

Community Safely Unites During Crisis

Added Tidbits by Kay Poeth

Raven Rudnitsky and daughters Kelly and Kim socialize while practicing social distancing.

Amy Caron could not receive a better birthday present this year! Toilet paper!

Selinsgrove neighbors had an idea on Monday, March 16, 2020, as business and schools were shutting down. People around the country were starting to hunker down to slow the spread of the coronavirus. Leslie Imhoof suggested to her neighbors that they meet outside, at the corner of Rhoads and Independence, for some "social" social distancing. Kelly Feiler, Amy Caron and Leslie Imhoof decided it would be fun to celebrate each other and sing "Three Little Birds," a Bob Marley song with the chorus refrain of "Don't worry about a thing." On Thursday evening, these Selinsgrove residents met again for some good, six-feet-apart socializing at the corner- for some birthday hoopla. Birthday balloons were even tied to the fire hydrant adding to the festive atmosphere. Leslie Imhoof and Amy Caron were both celebrating birthdays around this time. So, the group serenaded them with a couple of versions of "Happy Birthday," including a clapping rendition that Kelly Feiler had recently heard while in Jamaica. The neighbors welcomed Leslie as the newest member of the Fab 50 Club.

The gathering also showed strong community relations between Selinsgrove and Susquehanna University, which has moved all its instruction to online and sent students and employees home. A number of SU folks participated including Leslie Imhoof (Advancement), David Imhoof (History and Global Opportunities), Kathleen Halligan (President's Office), former track coach Jim Taylor and his wife Jane, Marcos Krieger (Music and Honors Program) and Mark Kain, as well as Susquehanna alum Steve Marcinek and his wife Angie, Susquehanna alum Dave Lauer and wife JoAnn; not to mention long-time SU friends Raven and Marvin Rudnitsky. Also on hand were Snyder County DA Mike Piecuch, Kim Burkhart, Tom Forman, Liz Price as well as the Feiler, Imhoof, and Caron kids.

Last Thursday night was also supposed to be the opening night of Selinsgrove High School's production of Mamma Mia. Leslie Imhoof is an assistant to Rachel Ulsh (Susquehanna alum) and Jay Muller (Susquehanna alum) in directing that production. Denise Haddon, was also present, and helped oversee the costumes. Like many musicals and events in the area, the Selinsgrove production has been postponed due to measures against the coronavirus. Fortunately Jillian Haddon, who would have played Sophie in Mamma Mia, was there to sing "I Have a Dream." This street corner performance on a chilly grey evening ended up serving as a great temporary stage. The song did what Abba has always done: raised people's spirits.

"We are all taking this situation very seriously," Leslie Imhoof said. "But that doesn't mean we have to ignore each other or be super serious all the time! The Spanish are stepping outside on their balconies every evening to applaud health workers," she noted. "We can celebrate our community too and our determination to get through this situation. A little singing might help!"

David Imhoof added, "This story shows local cooperation and community. It's an example of how SU is helping at the high school and in Selinsgrove neighborhoods, and it reveals that good things may come from how we handle this pandemic." The group plans to continue meeting as they are able.

U.S. Congressman Fred Keller COVID-19 Helpline

Edited by Kay Poeth

Over the course of the past month, Congress has responded in a big way to help ensure our healthcare providers have what they need, states and local governments can respond to COVID-19 in a rapid and decisive manner, and nobody is needlessly economically impacted by this terrible virus.

Since a lot has been done to provide resources to small businesses, families, and individuals affected by COVID-19, Congressman Keller wants to provide his constituents with ways to access information about resources that might be helpful to them.

His newsletter and website provide information. For Economic Injury Disaster Loan information from the Small Business Administration call the SBA Customer Service Center at 1-800-659-2955, email: Disastercustomerservice@sba.gov or visit: <https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela/> There is also a list of non-life sustaining businesses and the avenues to apply for waivers.

Keller also provided a link for healthcare workers and first responders looking for additional personal protective equipment (PPE) or other healthcare supplies. The Pennsylvania Emergency Management Agency has a process to apply for unmet need requests. Visit his website to search resources regarding Unemployment Compensation and Paid Family Leave. The deadline to file and pay 2019 income taxes has been extended until July 15, 2020.

Resources for Pennsylvania's 12th Congressional District- Senator Fred Keller's offices remain open and ready to help you. We ask that, in accordance with CDC guidelines, you first call or email our office to receive help. The Selinsgrove Office is located at 713 Bridge Street, Room 29 in Selinsgrove. The President's action makes Federal funding available to Commonwealth and eligible local governments and certain private nonprofit organizations for emergency protective measures, including direct Federal assistance, for all areas in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania impacted by COVID-19.

Pete Gaynor, Administrator, Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), Department of Homeland Security, named MaryAnn Tierney as the Federal Coordinating Officer for Federal recovery operations in the affected areas.

Going On A Bear Hunt

By Kay Poeth

Detectives Brinley and Nick Decker participate in a scavenger hunt to find the stuffed animals hiding in the windows of their neighbors' houses. On March 27, they spotted 36 stuffed critters.

On March 27, a sunny spring school closed day, the residents of the Meadowview Estates in Selinsgrove created a fun, social distancing scavenger hunt for the children. The residents in the development placed stuffed animals in the windows of their house for the children to search for while taking a walk.

Denyel Decker exclaimed, "We're going on a bear hunt... or a stuffed animal hunt." Then she added, "We found 36 houses with stuffed animals! Such a fun, cute, idea, and even keeps the kids from complaining that their legs hurt... well, almost."

Her daughter Brinley exclaimed, "I really like going for walks now because it's fun to find all the stuffed animals in the windows."

SASD School Closure & Education In The District

As the status of school closures and the impact of the coronavirus continues to change almost daily, we as a school district also need to adjust how we respond. When school was initially closed for a two-week period, the thought was that we would make up the missed days in June. Now that schools are closed for an additional period of time, making up the missed days is not a viable option. The current closure would have students returning to school on April 14th. This is also subject to extension based on potential future decisions by Governor Wolf.

In an effort to provide continuity to education, the school district will begin providing lessons and enrichment opportunities for students K-12. Teachers will be identifying core content based on state standards and developing lessons for students. These instructional materials will be made available in multiple ways and vary by grade level. Information will be posted on the district's website and in the Sapphire portal. Instruction will continue utilizing the Office 365 Team feature, Zoom, and Sapphire. Other instructional resources will also be used, as determined most effective by our teachers. Instructional tools will also be made to accommodate individuals needing paper copies of materials, when communicated.

The district realizes that this current educational climate is not ideal for every student, however, we do believe it will provide a manner for education to continue for all students. As we proceed, we will be continually monitoring effectiveness and making modifications as necessary to provide the best educational opportunities possible.

Teachers are currently working on ways to enhance student learning and these will be available to students and parents no later than Monday, March 30th. Some staff may have information posted prior to this time. You should be receiving information from your child's teacher soon.

As this is a unique situation for all of us, we ask that you continue to be flexible and patient. As a school district we want to continue to support and encourage each other during this time.

Stay At Home Suggestions

By Barbara Staschiak

I love giving people suggestions for things to do during this time. There are so many ways to entertain children, if parents will only take the time. If we must stay home and you know you won't be getting company - let the kids play. Why worry about the house not looking perfect! Before bedtime, everyone can pitch in. Make a race/contest of picking everything up.

Today I heard about communities playing the "I went on a bear hunt" game. People put bears in their windows and when people are taking walks or driving by, the people try to count as many bears as they can. In towns and developments, that could be fun for people to be involved in.

In Pittsburgh nursing homes, since there is no visitation, they are accepting video tapes of people in the community. My great niece, age 4, and her mother made one even though they do not know anyone in the home. She changed clothes and hair bows and where she sat throughout it. At the beginning she greeted everyone, said her first name and age. During the video she told about things she liked, sang little songs, and told stories. At the end she kept waving goodbye. I bet it will be a favorite among the residents.

This is a good time for people to exercise, contact people they only hear from at Christmas, try new recipes, new crafts, and take family walks.

I have a box of postcards I bought over the years. Really, what will I ever do with them? So I bought lots of postcard stamps and I am sending them to preschoolers and elementary children every week. Letter writing has become such a thing of the past. Now is a good time to revive it.

Work Continues On PennDOT Emergency Projects

The Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT) announced today that 61 emergency and critical highway and bridge projects will be active statewide this week. While the normal highway and bridge construction program has paused as the commonwealth addresses COVID-19 response, urgent emergency work has continued to ensure a reliable transportation system as circumstances surrounding COVID-19 continue to unfold.

On March 17, in response to Governor Wolf's COVID-19 mitigation guidance, PennDOT paused construction projects statewide to minimize COVID-19 exposure for PennDOT and private-sector employees, as well as the communities where they live and work.

"A safe and reliable transportation network is always of the utmost importance, but it becomes even more crucial in times of crisis," said Acting PennDOT Secretary Yasmin Gramian. "We need to ensure that work continues on these critical projects, and we are taking the proper precautions to help ensure the safety of both our employees and our partners in the industry."

For any work activity addressing critical asset issues, strategies are deployed that include cleanliness protocols for jobsites and offices, social distancing guidelines, procedures to address employee sickness, and the safe handling of material deliveries.

The emergency work that continues addresses specific safety need criteria, such as landslide repairs, or critical bridge, tunnel and drainage repairs, and work needed to eliminate roadway restrictions that could impede the ability for the movement of life sustaining goods and services. Conditions are continuously evaluated to determine the appropriate response.

By Kay Poeth

Happy Retirement to George Araway who retired as rural carrier for the US Postal Service in the McClure area.

George Araway, a rural carrier for the United States Postal Service in the McClure area, retired on March 31. He began working with the postal service on December 28, 1991.

"Over the course of many years, my customers learned to trust me. I consider myself fortunate and blessed to have an occupation that had reciprocal appreciation between me and my customers. I enjoyed serving the people. They were always good me," said George. "I delivered mail to my friends and neighbors. It was always my desire to bring a smile to someone's face."

"His customers love him and they are going to miss him. George always went above and beyond to serve their needs," said Shelley Knepp, Postmaster at the McClure office.

Time for George to rest, relax, and rejuvenate. Enjoy your retirement! George laughs, "What I used to jump over, I now fall over! It was time to retire."

Selinsgrove Speedway News

Selinsgrove Cancels April 4

With continued statewide governmental regulations in force regarding prevention of the spread of the COVID-19 virus, Selinsgrove Speedway has cancelled the Saturday, April 4 racing program of URC Sprints, limited late models and roadrunners.

The show was to be the first of seven events slated this year at the track for 360 c.i. sprint cars, featuring the season debut of the URC Sprints series circuit.

The 360 sprints will return to Selinsgrove Speedway on May 2 when the ASCS Sprints national tour invades for the Battle of the Groves event in tandem with URC.

More Selinsgrove 360 action will take place on May 23 for the URC Jack Gunn Memorial, on June 6 for the Patriot Sprints Joe Whitcomb Memorial, on June 27 for the URC Kramer Cup and on July 11 for the National Open for 360s.

Selinsgrove Speedway's next slated event is Saturday, April 11 when the ULMS late models April Attack is slated to take place along with action for the limited late models and the A & A Auto Stores roadrunner division.

If able to take place on April 11, racing begins at 6 pm.

Following two Saturdays off on April 18 and April 25, the oval will host the kickoff of the 2020 Slivinski Law Offices Super 7 Series on Sunday night, April 26, featuring the Modern Heritage 410 sprints in the Ray Tilley Classic along with action for the super late models.

Just two divisions of high-flying, fast-paced dirt track racing action are slated for the Sunday night, Super 7 Series special, honoring the late oval all-time sprint car win leader, Ray Tilley of Pine Grove.

It continues to be the mission of Selinsgrove Speedway to begin its 2020 racing season as soon as possible while also adhering to the most prudent guidance available regarding the current health crisis gripping the state and nation.

For a complete 2020 schedule, the latest news, results, and race status, visit the speedway's official website at www.selinsgrovespeedway.com or follow the track on Twitter and Facebook.

The Feeling Of Giving: Priceless

By Kay Poeth

Daniel Rigel, Jr. owner of Beaver Springs Paint & Supply (right) donated supplies to Keith Fitzgerald of Shared Services. Rigel states, "Over $360 retail, but the feeling I got from giving: priceless."

"Who would be calling me Sunday morning? Not a telemarketer!" thought Dan Rigel of Beaver Springs. "No, it was my longtime friend Keith Fitzgerald, an employee of Shared Services, which provides residential living to our developmentally disadvantaged friends throughout the region. Keith explained the dire straits the organization is in and the extreme difficulty they are having obtaining the much sought after R95 respirators and all safety wear for their staff."

Fitzgerald asked Rigel if he had anything in his store, Beaver Springs Paint & Supply, that he would be willing to sell to his organization. According to Rigel, "After checking, I found a good supply of respirators, goggles, shoe covers, jump suits, and hoods."

In desperate need of the supplies, Fitzgerald offered to pay... whatever the price. However, Rigel quickly replied, "How 'bout nothing!"

According to Rigel, "He was simply overwhelmed with my offer."

Rigel hopes that his donation helps those who so desperately need the goods, saying, "Over $360 retail, but the feeling I got from giving; priceless! There is no better feeling than helping others in their time of need."

Hopefully, this generous act inspires others in our communities to reach out to others.

Food Distribution At The MACC

By Kay Poeth

The MACC delivered 360 boxes to clients in their cars during the weekly drive-thru food distribution held on March 24.

The Middlecreek Area Community Center in Beaver Springs partners with the Central Pennsylvania Food Bank for weekly food distributions held every Tuesday beginning at 1:30 pm. Each month over 1850 people receive food through this program.

Approximately 30 volunteers and 5 staff participate in the food distribution. According to Mike Bobb, Executive Director at the MACC, "Volunteers are spread over four phases (setup, Truck 1 unload and box pack, Truck 2 unload and box pack, distribution, and cleanup) to limit the number of people in the building at one time." To follow protocols to reduce the spread of COVID-19, gloves and hand sanitizer are available to the workers.

Recipients inform the staff of how many individuals are receiving food for their household. The count is recorded by age groups: ages 0-4, 4-17, 18-59, and 60 and over.

On March 24, 360 boxes were pre-packed by the volunteers and delivered to cars. Clients popped their trunks and the food boxes were quickly placed in and the trunk is closed. 434 families/households with a total of 1215 people were served.

The distributions are increasing. At the March 17 distribution there were approximately 900 individuals served. "This is up from 350 to 400 that were receiving food each week," reported Bobb.

The support from the volunteers is a crucial component of the food distribution. Bobb explained, "As you can see there are quite a few volunteers, and prior to COVID-19 many of the volunteers were in the 60+ age range. None of them are permitted to volunteer at this time. So, we have reached out to the United Way who put the word out for us. We have had a great response to that request as well as from our regular volunteers at the MACC who are under 60. Students are out of school so some of them have been volunteering. It's inspiring to see people extending a hand to help those in need in our community."

The MACC hopes to continue their weekly food distribution to the community. "As long as the state mandate allows us to operate the food distribution and as long as there are enough volunteers and as long as the Central Pa Food Bank provides food to us we will continue to distribute food each Tuesday," said Bobb.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
Pandemic

We are a Christian nation. Our Lord has made a covenant with his people and has given us the tools to be successful followers (Ten Commandments, Beatitudes, Lord's Prayer, Bible, etc.). He even gave us the Holy Spirit to be with us at all times, to intercede for us in prayer if need be. He made it easy. God in turn would take care of us, provide for us, and we would prosper. Churches grew and were filled with families and their children. People had a great work ethic, integrity, respect for others and God at the helm. But as we prospered, did we forget about God?

Today we have infanticide, children being molested, many single parent homes. Bible and prayer have been removed from our schools, sports replace church, gay marriages divide our churches, etc. We have lost trust in our leaders (boy scouts, sports doctors, priests). Sex slavery is rampant, drug cartels are growing in numbers, illegal drug trade is out of control. Laws (immigration, etc.) are being ignored or violated, sanctuary cities and sanctuary states protect the criminals. Christians are being persecuted, common core has rewritten our history to put our nation in a negative light, Christian symbols are being removed, our Constitution is being attacked. Hatred abounds with ANTIFA, two polarized groups, and no free speech on many campuses. Our schools, churches, and gathering places are being shot up. Work ethic is gone and "free stuff" is the cry of many. Our president who gave up everything to help our nation become great again, who gives his salary away each quarter to needy causes, is constantly under attack with him and his family being brutalized each and every day.

So don't you think God has the right to be angry? I don't think He caused the pandemic! But perhaps He is using it, like similar times in the past, to open our eyes to what is happening around us. Perhaps a reminder we ARE the majority, we CAN turn this around, we MUST fall back on and REVIVE our Christian roots.

Arthur Keller, Beavertown

Dear Editor,
Renters

Do tenants pay property taxes? Yes, when a tenant pay rent, parts of that amount of money are used for property taxes, insurance, maintenance and upkeep of the property and perhaps utilities, such as water and sewer. Rent also includes funds as a return on the financial investment made by the owner of the rental property.

Landlords can deduct property taxes and other related expenses in determining their taxable income from that property, but money paid for a leased residential property usually is not tax deductible for renters.

David L. Faust, Selinsgrove

Obituaries

Martha J. Stoneroad, 82, Middleburg

It is with great sadness the family announces Martha J. Stoneroad, 82, of Middleburg, passed away in her home on March 27, 2020.

She is survived by her husband of 64 years, Clarence P. Stoneroad.

Born to Roy R. and Ola K. Keister, Martha lovingly served the Middleburg Area School District for more than 28 years in the elementary cafeteria until her retirement in 2000.

A member of Emmanuel United Church of Christ, Penns Creek, she could often be found coordinating community dinners, assisting with vacation Bible school and helping with the women's guild fundraising efforts.

Martha loved gardening, baking pies and cookies, as well as spending time surrounded by family and friends. Her grandchildren fondly remember spending summers at her home attending local events such as the Fireman's Parade and Carnival, a tradition that has continued into their adult lives. A lover of live music, she and her husband attended many local "Jam" sessions and could be found by the stage during summer performances at the carnival. Later in life she became an avid reader and enjoyed the small circle of friends within her book exchange group.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by daughter, Kelly S. Morgante; brother and sister-in-law, Donald and Dianna Keister; brother-in-law, Clifford E. Mitchell; grandson, Dominick S. Morgante; granddaughter and grandson-in-law, Victoria K. Morgante McKay and Angus C.E. McKay; granddaughter, Katheryn J. Morgante; one nephew, two nieces, and their families.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Roy and Ola; sister, Darlene R. Mitchell; and sons, Marvin E. and David L. Stoneroad.

At Martha's wish there will be no viewing.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made in Martha's memory to Middleburg Reliance Hose Company No. 1.

Arrangements are by the Hummel Funeral Home, 574 Hill St., Middleburg.

Clarence E. Minium, 79, Middleburg

Clarence E. Minium, 79, of Middleburg, passed away on Friday afternoon, March 27, 2020, at his home.

He was born April 7, 1940, in Perry Township, Snyder County, a son of the late William D. Sr. and Mae (Knouse) Minium. On July 18, 1959, he married the former Peggy Haire who survives.

Clarence was employed for 22 years at White Top Orchards, Beaver Springs, and retired in 2006 from Penn Lyon Homes as an electrician.

He was a member of St. Thomas Independent Brethren in Christ Church, Mount Pleasant Mills, and the Reliance Hose Company, Middleburg.

Clarence enjoyed doing woodworking, gardening, selling produce, playing the piano, cards and games, eating at the Kreamer Freeze, and spending time with his family, especially his grandchildren and great-granddaughter.

In addition to his wife of 60 years, he is survived by two daughters and sons-in-law, Sharon and Rick Rice of Middleburg, and Cindy and Roger Lauver of Selinsgrove; four grandchildren, Andrea Rice and fiancé, Sean Byers, Andrew Rice and wife, Sara, Elizabeth Gaugler and husband, Josh, and Rebecca Lauver; one great-granddaughter, Addison Rice; his granddogs whom he loved to feed peanuts to; four sisters, Mary Fogle, Erma Heintzelman, Fern Barner and husband Bob, and Kay Minium; and two brothers, William Minium Jr., and Robert Minium.

He was preceded in death by three sisters and one brother. Services will be private. Burial will be in Glendale Cemetery, Middleburg, with Pastor Roger Womer officiating.

Contributions to honor Clarence's memory may be made to St. Thomas Independent Brethren in Christ Church, St. Thomas Church Road, Mount Pleasant Mills, PA 17853.

Kudos To The FFA

By Kay Poeth

Joe Hostetler shows his FFA award to his grandmother, Connie Wagner. Congratulations to Joseph Hostetler for being awarded the H.O. Sargent Award for his involvement in FFA. According to his mother, Joe "has a passion for educating others about agriculture." Congratulations to all of the students who were recognized at the Mid-West FFA Banquet.

Community Steps Up For Basic Needs Drive

Union-Snyder CAA has been collecting community donations of non-perishable food, personal hygiene products, and cleaning supplies to prepare for the increasing number of those in need as the COVID-19 quarantine continues.

"We are completely overwhelmed in the best way at the outpouring of support we've seen from the community during this project. At a time when the news can be overwhelming with reports of hoarding and scarcity, our neighbors have consistently been showing generosity and kindness - truly illustrating what 'community' is all about," states Sue Auman, Executive Director of the Union-Snyder CAA.

In the past week, we have been able to support two food pantries with supplemental food to support the increase in numbers they've seen recently. We were also able to help approximately 15 families get some much needed milk donated by Starbucks - Lewisburg. Most of the recipients were single parents with kids or older individuals who were afraid to enter public spaces.

Edited by Kay Poeth

In the midst of an unprecedented societal shutdown, the one oasis in a corona-induced landscape devoid of school and workplace obligations and missing the typical distractions of libraries, playgrounds, movie theaters and non-essential shopping trips is nature. It has also cleared many of the distractions - and excuses - away from really connecting kids with the plentiful natural resources right in our backyards.

Take your family hiking, fishing, bird watching, nature journaling and exploring creeks. If you run into others enjoying the outdoors, you can still practice social distancing practices without putting yourself at risk.

Even if you don't live next to a forest or creek, in-town spaces offer critters such as squirrels and pigeons. Bugs and worms are starting to emerge from their winter slumbers. Trees are producing buds, maple sap is flowing and a slew of early spring flowers are starting to bloom.

So, in this time of chaos and uncertainty, outdoor resources offer a safe escape - fresh air, nearly unlimited opportunities for exploration and an ability to completely unplug from the nonstop newsfeed and social media circus that seems to heighten anxiety, sometimes more than awareness. A recent study has shown that taking at least 20 minutes outdoors connecting with nature can significantly lower your stress -- who couldn't benefit from that right now?

While in nature, let your creative juices flow. Snap a photo of the beauty that surrounds you. Be inspired by your surrounding and pen a poem.

The Middle Susquehanna Riverkeeper Association is hosting an outdoors photo and poetry contest. Through Easter (April 12), the group is accepting entries in three different age groups: 12 and under, 13-17, and 18-through adult of your best outdoor-based photographs taken specifically during this time of shutdowns and cancellations. They are also accepting poems inspired by your family's nature-based exploration over the next several weeks - again separated into the three age groups. Winners will be announced by April 17.

Photos and poetry experiences must be taken from the Middle Susquehanna watershed, starting from where the Penns Creek enters into the Susquehanna River and extending up through the West and North branches of the river and the tributaries that feed into it.

Send your entries, clearly marked with name, age, hometown and caption information to midsusriver@gmail.com or via mail to John Zaktansky, Middle Susquehanna Riverkeeper, 112 Market Street, Sunbury, PA 17801. Middle Susquehanna Riverkeeper Association reserves the right to use images and poems on their website, social media platforms and other potential promotional items. For more information, contact John Zaktansky at midsusriver@gmail.com or 570-768-6300.
