." Mifflinburg rushed for 234 yards on 42 carries and held the Lancers to just 21 yards on 25 carries. That's dominance up front.

Pre-season All-Star QB Chad Martin has a bevy of receivers to spread the field with. Larry Murray and Cheeky Griffith look to improve on their combined 105 catches for over 1300 yards and 18 TD's from last year. Adding Cole Reibsome at TE who had two TD catches last week will have Martin setting school records.

The defense has stars at every level. Chace Aikey at D-end and Landon Tucker at nose tackle up front. Tucker is an all-state wrestler and that wrestling background lends itself to great defensive line play. Think Aaron Donald, Steve Seftor and Alex Karrass. Freshman Brady Threet slides in at linebacker with Murray and Griffith on the back end.

Miff is on the road for their next four games against teams that were a combined 39-14 last year. When I asked coach Botts how he was going to handle this tough stretch he said "they want to be challenged week in and week out as this will only make us better." No pressure, no diamonds.

In college football, I cannot believe that Texas has never been ranked number one pre-season. After the games this weekend they will no longer be #1. Don't worry Longhorn fans, nothing that happens this weekend will affect the twelve teams that will make up the playoff field at the end of the year. Notre Dame lost to Northern Illinois in their second game last year and played in the championship game.

What a great opening weekend though to start the season. Six top 10 teams will be facing off against each other. I'm still not a fan of the Big Noon Kickoff on Fox. The Texas/Ohio State game belongs in primetime. I will accept it this week as LSU/Clemson will be playing under the lights later that day. Then we get Notre Dame/Miami Sunday evening.

If you couldn't already tell, I like college football more than the professional game. The college game has Labor Day weekend all to itself and is making the most of this opportunity. Before I give you my predictions as to who is going to win it all, I'd like to give you another reason or two why college football is the best.

Former Northwestern football coach Pat Fitzgerald is coming back. Fitz reached a settlement with the school in his wrongful termination lawsuit, stemming from his dismissal amid allegations of hazing in the football program. He was able to prove he knew nothing about the actions of some of his players.

Fitz won more games over his 17 years as head coach at Northwestern than he lost (110-101). He was a two-time All-American as a linebacker and has always been a stand-up guy. I always thought there was a rush to judgement with his termination.

College football will be even better with Pat back in the game. I expect he will be the next defensive coordinator at Iowa and take over as head coach when Kirk Ferentz retires. Fitzpatrick's son is currently a QB for Iowa.

The College Football Playoffs have been tweaked a bit from last year. The five highest ranked league champions will get an automatic bid but no guaranteed byes. The selection committee will rank the teams and the top four will get a bye and like last year the teams ranked 5-8 will host teams ranked 9-12.

My five league champions for those auto bids will be Texas, Penn State, Arizona St, Boise St and Clemson. I have Texas, Penn State, Oregon and Notre Dame in the final four. My hope is ND beats LSU in the elite 8 and proves to ex-Notre Dame, current LSU coach Brian Kelly that you can win at ND.

I have Notre Dame coach Marcus Freeman reawakening the echoes and winning their first title since 1988. Freeman's a dynamic coach and recruiter who has beaten Penn State more than twice in the last year. They won in the semi finals, poached PSU's RB coach and top recruiter Ju Ju Seiders and flipped a couple Penn State recruits to sign on in South Bend.

The answer to the question is money....now what was the question? Notre Dame has finally realized this and spending their cash is no longer an issue. They have a new indoor practice facility finished three years ago. New stadium renovations and next year their 150k square foot football operations center will be completed.

They just signed a new contract with NBC for $50M per year and do not have to share any playoff revenue with other league members. They will also be in the playoffs every year. All this money guarantees they stay an Independent for years to come. When Notre Dame football needs resources, it doesn't go wanting anymore.

The only hindrance I see down the road as an Independent is future scheduling. Michigan and USC have already ended their series with ND and the SEC is going to go with nine league games instead of the current eight. That means one less non-league game and ND plays two SEC teams this year.

Teams need seven home games every year for the income. That is why you see Penn State paying to play Nova, FIU and Nevada millions for a home game and PSU not reciprocating. As mentioned before, the answer is money.

A bit of housekeeping... Kobe Day was last Sunday 8/24, the two jersey numbers he wore for the Lakers. Does this mean 6/23 is LeBron Day and 11/29 is Kruk Day? The Phillies losing Zach Wheeler for the year and beyond hurts. Andrew Luck will be coaching Stanford football next year. Trump is at it again, if Clemens gets into the Hall of Fame...Bonds, McGuire, A-Rod and Sosa better soon follow.

Enjoy the games this weekend and Questions and comments are welcome at theviewfromhear74@gmail.com and on X ... @theviewfromhear Until next time Ron Bolt

S&S Kreamer Garage Open for Business

By Kay Poeth

Stacey, Aleiya, and Steve Kreamer celebrate the Grand Opening of S&S Kreamer Garage at the Point in Kreamer on August 16, 2025.

S&S Kreamer Garage, located at the Point in Kreamer, is now open for business. They held a successful Grand Opening on August 16, and owners Steve and Stacey Kreamer welcomed area residents and new customers. Congratulations to raffle winner Fan Stahr who won a free oil change.

S&S Kreamer Garage offers everything to keep your vehicle in tip-top condition. They offer oil changes, brakes, tires, and diagnostic services. S&S Kreamer garage can now inspect vehicles, motorcycles, campers, and trailers. Heavy duty truck inspections are in the works and will be available in the future. Local pickup service and customer rollback towing is also available.

S&S Kreamer Garage officially opened on July 7. They now occupy the business formerly known as Wilmer Kratzer's Service Station. After Wilmer passed away, his son inherited the business. It stood empty for many years.

S&S Kreamer Garage was once the former Wilmer Kratzer's Service Station. The shows Atlantic Service Station owner Wilmer Kratzer's two late-model racers. Styled after Richard Petty's NASCAR entries, these Plymouths competed at Selinsgrove Speedway, principally driven by Walt Specht and Johnny Crawford. Now owned by S&S Kreamer Garage, they offer everything to keep your vehicle in tip-top condition.

"Originally, my plan was to lease from Kermit Kratzer to work on my own vehicles and business vehicles," explained Steve. He also owns SL Kreamer Trucking and SL Kreamer Flag Cars. "But then people starting calling me to ask if I was going to open a garage to the public..."

Well, here we are! And, we just celebrated our Grand Opening."

Master Mechanic Mark Wagner came highly recommended by a friend and joined the team. Mark was excited with the opportunity and he is "ready for your patronage." Mark has 30 years of experience as a mechanic. Combined with Steve's 30 years of experience, S&S Kreamer Garage now offers 60 years of reliable knowledge and service.
